Grand Champion Steer Sells For $20,000

VERNON ACHENBACH JR.
Lancaster Farming Staff

HARRISBURG (Dauphin Co.) — The sale of state Farm Show youth market livestock grossed $180,304.60, according to Farm Show officials.

Though no records were broken during the annual sale of champions, one of the last events of the Farm Show, prices and buyer-support were strong.

The grand champion market steer, a 1,220-pound Simmental/Angus cross, shown by Curt Stockdale, of Dayton, was sold for a total of $20,000 to Hoss's Steak and Sea House, of Duncansville, a buyer that in 1992 set the record price paid for a steer at $25,000.

In the ensuing years, the sale has been run by the Farm Show Scholarship Foundation, which was created in 1993 through a group effort of buyers who contributed more than $11,100 for scholarships. Since last year, scholar-

Show Booth Drawing Winner

Nearly 2,000 farmers stopped at the Lancaster Farming booth at the Farm Show this week. Many visitors entered our drawing for the White Mountain ice cream freezer. Thanks! And the winner is Bill L. Eason, from Oxford, Md. Congratulations!

For the second year in a row, Kelly Glaser, 14, Limekiln, Berks County, won the Junior Shepherd's Contest at the Farm Show. The Exeter Junior High School student really had to know her stuff about sheep to beat out 40 other contestants. For example, Kelly had to judge wool, identify feeds and equipment as part of the mental aspects of the contest. And finally she had to fit a sheep as it came in off pasture to be ready to show. And she had one hour to do this. Kelly's sheep friend in the photo is a Corriedale.

On tour of the Farm Show, Governor-elect Tom Ridge shares a few moments with these young ladies who were all dressed up for the occasion. The four daughters of Paul and Twila Ranck, Parkesburg, in Chester County are from left, back, Barbara, 6 and Maria, 7. In front, Elizabeth, 4 and Martha Joy, 2. The children have two brothers not present. They are Jason, 9 and Daniel, 5 mos. Photo by Everett Newswanger, managing editor.

Ridge Tours Farm Show, No Secretary Announced

EVERETT NEWSWANGER
Managing Editor

HARRISBURG (Dauphin Co.) — By visiting the Pennsylvania Farm Show prior to the inauguration next week (Jan. 17), Governor-elect Tom Ridge said he hoped the message was clear that he was committed to restoration of Pennsylvania agriculture. The new governor's comments were made to farm reporters during a whirlwind tour of the show late Tuesday afternoon.

"I enjoy the farm show," Ridge said. "And I always say you should revisit the steps you took during the campaign if given the opportunity to serve. My presence here hopefully will be a message to the agriculture community throughout the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania that I am committed to restore the vitality of Pennsylvania agriculture and see to it that the men and women who work our farms and agribusiness community realize their full potential.

"We talk a lot about economic development," Ridge said. "Agriculture and agribusiness are an integral part of economic development strategy for Pennsylvania's future growth. So my presence here (at the Farm Show) before the inauguration is the first of many signals of my commitment to expand agriculture in Pennsylvania."

But the question about who the next secretary of agriculture would

Dairy Expo Called Successful

HAROLD SHELLY
Northampton Co. Correspondent

BETHLEHEM (Northampton Co.) — Seventy-five dairy farmers attended the 1995 Penn-Jersey Dairy Expo here at the Holiday Inn recently. Another group of 20 agribusinesses exhibited their wares and services. The combination made for "a successful dairy expo," according to Greg Solt, Northampton County agent.

Jointly sponsored by Cooperative Extension of Penn State and Rutgers Universities, the exposition is in its seventh year. The Herd Management Conference and Trade Show was part of the Southeast Pennsylvania Dairy Day program.

Its theme was "Keys To A Successful Dairy Operation."

Among the program's highlights were nutrition, herd management, and cow comfort. The dairy trade show was held in conjunction with the Expo.

Penn State's associate professor of dairy science, Dr. A. J. "Jud" Heinrichs and the University's Dr. Robert Graves, professor of agricultural and bioengineering, were the leading speakers. They were

National Egg Market
ATLANTA, GA
JANUARY 11, 1995

NATIONAL EGG MARKET - AT A GLANCE:

Prices remained unchanged. The market tone was mostly steady. Demand was fair to good, best where promotional activity was planned or in progress. Supplies of large sizes were generally in balance, and mediums were adequate to barely adequate. Breaking stock supplies were adequate, and prices were unchanged to higher. Spent hen offerings were fully adequate to ample for the extremely light to moderate demand; the market tone was generally steady.

"I really feel it's helped production"
—David Bomberger

David Bomberger, a dairy farmer in Lebanon, PA, installed a hammer mill from Automatic Farm System last winter. Already he sees a big difference from the roller mill he had before.

"This mill does a much better job of cutting the corn -- now we can get it fine enough. We're feeding the same amount of corn, but the cows are utilizing it better. You see less grain in the manure. And I really feel it's helped production."

Give us a call to learn how an AFS hammer mill will work on your dairy operation, with low initial cost and low maintenance.

NE Chicken Parts 1,2

EDISON, NJ

NORTHEAST BROILER/FRYER PARTS - PART I FEDERAL-STATE

Trucklot buying interest was generally slowing. Offerings were in close balance on bone-in breasts while other items were usually at least adequate for the current limited buyer interest. Retail and distributive movement was at best fair with most dealers carefully assessing their needs prior to making any long range commitment. Trade sentiment was cautious.

Delmarva Broiler

EDISON, NJ

DELMARVA BROILER/FRYER MARKET. FEDERAL-STATE

Movement of ready-to-cook whole birds was generally slow, instances fairly good. Offerings varied from adequate to ample and were in closest balance on the smaller sizes. Live supplies were generally moderate; weights were mostly desirable to heavy. Processing schedules remained very heavy. Several plants plan to close on the upcoming Monday holiday. Less than trucklot asking prices were 1 cent lower at 48 to 59 cents. Trade sentiment varied from steady to weak. Bone-in breasts were in short supply. Boneless skinless breasts were fully adequate. Wings were balanced to well cleared. Leg quarters were adequate.

Whatever your dairy nutrition program is missing, Crystalyx® has a supplement to fill the gap.

From birth to dry off, Crystalyx brand supplements, available from Agway, plug the nutritional gaps in your dairy production cycle. Mineral-rich Dairy-lyx enhances feed intake and helps prevent lameness throughout the life cycle. Dry Cow for cows already in your herd aids in reducing metabolic disorders and rebreeding problems. Anionic salts and chelated trace minerals in Close-Up Dry Cow help reduce the risk of milk fever and transition stress during pre-calving. To meet the protein and energy needs of your growing heifers, while enhancing growth and performance choose Replacement Heifer. To improve breeding and appetites during high stress situations, use Brigade. Crystalyx supplements are a hard, crystallized blend of molasses solids, protein, vitamins and trace minerals. They dissolve slowly with licking, and are naturally self-limiting.

To learn more about how Crystalyx' supplements "plug all your herd's nutritional gaps" contact your local Agway Feed Sales Specialist, Agway store, or representative.

The OLD FARMER'S THIS WEEK WITH ALMANAC

FULL WOLF MOON, JANUARY 16.

ALL THAT JASZ (JASS?) (JAZZ?)

The Original Dixieland Jasz Band opened in New York City on January 17, 1917. They were the first group to use the strange word that no one knew how to spell. Advertisements for the band's first record, released in March that year, called it "jass," as did many of the newspapers reporting on the musical form. Although the unique new sound swept the country, some folks felt it would corrupt young people. In 1918, the New Orleans Times-Picayune called it "a musical vice" and urged the city to "be the last to accept the atrocity in polite society ... and make it a point of civic honor to suppress it."

Never put a new toot in an old horn.

TIP OF THE WEEK

Rub the cut side of an onion with butter or margarine to keep it fresh longer.

CHEESY CORN CREOLE

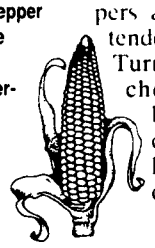
- 2 slices bacon
- 2 tablespoons vegetable oil
- 1/2 cup chopped green pepper
- 1 large onion, chopped
- 2 cups canned tomatoes, drained
- 1 teaspoon sugar
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 1/8 teaspoon black pepper
- 1/8 teaspoon cayenne pepper
- 2 cups frozen corn kernels, thawed and drained
- 1 1/2 cups shredded Cheddar cheese

Cook bacon until crisp, drain and set aside. Discard fat. Heat oil in a large skillet, sauté pepper and onion until soft, about 5 minutes. Add tomatoes and sugar, cook 10 minutes, stirring occasionally. Add salt, peppers and corn, cook until tender, about 5 minutes. Turn off heat, sprinkle cheese and crumble bacon over the corn. Cover just long enough to melt cheese.



Makes 8 servings.

The OLD FARMER'S WEATHER PROVERBS

In January if the sun appear, March and April pay full dear.

If the sun shines brightly on St. Vincent's Day (22nd), we shall have more wine than water.

A summerish Janaury, a winterish spring.

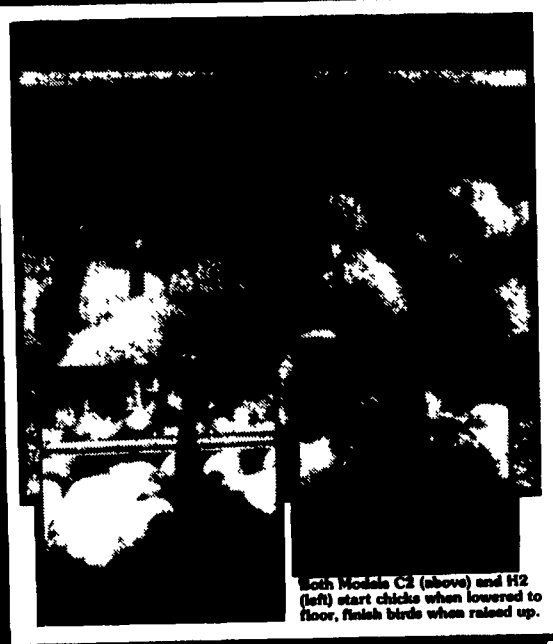
CHORE-TIME ...nobody knows more about feeding



The Right Choice in broiler feeders

Feed broilers and pullets your way! As the world leader in poultry feeding systems, Chore-Time offers you the best choices in feeders. You will love what our newest feeders —the Model C2™ and Model H2™—do for you.

Features include (1) labor-saving Patented Feed Windows that open to let chicks eat from day one—without additional feed on paper or "lids", (2) feed-saving features like easy feed adjustment settings, and (3) cost-saving all-plastic designs with Chore-Time Warranty.

Pick a Chore-Time feeding system—including our rugged feed bins and Genuine Chore-Time FLEX-AUGER® Feed Delivery System, plus ventilation—and you know you've made the Right Choice—because it's from Chore-Time, the leader!

Both Models C2 (above) and H2 (left) start chicks when lowered to floor, finish birds when raised up.

New Shape
The difference is the shape of the feeder's trough (at right). ULTRAFLO II's higher trough lip reduces feed waste by keeping it in the trough and not on the floor or in the pit.

The Right Choice in cage feeders

Chore-Time's popular ULTRAFLO® Cage Feeding System is now even more outstanding! We've developed and tested the second generation of ULTRAFLO feeders and named it the ULTRAFLO® II.

ULTRAFLO II offers you even greater reliability, durability, and outstanding feed-saving performance—up to 1 gram of feed per bird per day—over the original ULTRAFLO. And even the original ULTRAFLO was beating our competitors in feed savings!

So, join the cage feeding leader. Contact us today. Find out how Chore-Time and ULTRAFLO II can help you be a leader, too!

WHERE THE CHILDREN USED TO PLAY

THE old farm-home is Mother's yet and mine,
And filled it is with plenty and to spare,—
But we are lonely here in life's decline,
Though fortune smiles around us everywhere:
We look across the gold
Of the harvests, as of old —
The corn, the fragrant clover, and the hay;
But most we turn our gaze,
As with eyes of other days,
To the orchard where the children used to play.

O from our life's full measure
And rich hoard of worldly treasure
We often turn our weary eyes away,
And hand in hand we wander
Down the old path winding yonder
To the orchard where the children used to play.

Our sloping pasture-lands are filled with herds;
The barn and granary-bins are bulging o'er:
The grove's a paradise of singing birds —
The woodland brook leaps laughing by the door;
Yet lonely, lonely still,
Let us prosper as we will,
Our old hearts seem so empty everyway —
We can only through a mist
See the faces we have kissed
In the orchard where the children used to play.

O from our life's full measure
And rich hoard of worldly treasure
We often turn our weary eyes away,
And hand in hand we wander
Down the old path winding yonder

To Plan For Quality Hay

It is never too soon to prepare for this summer's hay crop, according to the Pennsylvania Forage and Grassland News.

Now is a good time to start the wheels in motion to make quality hay. What sort of activities should you be engaged in now to insure a smoother and more efficient hay making this summer?

First, check over your haymaking equipment (mower, haybine, rake, baler, wagons, and elevator) to make sure they are ready to go. A lost day in May replacing the mower knife could cost you a half percentage point in lower crude protein and a percentage point in higher fiber. Have your equipment in good repair before the sun shines!

Second, order supplies (extra knife sections and guards, twine, shear bolts, and preservatives) needed to make hay. With fewer equipment dealerships and lower inventories being maintained by manufacturers, this increases the need for planning ahead and ordering earlier. Remember, nothing can be more frustrating than having a field of hay ready to bale and having to wait because there is no twine.

Finally, repair equipment and order supplies for other spring activities. Making needed repairs to the corn planter, etc. now could save you several planting days next spring. The less time it takes to do other spring activities, the sooner you will be ready to harvest that first cutting of hay.

To Protect Animals From Cold

In cold weather, animals need to consume more energy to maintain body temperatures. Thus, it is important to feed calves more milk, milk replacer, and grain. Or, feed higher quality milk replacers containing more fat and dairy ingredients or add some milk replacer powder to milk.

Equally important is the prevention of body heat losses. Be sure calf hutches are very well bedded, dry, and draft-free. Orient them to the southeast and place them in a well-drained, protected area.

Cover, insulate, or heat water lines and bowls to prevent freezing.

Cattle need water every day, including cold days. Be sure heating devices are in good repair to prevent shocks and fires.

Maintain skid-proof walkways. To prevent chapped teats, be sure cows' teats are dry before they go out in the cold.

To Watch For Moldy Hay

Wet weather that was conducive to heavy hay production last summer may also be responsible for more mold than usual in the stored hay crop.

Moldy hay may be infected with mycotoxins produced by various molds that thrive in damp forage. Molds also have spores that may be inhaled, provoking possible allergic reactions in livestock.

Young animals are usually affected more seriously than older animals, but most cattle will suffer from extended diets containing mold.

Symptoms include dull hair coats, diarrhea, lack of energy, and reduced weight gain.

Since younger animals are more susceptible to poor nutrition, they should be fed the best available hay.

Dear Editor,

It truly concerns me that a carwash/laundermat is in serious consideration before the zoning board of Leacock Township. The proposed site In Intercourse sits across the road from the Stoltzfus Farm Restaurant on Rt. 772 and is bordered by a lovely residential area. Currently the property is beautiful farmland.

We have been supportive of the beautiful new shops that have been built in Intercourse and which have enhanced the charm of the commercial area. But a carwash and laundermat to me, is quite the opposite of what we're trying to build as a community.

We feel this might have far reaching effects. For example: on our water table as 2000 gallons or more per day are drawn from the water table. What happens in time of water shortages? What happens when the proposed residential housing is placed across the street from this with additional water needs? Have residents in the area

ON OFFENDING PHARISEES AND HEALING CANAANITES
January 15, 1995

Background Scripture:
Matthew 15:1-31
Devotional Reading:
Isaiah 35:5'10

As well as I can remember, I have rarely offended anyone on purpose. Of course, I'm probably doing some selective remembering and, whether I meant to or not, there have certainly been people who have been offended at me. Still, I have tried to keep that number just as small as possible.

At the same time, I am also aware that if you never offend anyone, you may not be doing your job. I used to get a fair number of letters from readers of this column — usually complaints and sometimes outright personal attacks. One year a woman in Oregon said I was responsible for the drought in the state! But I haven't received any letters of complaint for a long time and I'm beginning to wonder whether I may not be doing my job.

It was not Jesus' mission to offend the Pharisees, but to proclaim the Good News of God, and sometimes God's Good News is bad news for some people. They were and are offended by it. "Why do your disciples transgress the tradition of the leaders?" the Pharisees asked Jesus. The Good News of Jesus the Christ was bad news because it undermined their tradition.

TRADITION!

As Tevye proclaimed in Fiddler on the Roof, "tradition" is an important glue to the life of a community. But, as Tevye also learned, human traditions must give way in the face of God's will. Jesus was not condemning tradition per se, but tradition that thwarts the purpose of God. The tradition that the Pharisees were defending in this case, the ceremonial washing of hands before eating, was not a bad tradition. But the tradition was man-made, not sent from God, and they forgot that vital fact, just as we do.

Furthermore, by keeping this tradition some people missed the real point behind it, cleanliness without should reflect the cleanliness within. What good is it to keep the tradition by washing your hands if you let uncleanliness come out of your heart and mouth? It is possible — sometimes even probable to keep the tradition and miss the point "For out of the heart," says Jesus, "come evil thoughts, murder, adultery, fornication, theft, false witness, and slander. These are what define a man; but to eat with unwashed hands does not defile a man"(15:19,20). All too often traditions are concerned with human rather than Divine agendas.

OFFENDING DISCIPLES

Actually, although Matthew doesn't use the word "offend" in chapter 15, he is showing us that Jesus offended not only the Pharisees but also the disciples. And, as with the Pharisees, the problem once again is human tradition. Traditionally, Jews had no dealing whatsoever with Canaanites.

I believe that the answers Jesus gives the Canaanite woman in this passage reflect not his thinking but that of his disciples. After they shout, "Send her away for she is crying after us!" Jesus verbalizes what surely prompted their anxiety. "I was sent only to the lost sheep of the house of Israel" and "it is not fair to take the children's bread and throw it to the dogs." Surely it was the disciples, not Jesus, who regarded the Canaanites as "dogs"!

In these two passages Matthew illustrates for us that human traditions often operate as human prejudices that get in the way of God's purposes. The Pharisees clung to their traditions and so did the disciples. Both were quite certain of their position and both were quite wrong.

Sometimes, if we are doing what God want us to do, we have to risk offending the Pharisees and healing the Canaanites.

Special Awards And Events At The 1995 Farm Show

Swine Breeders Honor Kegg

Dennis Grumbine, president of the Pennsylvania Swine Breeder's Co-op, right, presents the highest honor given at state level for service to the swine industry to Russell Kegg, Bedford, Bedford County. Kegg had both the champion and reserve champion of the Spotted breed this year and has had numerous other champions in past years. With him in the photo are his wife Frances and daughter Ginger. The award is given each year during the swine auctions.

PennAg Industries Support Ag Education With $10,000

PennAg Industries presented a $10,000 check to the Ag Awareness Foundation of Pennsylvania to support their work with teachers to educate about agriculture. Dave Brubaker, executive director, left, said the association board decided they should be doing more to inform the public about agriculture. Rather than doing their own program they supported what the Ag Awareness Foundation was already doing. With Brubaker are Pat Sueck, foundation executive director, Boyd Wolff, Pennsylvania secretary of agricultrue, and Carl Shaffer, committee chairman, Ag Awareness Foundation. The check was presented Tuesday night in the small arena at the Farm Show.

Coble Award To Snyder

This year, the J. Ira Coble award was given to H. James Snyder, Mayport, Clarion County. Each year the award is given during the beef show to honor someone who has given special service to 4-H. Snyder was cited for his work in education and involvement in community and service programs. His work exemplifies the spirit of a truly outstanding 4-H program. With Snyder, left in the photo, are Jonathon Coble, grandson of the award's namesake, and Boyd Wolff, Pennsylvania secretary of agriculture.

Farm/City Contest Winners Named

In the Farm/City Poster Contest Sarah Miller, New Paris, Bedford County, right, won first place of $100, and Liz Czarnuszewicz, Churchville, Bucks County won third place of $50. Not present was second place winner of $75--Christy Brunner, Smithton, Bedford County. Boyd Wolff, Pennsylvania ag secretary, made the presentations Tuesday night in the small arena at the Farm Show.

Brubaker Given Cowan Award

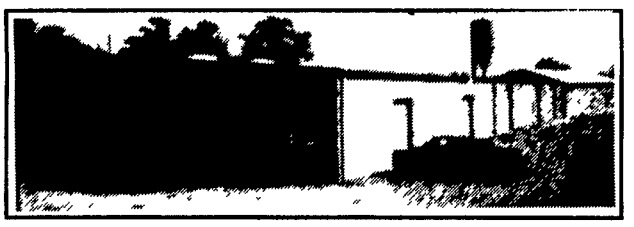
ATTENTION TOBACCO FARMERS

We Couldn't Do It Without You!



The farmers would have more money in pocket if they make all buyers buy at auctions. The buyer would like it better and do the job cheaper. With county buying and auction, one or the other will lose out. "Which one should go?"

We would like to ask farmers who signed contracts for tobacco, why can't we raise the price? "How can we raise the price when tobacco companies tell us 1/3 of tobacco is sold on contract?" This tells us that 1/3 of farmers are satisfied at $1.20 per pound.

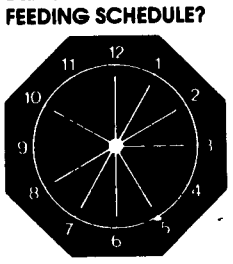
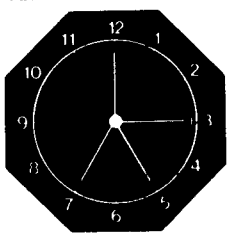
DRAG AUGER FEEDING SCHEDULE?



BIG DUTCHMAN CHAIN FEEDER FEEDING SCHEDULE!



How often do your feeders run in a day? It is generally necessary to operate drag auger feeders as many as eight or more times per day because of limited feeding space and the small quantity of feed presented at one time. That creates tremendous competition for the little feed available. The result of this competition is damaged eggs . from feet, toes and collisions Big Dutchman chain feeders can feed your flock by running as few as three or four times a day, with little competition for feed, a calmer flock and fewer cracks and checks

IF YOU ARE... FORCED TO FEED

more than four times a day or during peak laying periods, call 911 for your egg casualties or. . . call (717) 393-5807 for information on how our chain feeder pampers your product . . from cage to carton

IRRIGATION EDUCATIONAL SEMINAR
TRICKL-EEZ Company and ZIMMERMAN IRRIGATION, along with T-Systems, Inc. and Agricultural Products Inc., invite you to a drip irrigation educational seminar entitled:
HOW DO I GET THE MOST BENEFIT OUT OF MY DRIP IRRIGATION SYSTEM?
Learn more about getting full use and maximum benefit from your investment in a drip irrigation system. Topics of discussion will include:
• How do I get maximum use of my drip system?
• Do I need a sand filter in my system?
• How many acres can I irrigate with my water supply?
• How do I know when to irrigate?
• Pumps - Exposing the mysteries: What size pump do I need?
• Drip irrigation: 10 years ago; today; and in the future.
• Fertigation • How can I reap benefits with my drip system?
• Alternatives to layflat for vegetables.
Key Speakers: David Lankford, T-Systems International
Bob Yocum, Agricultural Products, Inc.
The meeting will be held January 24, 1995 from 10:00 am to 3:00 pm at the Eden Resort Inn, 222 Eden Road, Lancaster, PA (AT RT 272 North exit of Rt 30).
Lunch will be provided.

LEBANON® EXTRA
Granulated Starter Fertilizer

"THERE'S MORE TO IT THAN JUST NPK"

For over 47 years, farmers throughout the Mid-Atlantic Area from New York to Virginia have produced millions of dollars of crops using Lebanon Extra fertilizer.

Lebanon Extra is an ammoniated, homogenous. granular NPK fertilizer. With the increased emphasis on using less and precise applications of plant food, Lebanon Extra provides the nutrient sources that you can depend on, and not just NPK but also secondary and six micro-nutrients. The nutrient integrity of Lebanon Extra is superior to bulk blend fertilizer products. When using row applications or banding accurate amounts of plant food it can be important to use a safe, quality, uniform grade product. If you are using a blend with MAP compare the value of Lebanon Extra.

LEBANON EXTRA PLANT FOOD
Ammoniated Granular Fertilizer
Homogenous
Secondary and Micros
Uniform Analysis
Low Chlorine for Sensitive Crops
Safer to use in row applications
Economical to use on all Crops
Get the Starter Effect by staying 2x2
Excellent for No-till Corn

ships were distributed to deserving youth.

Stockdale said he intends to use his earnings for college and to pay bills. Similar intentions were expressed by the other owners of champion livestock.

The grand champion 160-pound Duroc/Hampshire swine shown by Bobi-Jo Balzano, was sold to Hatfield Quality Meats Inc., of Hatfield, for $12,000.

The grand champion market lamb, a 137-pound Hampshire/Suffolk, shown by Emmett McMillen, of Brush Valley, was sold for $2,800 to Hoss's Steak and Sea House.

The reserve grand champion steer was a 1,315-pound Limousin shown by LaDonna Miller, of Bedford. It was sold for $4,500 to Glatfelter Insurance Group, of York.

The reserve grand champion swine was a 259-pound Duroc/Hampshire cross shown by Michelle Fetteroff, of Centre Hall, that sold for $7,000 to Glatfelter Insurance Group.

The reserve grand champion market lamb, a 128-pound Suffolk shown by Kyle Fleener, of Robesonia, was sold for $3,200 to Carlos R. Leffler Inc.

A tribute to Leffler was published on the back page of this year's sale catalog. The namesake of the business died this past year, however, representatives from the business said that it was their intention that support for youth continue through this type of support.

According to the tribute, Leffler had not only been an active supporter of the sale, and one of the top six companies supporting the sale of champions, but when he was a youth he participated in 4-H and showed animals at various competitions.

Overall, the sale grossed $60,369.60 on 163 head of market swine; $92,250 on 66 head of market steers; and $27,685 on 120 head of market lambs.

Supreme Champion Holstein Had First Show Ring Experience

VERNON ACHENBACH JR.
Lancaster Farming Staff

HARRISBURG (Dauphin Co.) — His 3-year-old Holstein was never in a showring before Tuesday, but Matthew Day's 4-H project animal not only garnered the grand championship of its breed division competition, but was named supreme champion dairy animal of all five breeds at the state Farm Show.

Matthew, son of Curtis and Anne Day, of Shippensburg, said he worked with a show halter on his TK Tri-Day Stardom Ivana-ET just a couple of weeks prior to the Farm Show competition.

And while that is generally considered to be poor show preparation, Ivana has been more of a pet to Matthew, though she is a regular part of the milking herd at the family farm. She was easy to work with, he said.

It was the first time the Day family showed a grand champion and a supreme champion at the state Farm Show. Curtis, who had opened up his farm for a tour by other Holstein enthusiasts last year, had her in the stalls when the tour came through. He said she just never really stood out to him, though she does have some Excellent herdmates, and an Excellent dam.

Ivana's production record on a 265-day lactation was 21,876 pounds of milk, with 943 pounds fat and 789 pounds of protein.

The $1,000 first prize will be put to use for Matthew's future.

The Holstein was selected as supreme by judges Steve Wood, of Littlefield, Tim Abbot, of Fairfield, Vt., and Larry Kruse, of Earlville, Iowa. Wood judged Holsteins and Milking Shorthorn. Abbot judged Guernseys and Jerseys. Kruse judged Ayrshires and Brown Swiss.

There were a total of 430 animals entered in all five breed shows.

The Day family success extended to Matthew's brother David capturing the reserve grand championship of the breed, and also showing the reserve junior champion Holstein.

Guy and Sharon Hammond, of Carlisle, showed the junior champion Holstein. Premier exhibitor and breeder was Globe-Run Farm and Robert Norris, of Petersburg.

The grand champion Ayrshire was shown by Michele and Jeffrey Reasner, of Shippensburg. Their 4-year-old Sunny Acres Misty Polly was a first solo entry for the Reasners, and was named by the judges to be runner-up supreme.

And Dale's son Daryl showed the reserve junior champion of the youth division.

The grand champion Brown Swiss, a second Farm Show grand champion for owner Gary Mase, of Lebanon, is a Jake daughter classified Excellent, with a record of about 26,000 pounds milk, and a dam with a record to 30,000 pounds milk.

Meadow Hill Bracelette was first in the 2-year-old class at the 1992 Farm Show, and was nominated an All-American in 1993.

The reserve grand champion Brown Swiss was also shown by Gary, and his daughter Alicia showed the youth division reserve grand champion.

The youth division grand champion was shown by Jason Kennedy, son of James Kennedy, of Butler, who was named premier breeder and exhibitor.

In the Guernsey's the Snider Homestead Farm again showed the grand champion, this year a Telestar Fayette daughter that was reserve grand champion last year. Shown by Aaron Gable, Snider's Fayette Brett made 24,563 pounds of milk, 1,012 pounds of fat, and 702 pounds of protein.

The reserve grand champion Guernsey was shown by Robert Smith of Annville. Smith was also named premier breeder and exhibitor in the breed competition.

The junior and reserve junior champion Guernseys were shown by Jan Snider, of Snider Homestead Farm, in New Enterprise.

The grand champion Jersey was shown by John and Cindy Batchelder, of Star Point Farm in East Drumor. An aged cow, CBF Duncan Profile is a homebred cow, like most of the champions.

The reserve grand champion was shown by Scott Youse and Russ Subject, of Oley. The junior champion was also shown by the Batchelders, while the reserve junior champion was shown by Paul Plummer, of Chalfont.

The Milking Shorthorn grand champion was an aged cow, Three-Springs Ashely, owned by Christine Young, of New Enterprise. Ashley is not only classified an Excellent 90, but she made 23,658 pounds of milk in a 305-day lactation with 815 pounds of fat, and 738 pounds of protein.

Christine swept the show last year with her entries and was named premier breeder and exhibitor. This year she was also named premier breeder and exhibitor, while James Young showed the junior champion and the youth division reserve grand champion.

Jason Heeter, of Shade Gap, showed the reserve grand champion and the youth division grand champion.

TRANSFER OF TECHNOLOGY AND PARTICIPATORY DECISION MAKING

Clair C. Engle
Associate Professor
Animal Science

Today's farmers often enter an area of decision making where previous technology, experience, and knowledge no longer apply. Extension agencies must be able to help farmers in such situations move quickly through an awareness, interest, evaluation, trial, and action process to adopt new practices. Most get stuck in the first two stages — the information-transfer phases of awareness and interest.

Agriculture has become technology-propelled. At first glance, this statement could be seen as strongly validating the traditional linear extension model of passing knowledge from the researcher through an exchange agent to the adopter (farmer). It has become apparent over the past decade, though, that this approach fails to reflect what actually happens.

The transfer of technology (TOT) model (missionary approach) casts the researcher in the role of source of new technology and the farmer in the role of passive recipient. There is clear evidence that this has never been the case. Scientists and those commenting on the outcomes of science have overlooked the fact that the majority of innovations in production agriculture have originated with the farmers themselves. Not only did they produce the innovations, but they also managed to extend them. The consistent key to their success was that they did not separate implementation of new technologies from their creation.

Globally, the future sustainability of production agriculture depends on applying a more flexible technology-transfer system. The suggested shift should be to a more diffuse model, one that encompasses a variety of production, allied industry, sociocultural, and environmental perspectives. Acronyms or phrases — such as "Farming Systems Research/Extension" (FSR/E), "integrated," "farmer-first," or "co-learner" approaches — are commonly used to describe this transfer process.

Different from the traditional approach of technology transfer, the FSR/E concept makes the major shift of actively involving and eliciting farmer and community participation. Likewise, another shift is made, whereby the scientist becomes a better listener and subsequently responds more directly to both basic and applied research needs as defined by the adopters within the agricultural community. The model extension agent's primary responsibilities would then shift from educator to team member and informational resource/facilitator.

In other words, the FSR/E model builds on participatory teamwork and farmer/community-managed research and development principles. This participation process allows team members to take a more comprehensive approach to contemporary issues as well as strategic needs. Paramount to the overall exchange process, this co-learner approach is complementary in defining and supporting innovations for the greater well-being of all, and places the forces of society at the heart of the decision-making process. Some argue that extension education needs to move away from its heavy science/technology-transfer orientation to role models in the management of human endeavor.

"The success of technology transfer depends not only on the technology but also on the degree to which both developers and users want to make the transfer succeed. The will to make it succeed is more likely to be present if both sides of the transfer start with the premise that they are co-creating change that will benefit both sides" (Leonard-Barton, 1988).

What can be learned from this thesis is that successful implementation is not the predictable realization of a preprogrammed plan. It is a dynamic process of mutual adaptation between the technology and its environment.

Lancaster Chamber Sets Ag Financial School

The Lancaster Chamber Ag Committee is sponsoring their second annual Farm Business Financial Management School on January 26, 1995, at the Chambers' facility at 100 S. Queen St. in Lancaster.

This year's facilitators are Dr. Donald Jonovic, founder of Cleveland's Family Business Management Services and author of six books about family business and business management. Also featured at the seminar will be Dr. David Kohl, professor of ag economics at Virginia Polytechnic Institute, who will be speaking about managing family finances.

There are several openings still available. For more information or registration brochure, call Roger Rohrer, subcommittee chairman at (717) 291-3707.

Delaware Valley College Names President

HAROLD SHELLY
Northampton Co. Correspondent

Dr. William L. George has been named president of Delaware Valley College. He will officially assume the post on Feb. 1.

A 1960 DelVal graduate in Horticulture, George has for 10 years been associate dean and director of academic programs in the College of Agriculture at the University of Illinois, Urbana-Champaign. He did his postgraduate work at Rutgers, earning a master's degree in 1962 and a doctorate in 1966.

George is returning to his alma mater as its tenth president as the college prepares for its centennial year in 1996. At Illinois he initiated the Academy Endowment Fund to support faculty in improving curriculum and teaching and was successful in bringing federal and private grants to the university for curriculum revitalization, faculty development, and student fellowships.

Prior to moving to Illinois, George was a professor in the College of Agriculture at Ohio State University and a geneticist at the Connecticut Ag Experiment Station. He has served on national panels for the USDA and been engaged in educational programs in Japan, China, and Africa.

George was born in New Jersey. He and his wife Marilyn were married after his graduation from DelVal in 1960. They have two children, Jeffrey and Deborah, and will live on the DelVal campus.

Lancaster Farm/Home Dinner

The Lancaster Farm and Home Center Foundation annual dinner meeting is scheduled for Jan. 17, at 6:30 p.m. at the Center. A full-course roast turkey dinner is planned.

Cost for the dinner is $15.50 and includes a membership in the organization. The featured speaker is Doris Thomas, retired Lancaster extension home economist. Thomas' topic is "Life After Retirement." The Neffsville Handbell Choir will also perform.

Everyone is invited to attend. For reservations call the Farm and Home Center office at (717) 392-4911.

Dairy Expo Called Successful

joined on the program by independent dairy nutrition and management consultant Dr. Brian Perkins of Dairy Tech Management Services, Inc., of New Haven, Vt. All three rounded out both the morning and afternoon sessions.

A total of five important subjects to dairymen were discussed. At the morning session Heinrichs spoke of "Keeping Yearling Heifers Healthy and Growing," Perkins on "Using Commodities in Feeding Progams," and Graves lectured on "Cow Comfort in Stall Barns."

Following a luncheon break and tour of the exhibitions, the dairy farmers returned to hear talks about "Managing for High and Continued Profits" by Perkins, "Managing Dry Cows for High Production," by Heinrichs, and a final question and answer period.

The "hot topic" in today's dairy medicine is heel warts. Better known as digital dermatitis, there is a lot of misinformation and a general lack of understanding circulating about this problem.

Northampton County extension agent Greg Solt has summarized a presentation made at the 1994 International Symposium on Disorders of the Ruminant Digit held last June in Alberta, Canada.

The disease is known variously as footwarts, strawberry warts, hairy warts, and Mortellaro's Disease. It was first described by Dr. Carlo Mortellaro in Italy in 1974. He discussed the disease at the 1994 symposium from the Italian perspective.

Twenty years after its first description (1974-1994), there is still no exact known cause for the condition. Spirochete bacteria associated with the lesions have been found in Italy, the United Kingdom, the Netherlands, and the United States.

The disease progresses as hardening and swelling of the skin bordering the area between the claws. This is followed by erosion and ulceration of the foot skin and hoofwall border. The final stage is the appearance of granulating or the "strawberry."

All cows do not go lame with digital dermatitis. Many will lift the affected foot repeatedly because of discomfort or will stand abnormally. Severe lameness usually results when the lesion extends into the horny structures.

Traditional treatment of heel warts has involved cutting out the lesion in conjunction with hoof trimming. Beginning in the early 1980s, the most successful treatment has been topical application of oxytetracycline mixed with gentian violet.

It has been determined of late that gentian violet has not influenced the final outcome of the treatment. For the treatment to to work, the affected area must be cleaned and the drug sprayed on for several seconds. It is a known fact that a second application increses the chance of recovery. Persistent or large lesions may require removal.

Even though this treatment appears to work well, management of outbreaks of heel warts is still frustrating. Studies in two widely separated states — Florida and California — reported different conclusions.

The usefulness of footbaths is still controversial, probably because of improper usage. Individual treatment appears to be the preferred way to go.

In the California study, researchers described the different appearances of heel warts. They found that the differences were probably due to the length of time the lesions, or the "infection," had been present.

Heel warts are prevalent in 90 percent of southern California's herds with spring and summer months being the worst time of year. They are most common in first-calf heifers and young cows a few months after they enter the milking herd.

In Forida a spray solution of oxytetracycline and glycerine and water showed visible improvement in lesions on the rear feet of 89 cows. The lesions appeared to regress after five days. Investigators also tested urine and milk for anti-biotics and could find none.

A Slovenian study described one-half to one inch heel warts as "raspberry red." It noted that they (the warts) caused lameness in affected cows, were apparently not painful, and did not respond to topical tetracyuclines.

Investigators also identified spirochetes associated with the lesions, failed to find viruses, and couldn't reproduce the disease with the spirochetes they found.

In Israel, an investigator claimed that three outbreaks of digital dermatitis were associated with excessive dietary protein intake by the cattle herds.

Stockdale Shows Grand Champion Steer

EVERETT NEWSWANGER
Managing Editor

HARRISBURG (Dauphin Co.) — The champion of the cross-bred beef show was the grand champion junior market steer at the 1995 Pennsylvania Farm Show. The winner was the lightweight champion for Curt Stockdale from Armstrong County. The 17 year- old junior at Daton High School has had reserve champions at the Farm Show before, but this was his first grand champion. The champion weighed 1,220 pounds and was named "Sugar."

The reserve grand champion was a Simmental from the "all other purebreds" class for LaDonna Miller, Bedford County. The 1,315-pound steer was named Billy.

The champion Angus steer was shown by Jason Marsch from Chester County with his 1,275 middle class entry. The reserve champion Angus was the second place middle in the middle class for Jeffrey Keifer, Northampton. Jeffrey's steer weighed 1,300 pounds.

In the Hereford/Polled Hereford show, Luke Vogel, Butler, had the champion with his 1,290 pound steer, and Jodi Dutrey, York County, had the reserve champion with a 1,175 pound entry.

In the All Other Purebreds class Jamie Reid, York County, had the reserve champion behind Miller's over-all reserve grand champion. Jamie's steer weighed 1,320 pounds.

In the crossbred steer show, Denise Bollinger, Lancaster County, had the reserve champion in the lightweight division behind Stockdale's eventual over-all grand champion. Denise's steer weighed 1,155 pounds.

In the middleweight class Heather Fuls, Westmoreland County, had the champion with her 1,250-pound steer. And Sara Campbell, Green County, had the reserve champion with a 1,270 pound entry.

Casey High, Lancaster County, had the champion heavyweight with his 1,320 pound steer, and Katie Hummer, Northumberland County, had the reserve champion heavyweight at 1,285 pounds.

COBLE AWARD GIVEN

Just before the supreme champion market steer was named, the J. Ira Coble award was given to H. James Snyder, Mayport, Clarion County. Each year the award is given to honor someone who has given special service to 4-H. Snyder was cited for his work in education and involvement with community and service programs. His work exemplifies the spirit of a truly outstanding 4-H program. Last year Elvin Hess, Strasburg, Lancaster County, won the award. Placings in the junior market steer competition are as follows:

Delvotest® SP is a simple, reliable, inexpensive test for detecting virtually all antibiotics which includes and increased sensitivity for sulfa residues in milk. You can set up a Delvotest® SP in 2 minutes. With the use of a timer, you can read the results at your convenience, up to 12 hours from the start of the incubation period. You can run the test in your own milk room.

Why Delvotest® SP?

- Because you need to know your milk is free from all antibiotics, including sulfa residues.
- Because you need to know your milk is going into the tank truck, instead of down the drain.

Windermere Farms Shows Supreme Draft Horse

VERNON ACHENBACH JR.
Lancaster Farming Staff

HARRISBURG (Dauphin Co.) — A Percheron mare owned by the Abe and Mary Allebach family of Windermere Farms, Spring Mills, on Sunday was named supreme champion of the 1995 state Farm Show draft horse breed competitions.

It is the fourth Farm Show supreme title earned by Windermere Farms, a family operation that involves Abe and Mary, son Gerald, daughter Monica and daughter-in-law Cindy.

Windermere's Queen For-A-Day, a 9-year-old daugther of the farm's recently deceased 11-year-old stallion Blackhome Duke, was named supreme champion of the show, which includes only the best of the three draft horse breeds — Clydesdale, Percheron, and Belgian.

To find out the best of each breed, the grand champion stallion and mare of each breed are judged against each other.

In the Percheron breed, Queen had beat out a stable-mate stallion from Windermere. The Allebach's also showed the reserve grand champion stallion. David Hershey and family, of Warriors Mark showed the reserve grand champion mare.

As an aside, last year a daughter of Windermere's Queen was the grand champion Percheron, while Queen was reserve grand.

In the Belgian breed, the best of breed champion was the same mare that was last year's Farm Show supreme champion — SGF Dodie Marie, owned by Donald Sherwood and Gary and Brandon Groves, of Tunkhannock. The reserve grand champion mare, a foal, was shown by Nathan Yoder, of Peach Bottom.

The grand champion Belgian stallion was shown by Arthur Reist, of Lancaster, a 1-year-old that was also named junior champion stallion. The reserve champion stallion, a foal, was shown by Paul and Nathan Yoder, of Peach Bottom.

In the Clydesdale/shire breed division, the grand champion was also shown by the Allebachs, who keep a small number of those on their 450-acre farm.

Windermere Farms also showed the junior and reserve grand champion mare. Robert and Laura Martin, of Newport, showed the grand champion stallion, while Edward Johnston, of New Alexandria, showed the reserve grand champion stallion.

Judges for the shows were Bill Heston, of Salem, Ohio, and Dr. A. F. Allen, of Plain City, Ohio. Heston judged the Percherons and Clydesdale, while Allen judged the Belgians.

According to Gerald Allebach, the overall win adds strength to the confidence of strong genetics in the herd, mainly traceable to Blackhome Duke — four time national premier sire, with his offspring winning the national show five years in a row.

Duke died Dec. 17, of a stomach tumor, Gerald said. He had had no previous ailments and showed no discomfort until a fatal rupture of the tumor caused his death. Test results on the tumor were still pending as of the show, Gerald said.

However, a half-brother is on loan to the Allebachs from the breeder of Blackhome Duke to help them with their breeding program.

Duke was used by the Allebachs in an artificial insemination service operation and he has a son that has been listed within the top 10 of the premier sires, according to Gerald. Duke has been used to continue a more direct line-breeding program on the farm to keep his genetics intact.

According to Gerald, Blackhome was the result of a long line-breeding program going back to two famous sires — Layette and Carnot. Duke's registry shows his lineage going back 20 times bred to Layette, and 22 times to Carnot.

He has 10 daughters on the farm, and Gerald said they have some mare bred back to him this year.

Even though the recent death of Blackhome was sudden, Gerald said, "He left an empty stall, but a full stable."

Following is a list of show placings.

The One Spreader Big Enough For Poultry Litter, Rugged Enough For Lime.

The Stoltzfus Poultry Litter Spreader is specifically designed for the demands of this challenging job. The 20 foot hopper holds a whopping 400 cubic foot load, meaning fewer trips for you. The big 30-inch drag chain moves large volumes of litter fast. And the dual hydraulic spinners spread a wide, uniform pattern up to 40 feet wide.

But its real beauty may be its versatility. Now you can spread fertilizer, stockpiled lime, compost, poultry litter and more, all with one machine.

Long considered "top-of-the-line" ag spreaders, many Stoltzfus Spreaders are still in use after 20 years. That makes a Stoltzfus Spreader preferred not only for quality and performance, but also for terrific economy in the long run.

Sure you can settle for buying on initial price alone. But with a Stoltzfus Spreader you won't be shopping for another spreader just a couple years down the line.

Pennsylvania Names Junior Breeding Sheep Champions

LOU ANN GOOD
Lancaster Farming Staff

HARRISBURG (Dauphin Co.) — Pennsylvania Lamb and Wool Queen Stephanie Bowman discarded her crown and banner to show her Dorset yearling in the Junior Breeding Sheep competition at the Farm Show Wednesday. The yearling was named champion of the Dorset breed. It was the first time that Stephanie claimed a championship at the state level although she's a frequent winner in local fairs.

The daughter of Roger and Nancy Bowman of Lenhartsville raises sheep on the family farm and is a strong spokesperson for the sheep industry both in meat and in wool promotion.

"If you deal with professionals and pay attention, you can learn a lot of secrets," said Richard Kerper, Jr. The 19 year-old showed the champion of all purebreds during the Jr. Breeding Show with an Oxford purchased from Joyce Heffner.

In Junior Breeding Sheep, Richard Kerper Jr., right, took the championship of all purebreds with an Oxford. With Kerper are Jacob Gargas and Nicole Knepp.

It was his first major win in his second year of showing sheep at the state level although he did show locally through school.

Now graduated, Richard works at a feed store and sale barn.

Champion and reserve Hampshires were shown by Josie Fought, 13. With her dad, John Fought, and sister Jamie, 10, Josie raises about 50 head of Hamps and Dorsets on the family's Carlisle farm named Sulfur Run Farms.

It was the second year at the state level for Jamie to achieve the title. This year's was a homebred from the ewe that was a former champion.

Jamie is an eighth grader at Cumberland Valley High School where she is active in chorus and 4-H.

The champion Merino was shown by Jacob Garges of Telford. It was the first time he showed a champion in his three years of showing. The son of Paul and Eileen Gargas, the 13 year-old raises about 80-100 head of several sheep breeds on the family's farm.

A champion Suffolk named Speckles was shown by Shelly Paton. Shelly, the daughter of Rick and Janice Paton of Waynesburg, has about 20 head at the family's Long Woods Farm.

She also raises market steers.

For the third year, champion and reserve Corriedales were shown by Benjamin Bow, 17. The son of Benjamin and Mary Bow of Annville, he has about 150 head of Corriedales and Suffolks on the family farm.

Move over Melody Snyder, your sister is taking over. Michele, who is 14, showed the champion and reserve in the junior breeding sheep. Melody has about 100 head of Suffolks while Michele raises 40 Cheviots on the family's Snyder Valley Farm. The sisters are the daughters of Jack and Donna Snyder.

Montadale Champion and reserve titles go to Tisha Ebling, 16 year-old daughter of Jane and Warren. The Montadales are homebred raised on the family farm at Newmanstown.

A partial listing of placings for the junior breeding sheep and the wool breeds follow.

'All Or Nothing' Wins Market Lamb Championship For McMillan

LOU ANN GOOD
Lancaster Farming Staff

HARRISBURG (Dauphin Co.) — It was "All or Nothing" for Emmitt McMillan in the market lamb competition at the Pennsylvania Farm Show Wednesday.

Fortunately for 17 year-old Emmitt, the Suffolk/Hamp Cross named All or Nothing brought him the "all" with the coveted market lamb title.

Emmitt has been raising sheep for eight years. Although this was his first top market lamb win at the state Farm Show, his sheep are well-known in the inner circles, such as the Maryland Eastern National and at Louisville.

A junior at United High School, Emmitt said that he will buy more lambs with the prize money.

"You can know that you have a good lamb, but it depends on one person's decision whether or not you get the trophy," Emmitt said.

He hinted that he had a secret for raising the top market lamb but said, "It wouldn't be a secret if I gave it away."

Emmitt, the son of Vaugh and Dale McMillen of Indiana County, shows hogs at local fairs and is president of his county's 4-H Club, a former 4-H ambassador, and a member of FFA.

He has his sights set on studying breeding, genetics, and farm management at Penn State.

Reserve champion honors went to 10 year-old Kyle Fleener who showed a Suffolk. Kyle raises 15 head of Southdowns on the family's Robesonia farm. His parents, Tim and Sarah Fleener, are well-known Hampshire breeders and have about 50 ewes.

"I could tell that she was a good sheep, but you never know," Kyle said of the reserve champion. Kyle is in fifth grade at Fort Zeller School.

Other breeds contending for the grand champion market lamb title included the champion Hampshire owned by Brandy Horning, a 16 year-old from Huntingdon County. Goober was purchased from Robert Dinsmore of Frederick, Md.

In her seventh year of showing, it was the first time she won the champion breed title. The family raises 11 ewes on their farm called Horning's Hamps. The daughter of Bruce and Phyllis Horning, Brandy is number one in class standing at Huntingdon Area High School.

Grand Champion Market Lamb honors go to Emmitt McMillen who shows a Suffolk/Hampshire Cross named All or Nothing.

Kyle Fleener, right, shows his Suffolk champion that also took reserve champion market lamb honors. From left are Pennsylvania Lamb and Wool Queen Stephanie Bowman, Deputy Secretary Tony Wagner, and Steve Myers, judge for the market lamb competition.

The Cheviot market lamb was shown by Tabitha Ebersole of York. The daughter of Steven and Lynn Ebersole said that her brother Jacob had the champion for the last two years. This year she had first pick from the family's flock and beat him.

Kelly Glasser of Limekiln chose Diane to show as a market lamb. She helps her grandmother, Ruth Hartman, raise about 30 head of sheep.

A partial listing of market lamb placings follows:

Pa. Dairymen's Association Recognizes Distinguished Dairy Woman, Others

VERNON ACHENBACH JR.
Lancaster Farming Staff

HARRISBURG (Dauphin Co.) — For the first time, the Pennsylvania Dairymen's Association has made equal recognition of the work of women in the promotion and success of the dairy industry as its men.

On Monday night, during its annual meeting and banquet, the members of the Pennsylvania Dairymen's Association presented a Distinguished Dairy Women award to Janet Harding Ruslavage, better known as Jan Harding, coordinator of the state Dairy Princess and Promotion Program.

Dave Slusser, general manager of the the Pennsylvania Dairy Herd Improvement Association, served as master of ceremonies, and when he announced the award, he said, "It's about time we did this."

He was joined in that sentiment by several others during the evening meeting, including outgoing state Secretary of Agriculture Boyd Wolff, who was the featured speaker.

The organization annually recognizes an outstanding extension agent, and a member of the community who receives the Charles E. Cowan memorial award.

The Cowen Award is presented to a dariymen who has demonstrated superior management capabilities and provided outstanding leadership in the dairy industry. Cowen was secretary/treasurer for the association for many years.

Harding received the award, to be an annual recognition, for her years of dedication and devotion to the dairy industry.

Patty Murray, a director of the state Dairymen's Association, and friend of Hardings, presented the award and talked about the many contributions that women have made to the health of the dairy industry. "They are partners contributing to everything," she said.

Murray said that while conceiving of the award, a committee decided that the criteria should include that the recipient be a dairy farmer in Pennsylvania; be a promoter of the dairy industry; and have been involved in showing and/or involvement in a national or local breed organization.

She said that the description couldn't have fit someone better than Jan.

A special pendant was made for the award: a 14 karat gold cow suspended inside a sterling silver heart, on a gold necklace.

Jan Harding Ruslavage grew up in Montclair, N.J., and while her father owned a lumber business in New York City, she spent summers on a Jersey farm on the Eastern Shore of Maryland.

A 1951 graduate of Vassar with a degree in political science and economics, she followed in 1952 with a short course in dairy production at Rutgers University. She then became director of promotion for Golden Guernsey Inc., until 1958, when she met Guernsey breeder Charles Eugene Harding in an elevator at a Philadelphia Guernsey Convention, and then moved to Maplevale Farm in Brookville.

She and her husband built and managed an on-farm milk jugging operation and farm market with a deli, bakery, fresh produce, nursery, wholesale frozen foods, and gift items. She was active in the county 4-H dairy club, her church and served on the local school board for 17 years, several as its president.

At the same time, she remained active with the Pa. Guernsey Breeders and the American Guernsey Cattle Club, serving on its national board of directors.

Her husband was killed in a car accident in 1974, leaving her with five children to raise and the farm.

In the early 1980s, she became the coordinator of the Pennsylvania Dairy Princess and Promotion Program, traveling 50-60,000 miles escorting and chaperoning the state dairy princess. She organized county promotion committee meetings, put together the annual state princess pageant, and published related information. She is still coordinator.

In 1984, she remarried to Charles Ruslavage, an ex-football coach at Clarion University, and who also helps with dairy promotion (See the back cover of the 1994-1995 dairy princess recipe booklet.).

This year's Cowen award recipient was Milton Brubaker, of Lititz.

Brubaker has been a lifelong resident of the Lititz area, and is affectionately known as "Mr. Ayrshire." After graduating from high school, he began attending Penn State University, but then returned to the family retail business, Spruce Villa, to help his family.

Spruce Villa was a door-to-door dairy business in the 1940s through the 1970s, and then a jugging operation until the early 1980s.

Brubaker bought his first Ayrshire in 1934, and developed a fine herd, until it was dispersed in the late 1970s.

In 1986 he was selected by the National Ayrshire Association to receive its distinguished service award.

He has served as a national consultant for the breed, and on the state level, he was state sales director and also secretary/treasurer. He has traveled extensively on behalf of the breed, into Canada, Greenland, and Australia. To date, he has given more than 60 years of service to the breed.

A 4-H leader in Lancaster County for 50 years, and involved with his church, also serving as its treasurer and as a Sunday School teacher, he continues to serve as an advertising representative for the Ayrshire Digest.

The extension award was presented to Bob Brown, of Somerset County.

Brown has worked as a dairy and agronomy agent as well as coordinating 4-H dairy activities.

His 4-H dairy club program has more than 90 youth enrolled in local dairy groups. According to background information, "The educationprogram are outstanding and volunteer leadership has helped to expand his extension program.

"The leaders receive training and their efforts have produced noteworkthy results at local, regional and state levels. Competitions at the county fair, the regional and state 4-H junior dairy shows and the state 4-H dairy bowl round out an outstanding program."

Further, the 1990 Somerset County dairy bowl team was first in the state and first at the national contest; the 1993 team was first in the state and fifth nationally; the 1992 junior division dairy cattle judging team was first in the state.

State Dairy Princess Natalie Welch is also from Somerset County and spoke highly of Brown's dedication and enthusiasm to helping the county's youth understand agriculture and the dairy industry.

He has worked closely with supporting the local Dairy Herd Improvement Program, and other county dairy organizations, he has worked with dairy men, feed suppliers, veterinarians, milking machine dealers and helped to fight mastitis through education. He has assisted Penn State specialists in teaching dairy nutrition and milking schools and he has assumed leadership in creating some local and regional milking schools.

He also works with the county dairy promotion committee, and he serves in helping to operate regional youth dairy shows, state 4-H Achievement Days competitions, on the dairy committee for the state Farm Show, and on the All-American Invitational Youth Dairy Judging Contest.

He is a member of Dairy Shrine, and was awarded the Honorary Keystone Farmer Degree by the state FFA Foundation in 1979.

Also recognized was the state dairy bowl team from Somerset County. They were invited to the banquet especially for recognition of their efforts in pursuing a knowledge of the dairy industry, and also for representing their community and the state in competitions.

Members includ Brian Landis, captain, son of Daryl and Nancy Landis; Melissa Dugan, daughter of George and Barb Dugan, Watsontown; John Zaktansky, son of John and Deb Zaktansky, Watsontown; and Amanda Alpaugh, daughter of Daniel and Deb Alpaugh, Turbotville. Team coach was Patty Kitchen.

ever experienced water supply difficulty in droughts?

We also worry about the noise produced by equipment, additional traffic, and the bright lights, as well as the clientele which this might attract 24 hours a day! Could this also become a hangout? Or, will our Rt. 340/Rt. 772 become another commercial Rt. 30?

Another beautiful farm is changed, but to what? And what's next, a fast food stop? Change can be favorable or extremely detrimental. Perhaps the town could profit from a pharmacy, bakery or photo shop, but no, a carwash/laundermat is proposed.

Unfortunately, few in the community know of the proposal and we hope the newspaper will explore the ramifications of this upon the Village of Intercourse. People go to Rt. 30 for its commercialism, while people come to Intercourse for its quaint charm. I do hope this proposal can be explored further by community members along with the farm owner and the zoning board.

Perhaps the community will raise its voice to the town supervisors or at the next Zoning Board hearing January 17, 7:00 p.m. at the Leacock Township Office, 3347 Old Phila. Pk. (Rt. 340), Ronks, PA.

These Corn Growers Reach 200 Bushels In National Corn Contest

EVERETT NEWSWANGER
Managing Editor

MORGANTOWN (Berks Co.) — When you grow more than 200 bushels of corn per acre you have a good year. That's what Paul and son Ernest Mast did this year in the National Corn Growers contest in the irrigated division. But they don't look at themselves as professional corn growers. In fact they are, probably more well known for their potatoes.

We like to get things done on time, Paul said. We think that's important. Every day your are late in planting you loose a little production. It costs as much to plant or harvest late as it does to do it on time. In fact, for harvest, it costs more. We would even hire extra help to get it done on time if we had to.

Ernest thinks another reason for good production is the rotation of crops. They never plant corn on corn because potatoes and wheat are also in their crop rotation. Sometimes they plant soybeans to increase the fertility of the soil.

With good soil fertility and enough water the Masts believe they can plant heavy population. They average about 30,000 to 32,000 plants per acre.

The Masts have irrigation equipment to water their potatoes so they also use it on their corn. But this investment would be too great for only corn. If you invest in equipment you need to use it. Paul said. I don't know if I would do it just for corn, but you must irrigate the higher risk crops like potatoes. I believe the quality of the crop improves with irrigation because the crop matures at the right time.

With 200 steers on feed, 30 acres of corn is put into the silos. Wheat is stored until corn harvest then sold to make room for the corn. The corn is then stored until mid winter when the price is usually stronger.

The Masts also grow some pumpkins and have four acres of

Champion, Reserve Hog Exhibitor Share Some Things In Common

ANDY ANDREWS
Lancaster Farming Staff

HARRISBURG (Dauphin Co.) — Often, champion exhibitors at major livestock events can have almost nothing in common. However, both supreme champion and reserve champion exhibitors at the junior swine show at the Farm Show had a lot in common.

Both hogs were obtained from the same place — Howard Parrish, Eden, Ohio.

Both were Hampshire crosses.

And both grand and reserve exhibitors had lots of help from their families.

The grand champion crossbred hog exhibitor, Bobie-Jo Balzano, said she had a lot of help from her family, including her dad and mom, Ted and Mary, and brothers Ryan, 11 and Paul, 17. They helped select just the right pig to win the grand market champion from a division with 285 crossbred hogs vying for the title.

Bobie-Jo, 18, Gallitzin, Cambria County, is a freshman at St. Francis College in Loretto, majoring in social work. She showed her 257-pound Hampshire/Yorkshire crossbred hog for the first time to a championship at the Farm Show.

Michele Fetterolf, 13, daughter of Ken and Joan Fetterolf, Centre Hall, Centre County, is in the eight grade at Penns Valley School. She showed her 258-pound Hampshire/Duroc cross, "Penny," to the reserve championship.

Henry Holloway, Darlington, Md. show judge and Yorkshire breeder, said the entire crossbred championship had hogs that were "all comparable" in degree of soundness, muscling, and leanness. The hogs look like they've "grown well" he said, and the two champions showed a comparable degree of thickness and muscling.

In all, there were a total of 342 hogs at the show. Following is a list of show placings.

Dairy Goat Show Wraps Up 1995 Farm Show Competition

The LaManche champion is a 6-year-old named GC Rockspring Dixie Deborah owned by Ann Miller but shown by Joel Weikel.

Judge Jay Coburn declares a four-year-old Toggenburg held by Ann Miller as the Best in Show. Shown with Coburn and Miller are American Dairy Goat Association National Youth Representative Amy Plummer, right, and Pa. Dairy Goat Association Youth Representative Crystal Kloiber.

LOU ANN GOOD
Lancaster Farming Staff

HARRISBURG (Dauphin Co.) — The dairy goat show wrapped up the Pennsylvania Farm Show on Thursday. With 192 entries shown by 70 exhibitors, competition was tough.

Judge Jay Coburn declared a four-year-old Toggenburg owned by Ann Miller as the Best in Show.

Miller said that GC Rockspring PS Lucy Lula is classified excellent 90 and has won best of show seven or eight times previously.

Miller raises about 50 LaManchas, Toggenburgs, and a few recorded grades on her Telford farm known as Little Rock Spring.

In addition to winning Best of Show and the Toggenburg champion, Miller also won the championships in the recorded grades and the LaMancha breeds.

The recorded grade champion is a 3-year-old named GC Rockspring Demon Tola Trouble. It was second in its class in national competition and is a permanent champion since its been a milking yearling.

Miller surmises that the recorded champion will be the heaviest milking doe in the barn.

The LaMancha champion is GC Rocksprng Dixie Deborah, a six-year-old that achieved best udder in the 1993 national show.

The champion Alpine is owned by Joan Stump of Telford. GCH Stumphollow TSA Cricket had best of show last year.

The champion Nubian Starfire Cleo is a 3-year-old owned by Helen Snyer of Newport. Its mother was the grand champion and best of breed in the 1986 Farm Show.

The Snyders milk 20-30 head on their Starfire Farm in Perry County, which has a herd of 45.

Champion of all other purebreds is owned by Tom and Nancy Trimmer of Alexander of Huntingdon County. Trimmer's daughter Leah Kyle and some grandchildren show the Trimmer's herd of 30-35 head. The doe was purchased from Sundown Herd Blossom. It's a two-year-old that went champion the first time it freshened.

The recorded grade champion is a 3-year-old named GC Rockspring Demon Tola Trouble owned by Ann Miller by shown by Jennifer Blowder.

New OCIA Chapter Forms

NEW HOLLAND (Lancaster Co.) — A new OCIA chapter has been formed in Southeastern Pennsylvania.

Organic Crop Improvement Association (OCIA) is an internationally recognized, farmer-owned and operated certification program, with more than 60 chapters around the world, including Argentina, Belize, Bolivia, Canada, Germany, Holland, Japan, Mexico, Peru, and the United States. With more than 3000 grower members, certified acreage is well over half a million acres.

OCIA was conceived in response to increased consumer demand for food products without harmful pesticides, herbicides, and fungicides, associated with the conventional agricultural food production system.

Crop improvement is OCIA's most important responsibility.

OCIA seeks to support all farmers with the technical knowledge, skill, and organizational aids to develop workable crop management systems, capable of supplying the growing market demand for organic food. Just what constitutes crop improvement can vary from farm to farm, ranging from learning to substitute timely cultivation for herbicide sprays, to exploring extremely sophisticated techniques on the frontiers of soil and pest management. Farmers must demonstrate not only a willingness to learn and to share, but a recognition that professional development is a continuous process in which there is always room for improvement.

Organic farming in southeastern Pennsylvania is growing rapidly, because of the demand for organic produce, meats and poultry, and an interest in producing organic milk. As this demand grows, there is a greater need for certified grains locally. This could be an opportunity for southeastern farmers to produce additional income.

The southeastern chapter of OCIA will be holding a public meeting sometime in February. Watch for more details.

At a recent meeting, Don Weaver Homestead Farm was elected president of this chapter, Roman Stoltzfoos vice president, Ned MacArthur secretary, and Enos Hoover treasurer.

Ridge Tours Farm Show

be that circulated the Farm Show from begining to end and invaded almost every conversation was left unanswered. "No department is any more important than any other," Ridge said. "I gotta do this right. I have a chance to put together an all-star team from foul line to foul line. I'm going to take my time. It's more important that I do it right than do it quickly.

"I am involved and will continue to be involved not only at the secretary level but also at the deputy secretary level. The ag secretary will not be named until after the inauguration," Ridge said.

And if Ridge had any idea who the new ag secretary might be, he wasn't saying. "There are many qualified individuals around the commonwealth to serve as ag secretary," Ridge said. "One of the challenges I have had is to go through and give each recommendation that has been made an honest individual attention. The ag secretary needs to understand and fully appreciate the many dimensions of production agriculture and agribusiness. The ag secretary needs to understand and share my view that we not only need to promote it, we need to market it. I'm big on exports. The ag secretary will have to share that commitment and vision and understand that ag is big business in Pennsylvania and appreciate the potential of economic development in the ag sector.

"This place (the Farm Show building) is a fundamental asset, an incredible facility with 16 acres under roof," Ridge said. "It shows the very best of agriculture, a very high point of Pennsylvania's economy, not only to Pennsylvanians but to the rest of the world. This show in such an environment is a real plus for Pennsylvania.

"It will be nice to work with Pennsylvanians to promote the state and to be an advocate for the state. I think Pennsylvania has yet to realize its fullest potential. If people would have traveled around Pennsylvania visiting our farms and factories, they would understand that Pennsylvania has many years and decades ahead. We just need to harness that potential. There is nothing wrong with Pennsylvania that Pennsylvanians can't fix."

Crops Day Set

ALLENTOWN (Lehigh Co.) — Lehigh Valley County Agent Dave Dunbar announced that the Lehigh and Northampton County Crops Day will take place on Wednesday, Jan. 25 from 9:30 a.m. to 3:15 p.m. at the UGI Auditorium in Bethlehem.

Subjects to be covered are worker protection standards, government programs, weed management update, integrated pest management, conservation tillage, insect management update, and complete pesticide applicator training forms.

Dunbar noted that no reservations are needed, and all are welcome. The program qualifies for three category (01+ 18) pesticide update credits and two core pesticide credits.

The UGI Auditorium is located at 2121 City Line Rd. in the Lehigh Valley Industrial Park by the Lehigh Valley International Airport. Take Route 22 to Airport Rd. North exit. Go north to second traffic light, turn right on City Line Rd. Go to Avenue B — (first street on right). Building is on the southeast corner, parking is in the rear.

Farmers can visit commercial exhibits beginning at 9 a.m. Exhibitors will serve coffee and doughnuts. Lunch will be on your own.

Best Of The Best Apple Pies

LOU ANN GOOD
Lancaster Farming Staff

HARRISBURG (Dauphin Co.) — "She doesn't believe it," Barbara Dale said after phoning her sister Carol Gustafson of Oil City, Venango County.

Dale had just collected a blue rosette and $100 for her sister's prize winning entry in the apple pie contest.

It was the third year that Gustafson's pie had made it to the final round of judging but the first time for the coveted first placing.

Dale said that her sister bakes an assortment of great-tasting pies. "I told her to use this recipe even though I like the one she entered last year better," Dale said. Last year's entry combined apples and cranberries. This year's entry combined raisins and walnuts with the apples.

Second place went to Charlotte Gelnett who also had placed second in competition last year — with a different recipe.

"She's my favorite cook. Everything I want in the food line, I get," said her husband Richard.

"It's nothing unusual — just a plain apple, but it's his favorite," Mrs. Gelnett said.

The Middleburg couple have four adult children and 10 grandchildren.

"When everyone comes home, we bring out the apple pie and a gallon of milk," Gelnett said. "That's the only way to eat apple pie."

The Gelnetts live on a 129-acre farm in Snyder County.

Although Mrs. Gelnett uses a variety of apples depending on the season, she used the Crispin variety for this competition.

"I'm the luckiest man in the world. She's the apple of my eye," Gelnett said of his wife of 39 years.

His wife was also quite lucky in other competitions. She entered four different cakes. In addition to the apple pie contest placing, she won first placings for her chocolate chiffon and chocolate butter cakes and a second for her white butter cake. She also won first and second place in the Fashion Show, held for the first time this year.

Third place winner Judy Crawford is from Chambersburg. She said that she added Christmas leftovers mincemeat and pecans.

"It's only the second time that I made it. Even the kids who don't like mincemeat like it," she said.

Mrs. Crawford, who was raised on an orchard farm, said she is basically self-taught. She has six daughters who hold careers but still find time to do some baking.

"If they spent more time baking, I'm afraid they'd outdo me," she said.

The 57 entries were the best of the best since each needed to place first in a local fair before being eligible to enter the state competition.

"Each one tasted different and was delicious," said Mellony Apple, a judge from WHP radio. Other judges included George Weigel, Patriot News: Jane Mecum, Juniata/Perry County Extension office, and Wilma Jane Ferster, Richfield.

For the second year, Charlotte Gelnett took second-place for her apple pie, which meant getting up at 3 a.m. to bake it.

It takes a bunch of friends and relatives working together to win championships at the Farm Show. Barbara Dale of Oil City holds the blue ribbon for the prize-winning apple pie baked by her sister Carol Gustafson, who was unable to attend. Because Barbara entered 10 different items, she needed to make the 200 mile trip to the Farm Show on a Thursday. She won several categories and took best of show with her canned goods. Her husband Walter is at right. Beverly and David Zipfel of Seneca delivered the prize-winning pie for their friend Carol.

Grandsons of Judy Crawford, third-place winner in the apple pie contest, had confidence their grandmother would win. Shown with grandparents Milt and Judy Crawford are Andrew Campbell, 11; Eric McNew, 12; and Jared McNew, 12.

FIRST-PLACE APPLE PIE

Pastry:
¾ cup plus 2 tablespoons shortening
2 cups plus 4 tablespoons flour
1 teaspoon salt
⅓ cup cold water

Cut shortening into flour and salt; mix until blended; add water and mix until well blended. Chill while making filling.

Filling:
3 tablespoons butter
1 cup brown sugar
1 cup granulated sugar
3 teaspoons vanilla
1 egg
½ cup all-purpose flour
1½ teaspoons baking powder
½ teaspoon salt
½ teaspoon cinnamon
¼ teaspoon apple pie spice
6 cups apples, peeled and sliced
½ cup walnuts
3 tablespoons raisins

Mix butter, egg, sugars, and vanilla until well blended. Add flour, baking powder, salt, cinnamon, and apple pie spice. Mix until blended well. Add apples and mix well.

Prepare pie shell and add one half mixture. Sprinkle with half of nuts and raisins in center and fill with remaining apple mixture. Sprinkle remaining nuts and raisins on top.

Bake at 350 degrees for approximately one hour or until knife inserted in center of pie comes out clean. After pie is cooled, glaze top with confectioners' sugar and milk.

Carol Gustafson
Jefferson Co. Fair

SECOND-PLACE APPLE PIE

Crust — Makes 5 balls of dough
4½ cups flour
1 tablespoon sugar
1 teaspoon salt
1¼ cup butter Crisco
½ cup grated sharp cheese

Mix with pastry blender until size of peas. Put one egg in cup, add 1 tablespoon vinegar and cold water to make ¾ cup. Blend into flour mixture.

Apple Filling:
4 cups cubed tart apples
1 tablespoon tapioca
¾ cup sugar

Mix together and put into pie shell. Sprinkle with cinnamon. Cover with top crust. Bake at 400 degrees for 20 minutes. Lower heat to 375 degrees for remaining baking time. Bake until apples start juicing. Cover with foil for remainder of baking.

Charlotte Gelnett
Middleburg

NUTTY, MINCE, APPLE CRUMB PIE

Crust:
1 cup flour
½ teaspoon salt
⅓ cup shortening
1 tablespoon softened cream cheese
2-3 tablespoons water

Use a pastry blender to make crumbs from everything except the water. Add water and form into a ball. Roll to fit a 9-inch pie pan, crimp edge.

Apple filling:

Cook and cool the following ingredients:
8 apples (York and Yellow Delicious)
1 cup apple juice or cider
1 tablespoon cornstarch
½ cup sugar
Sprinkle of cinnamon

While apple filling is cooling, prepare nutty bottom and crumb topping. Mix together:
2 tablespoons beaten egg
⅓ cup brown sugar
½ cup chopped pecans
1 tablespoon melted butter
½ teaspoon vanilla

Spread over the bottom of the prepared pie shell.

Crumb topping:
½ cup flour
⅓ cup brown sugar
3 tablespoons butter
¼ teaspoon cinnamon
2 tablespoons chopped pecans

Over the nutty layer, spread a thin layer of prepared mince meat and over the mincemeat, pour your cooled apple filling. Top the apples with the prepared crumb topping.

Bake 10 minutes at 400 degrees; reduce heat to 375 degrees and continue baking 30 minutes longer or until nicely browned.

May garnish with leftover crust scraps.

Prize Chocolate Brownies Chosen From 54 Entries

LOU ANN GOOD
Lancaster Farming Staff

HARRISBURG (Dauphin Co.) — Twelve-year-old Ami Martin's brownies are the best in the state. Her 13-year-old brother Danny calls them "Chokin' Brownies" but loves to eat them.

"I just came up with it," Ami said of her recipe called "Ami's Delicious Hershey Cocoa Bars. Ingredients include Reese's peanut butter chips and edible glitter.

Ami said that she learned to bake from her mom Barbara Martin who has 47 ribbons she won at local fairs for cooking projects. Her mom was 18 years old when she first entered a fair. Since Ami already has five ribbons and she is only 12, she figures she can bypass her mother's success rate in a couple of years.

The success is not without some sacrifice.

On Fair week, Ami stayed up to 2 a.m. baking. But she said the lack of sleep is well worth it when you win a ribbon.

Since she topped 54 entries, Ami received $20 and a weekend for four at Hershey Resort.

Second place went to Brooke Kaezinski, East Petersburg, and third place to Sara Moser, Turbotville.

Sarah received her recipe from a friend she met in the Wisconsin 4-H Exchange program.

The daughter of Richard and Gail Moser of Turbotville, Sarah said that her brother entered last year but didn't try this year.

The 17-year-old is a junior at Warrior Run High School.

Cooking expertise runs in Sarah's family. Her aunt Julie Raup placed second in the greatest chocolate cake contest. Her grandmother Viola Pfleegor often won ribbons for entries in local fairs.

The brownie entries were previous first-place winners at local fairs. The contest was sponsored by Hershey Foods Corporation and PA State Association of County Fairs.

Here are the first-place and the third-place winning recipes.

AMI'S DELICIOUS HERSHEY COCOA BROWNIES

⅔ cup flour
½ teaspoon baking powder
¼ teaspoon salt
2 eggs, large
1 cup granulated sugar
6½ tablespoons shortening, melted
6 tablespoons cocoa
½ cup Reese's peanut butter chips
1 teaspoon vanilla

Frosting:
3 tablespoons butter, softened
3 tablespoons cocoa
1 tablespoon light corn syrup
½ teaspoon vanilla
1 cup confectioners' sugar
2 tablespoons milk
Edible glitter — sprinkle over frosting

Peanut Butter Frosting
½ cup Reese's peanut butter
1 pound confectioners' sugar
7-8 tablespoons milk
1 teaspoon vanilla

Blend one-third sugar and peanut butter alternately. Add remaining sugar and milk. Add vanilla. Run frosting through flour in cookie press. Let harden, top with mini chips.

GRAMMA BARS

½ cup butter
¾ cup sugar
2 eggs
¾ cup flour
2 tablespoons Hershey's cocoa
1 teaspoon vanilla
Miniature marshmallows
6 ounces chocolate chips
6 ounces butterscotch chips
1 cup peanut butter
1½ cup rice crispy cereal

Mix together first three ingredients. Add flour, cocoa, and vanilla. Beat together. Bake in a 9x13-inch greased and floured pan at 350 degrees for 15 minutes. Cover with miniature marshmallows. Put in oven for one minute to melt. Cool.

Melt chocolate chips, butterscotch chips and stir in one cup peanut butter and rice crispy cereal. Spread over bars. Cool and cut. Garnish with a walnut half on top.

Sara Moser
Third place

Pennsylvania Fair Queen Beth Paul congratulates Ami Martin for baking the best brownies.

Great Chocolate Cakes From Around The State

LOU ANN GOOD
Lancaster Farming Staff

HARRISBURG (Dauphin Co.) — "Don't be intimidated." That's the advice from winners in the Greatest Cocoa Cake Contest.

Out of 53 contestants, Connie Rich of North East garnered first place for a weekend for four at Hershey Resort.

The entries were fastidiously decorated. Some had intricate chocolate bows, flowers, leaves arranged on them. Some were multi-layered cakes, some were tortes, some had cherries or nuts added but all were heavenly flavors of chocolate.

"I can't deal with this again," said third place winner Jill Fleisher of Chambersburg.

The hours of waiting for judges to make their decisions results in nervous contestants and cold hands.

Last year Jill was a second-place winner. This year she tried a different recipe — an original one. As a caterer, Jill is an experienced baker, but she credits her oldest son with giving her a dose of good luck. "He eats a piece of chocolate off each square for good luck," she said.

Nine-year-old Jaron said that he also wished on a wish bone that his mother would win.

Second-place winner Julie Raup of Turbotville also was nervous during the judging of the 53 entries.

She said, "The secret is to use good ingredients — all real dairy products."

She credits her cooking skills to being raised on a farm and having a cooking background in 4-H.

Julie, a dietician works at a nursing home. She placed third in state competition previously in the cake contest and also was a finalist in the apple pie contest this year.

She and her husband Randy have two children Zachary, 8, and Meagan, 4.

Jill Fleisher gets plenty of help and good luck from her greatest fans — her husband Randy and sons, Jaron, 9; Kennon, 7; and Ethan, 4.

Here are the winning recipes.

HERSHEY'S COCOA CAKE CAKE

CAKE:
4 ounces Hershey's semi-sweet chocolate, chopped
4 ounces boiling water
2 ounces Hershey's semi-sweet chocolate, coarsely chopped
2 1/2 cups plus 3 tablespoons cake flour
3/4 cup Hershey's cocoa
1 teaspoon baking soda
1/2 teaspoon baking powder
1/2 teaspoon salt
1 3/4 cups plus 3 tablespoons sugar
3/4 stick butter, room temp.
1/3 cup vegetable oil
3 eggs
1 cup buttermilk
1 cup sour cream
1 tablespoon vanilla
1/2 cup Hershey's semisweet chocolate chips

Heat oven to 350. Butter 3 -9" round cake pans. Dust pans with

(Turn to Page B4)

Good cooks run in families. John and Viola Pleegor of Turbotville produced this batch of winning cooks. Their daughter Julie, holding her 4-year-old daughter Meagan, placed third in the chocolate cake contest and granddaughter Sarah Moser placed third for the best brownies. Grandma said that she used to can all summer long to enter items in the local fairs but now lets the younger generations carry on her tradition.

flour. Place 4 ounces chopped chocolate in metal bowl. Pour boiling water over , stir until melted. Set aside to cool. Finely grind 2 ounces chocolate in food processor.

Sift flour , cocoa, soda, baking powder, and salt into a large bowl. Resift 2 times. Using another bowl, beat sugar, butter, and oil until well blended, approximately 4 minutes. Add eggs 1 at a time, beating well after each addition. Add cooled chocolate mixture. Beat 1 minute. Gradually add dry ingredients and beat on low speed till combined, about 1 minute. Increase speed to medium and beat 4 minutes. Add buttermilk, sour cream, vanilla, and finely ground chocolate and mix on low speed 1 minute. Spoon batter evenly between the three pans. Divide remaining chocolate chips evenly sprinkling over each pan. Bake until toothpick comes out clean —approximately 25 minutes.

TRUFFLE FILLING:
- 1 1/4 cups sugar
- 1 cup whipping cream
- 5 1/2 ounces Hershey's unsweetened chocolate
- 1 stick butter
- 1/4 cup Hershey's semisweet chocolate chips
- 1 1/2 teaspoons vanilla

Combine first 4 ingredients in a medium saucepan Stir constantly over high heat until sugar dissolves. Reduce heat to medium and cook without stirring until reduced, about 10 minutes. Remove from heat, Add remaining ingredients and stir until melted and smooth.

Cool. (Can be prepared 1 day ahead. Cover and let stand at room temp.)

FROSTING:
- 3/4 cup butter
- 1 cup Hershey's Cocoa
- 4 cups confectioners' sugar
- 1/2 cup hot milk
- 2 teaspoons vanilla

In small saucepan over low heat melt butter, add cocoa, stirring constantly until smooth and slightly thickened. Remove from heat. Set aside to cool. In large mixer bowl combine sugar and milk; beat until smooth. Add chocolate mixture and vanilla. Beat on medium speed until smooth and slightly thickened—about 5-10 minutes. Cool at room temperature until spreading consistency.

Spread truffle filling between cake layers. Then frost cake with chocolate fudge frosting. Garnish as desired.

CHOCOLATE RIBBONS:
- 1 1/2 pounds white chocolate
- 1 cup light corn syrup

Melt chocolate in double boiler, stirring frequently. Remove from heat and stir in corn syrup. Refrigerate overnight. Set at room temperature at least 4 hours prior to rolling dough out. Roll dough into strips using powdered sugar and a pasta maker. Fashion ribbons into any decoration desired.

Second Place

COCOA-NUT LAYER CAKE

CAKE LAYERS:
- 1/2 cup unsweetened Hershey's Cocoa
- 1/2 cup boiling water
- 1 3/4 cups unsifted all purpose flour
- 1 teaspoon baking powder
- 1 teaspoon baking soda
- 1/8 teaspoon salt
- 1/2 cup butter, softened
- 2 cups granulated sugar
- 2 eggs
- 1 teaspoon vanilla extract
- 1 1/3 cups buttermilk
- 1/2 cup finely chopped pecans
- 1 cup heavy cream

In a small bowl, mix cocoa with boiling water, cool completely. Preheat oven to 350° degrees. Grease and flour three 8" layer cake pans. Sift flour, baking powder, soda and salt. Combine butter, sugar, eggs and vanilla. Beat at high speed until fluffy. At low speed, blend in flour mixture (in fourths), alternately with buttermilk: Begin and end with flour mixture, beat just until smooth. Measure 1 2/3 cups batter into a small bow. Stir in pecans. Pour into prepared pan. Add cocoa mixture to remaining batter; mix until smooth; divide evenly between other pans. Bake 30-35 minutes. Cool 10 minutes on rack; remove from pans; cool completely. Whip heavy cream until stiff.

FROSTING:

Mix 1/4 cup Hershey's Cocoa with melted 1/4 cup shortening, let cool.

In mixer beat:
- 1 pound confectionary sugar
- 1 egg white
- 1/2 cup shortening
- 1/8 cup milk
- 1/2 tablespoon flour
- 1/2 teaspoon vanilla extract

Cooled cocoa mixture

Beat on high 5 minutes.

To assemble cake:

Place one chocolate layer on plate. Spread with half of the whipped cream. Place the nut layer on next; spread with rest of whipped cream. Top with remaining chocolate layer. With spatula, spread frosting on the side and top.

Third Place

CHOCOLATE MOCHA LATTICE CAKE

FOR THE CAKE: mix together
- 2 cups sugar
- 2 cups flour
- 1 cup Hershey's unsweetened cocoa
- 2 teaspoons baking soda
- 1 teaspoon baking powder
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 3 large eggs
- 1 cup buttermilk

Beat on low and slowly add:
- 1 cup strong coffee, cooled
- 1/2 cup vegetable oil
- 2 teaspoons vanilla

Beat until just blended, then mix on medium for 3 minutes.

Grease 3 8" pans and dust with Hershey's unsweetened cocoa. Pour batter evenly into prepared pans and bake 350° 25-30 minutes; cool for 10 minutes and remove from pans. Cool completely and split each layer in half.

FILLING: in a tightly covered container, shake together
- 5 tablespoons flour
- 1 cup milk

Cook over medium high heat, stirring constantly until mixture thickens and pulls away from sides of the pan. Cool, without stirring. In another bowl beat together:
- 1 cup softened butter
- 1 cup sugar
- 1 teaspoon vanilla

Add flour mixture and beat until smooth. Place one cake layer on plate and spread with 1/5 of filling. Top with another cake layer and repeat, ending with a cake layer.

MOCHA BUTTERCREAM: beat together until spreadable
- 3 sticks softened butter
- 3 cups 10x sugar
- 1/3 cup Hershey's unsweetened cocoa
- 1 teaspoon vanilla
- 1/4 cup hot water & 1/2 teaspoon instant coffee, cooled

Cover tops and sides of cake and refrigerate 15-30 minutes.

Finishing touches!!: finely chop or "blenderize" 3 Hershey Skor candy bars. Press into sides of cake 2/3 of the way up. Melt 1/4 pound of candy coating chocolate and pipe onto wax paper in desired shape. Freeze until firm and place on cake.

Ida's Notebook

by

Ida Risser

We had our annual family gathering at our home after Christmas. But, we were disappointed as only half of the invited people came. Some were ill, some were too tired, and some did not offer any explanation.

One result of this is that we are left with lots of food. There are more snacks than you could name in our freezer and cupboard. A sister from Michigan sent a box of cheese, candy, and nuts. It was practically untouched. I suppose we will slowly use these leftovers.

Some arrangements this year contained beautiful holly from our daughter's tree in Atlanta. She sent a large bag of cuttings. The leaves are quite glossy and the berries extra red and bright. Some were shared with a neighbor. Now everything must be torn apart and put away.

It is time to fill scrapbooks with items that I've cut from the newspaper. Fitting them on the pages takes time. Also, my collection of photos from 1994 has amounted to hundreds, as people give me some, and those too must be arranged in an album. Some are going to go into a large trunk with other pictures as there are simply too many.

My sister, Anna, gave gifts that took a lot of work. She hand-painted some thirty crockery flower pots with nine little Dutch maids and did a beautiful job. Then she filled each pot with a thriving flower plant. Because not all of our children were home this season, I will have the job of keeping the plants healthy until I see my children—that will probably be next summer. I will do the best that I can to care for them.

Taking Time

Rebecca Escott

Yesterday I received my priority mail "Official Final Round Entry Documents" for the Publishers Clearing House sweepstakes offer. I rescued the product coupons for future use and promptly discarded the rest...so when my number is picked, don't call me.

Consumers these days are bombarded with offers "too good to refuse" in the mail, on the phone, on TV, in catalogs, at community events, and even at the front door. Some of the offers are legitimate marketing techniques. Others are true scams designed only to make some fast money at a consumers expense.

Sweepstakes are designed to get people to open an envelope, browse through some product advertisements and then send in an entry form. In return, they may win a prize or cash. Legitimate contests allow participation with or without a purchase. There should also be no entry fee required. Corporations can afford to give out substantial prizes because the sweepstakes itself generates lots of attention to and money spent on the company's products. The question is, are you being tempted to spend money on a product you don't need because of the lure of an extravagant cash prize?

In sweepstakes contests, winners are selected by either a random drawing or a preselected number. In the preselected system, each chosen number corresponds to a specific prize. These numbers are drawn by a third party before the mailing occurs and is kept secret from the sponsor until the end of the promotion. That's why mailings can truthfully say, "You may have already won."

So how can consumers tell the difference between legitimate sweepstakes mailings and look-alike scams? Check these points:

√ Are the rules and entry instructions easy to find and understand?

√ Does the advertising copy state that no purchase is necessary in order to win?

√ Do you really know what the prizes are and do you want them? Some pictures can be deceiving.

√ Is the grand prize awarded to only one winner or is it shared. Shared sweepstakes prizes can sometimes be as little as a few cents. But now the company has your name and address to use for future promotional mailings.

√ What are your chances of winning one of the major prizes? Remember in legitimate contests, ordering a product WILL NOT increase your chances of winning. Are you spending money unwisely?

√ What is the postmark on the mailing you received? If you receive a note that says you definitely won but the postmark is a bulk mailing permit number, this means a similar letter went to hundreds or thousands of others. It's not likely that you won one of the grand prizes with a mailing notice like this.

√ Is this a sweepstakes that requires no purchase or fees or is it some other kind of product promotion that may include charges to 900 numbers, shipping/redemption fees, taxes, purchase of a product in order to qualify, etc.

√ Who is the sponsor of the mailing? Disreputable companies sometimes use a variation of a nationally recognized name.

Sweepstakes offers are not the only things that con artists can distort to get consumers to spend money unwisely. The credit card industry and telemarketing associations are also battling fraud. As a consumer, it pays to be skeptical and ask questions. Never spend money that you are not willing to lose. And remember, "If it sounds too good to be true, it most likely is."

BIGGER BALES. WITHOUT A BIGGER TRACTOR.

When we designed the 540, we knew you wanted a higher capacity round baler with versatility and convenience. We also knew you liked your tractor.

Truth is, you can keep your present tractor. Because with the 540 attached, all you need is a minimum 45 PTO hp tractor. We built the 540 with all the features of a large baler but in a compact, low-profile design. The direct-feed, open-throat design makes for fast bale starts and easy operation, and the variable chamber makes bales from 30" to 51".

You'll be able to handle a wide variety of crops with great maneuverability. All with your current tractor.

So stop in at your AGCO/Hesston dealer listed here and ask about our flexible financing plans for the 540. Or our wide selection of other equipment, all backed by the AGCO Warranty Program. Hesston. It'll change the way you look at hay fields forever.

'Dough's' For Good Breads

If you're buying the lowest-priced bread at your grocery store, it's guaranteed to be bland and low in nutrition. Why settle for untasty bread just to save a few pennies? You can bake your own for whopping good taste, nutrition, and still keep that low cost.

If you've never baked bread before, now is a good time to begin. Many of these recipes are surprisingly simple.

Quick breads and those made with baking powder or baking soda are faster to make than traditional yeast breads, which really do not require much more labor. The main requirement for making traditional yeast breads is that time is needed for dough to rise.

Mix up a batch of yeast bread, and as it rises, complete some household chores or even go grocery shopping. When you return, punch down the dough and let it rise again.

Bread baking really isn't difficult. After you try it a few times, you'll feel like a professional. And, the flavor is one that you won't want to exchange for those cheap versions of bread on the grocery shelves.

BANANA POPPY SEED BREAD

¼ cup butter, softened
5½ teaspoons artificial sweetener
1 egg
2 egg whites
1 teaspoon vanilla
1 cup mashed ripe banana
1¾ cup all-purpose flour
2 teaspoons baking powder
¼ teaspoon baking soda
½ teaspoon salt
2 tablespoons poppy seed
1 teaspoon ground cinnamon
⅓ cup reduced-fat sour cream

Beat together butter and artificial sweetener until blended; beat in egg, egg whites, and vanilla. Add banana; beat 30 seconds at medium speed. Mix in half the combined flour, baking powder, baking soda, salt, poppy seed, and cinnamon; mix in sour cream and remaining ingredients until blended.

Spread batter evenly in greased loaf pan. Bake bread in preheated 350-degree oven until browned and toothpick inserted in center comes out clean, 60 to 65 minutes. Cool bread in pan 5 minutes, remove and cool on wire rack. Makes one loaf.

If taste and nutrition are important to you, you'll find homemade breads top store-bought varieties.

ENGLISH MUFFIN BREAD

6 cups flour, divided
1 tablespoon sugar
2 teaspoons salt
¼ teaspoon baking soda
2 packages dry yeast
2 cups 1% low-fat milk
½ cup water
1 tablespoon corn meal, divided

Combine 3 cups flour, 1 tablespoon sugar, salt, soda, and yeast in a medium-size bowl; stir well and set aside. Heat milk and water in a heavy saucepan until very warm. Add dry ingredients stirring well. Stir in remaining 3 cups flour to form soft dough. Divide dough into 3 equal parts. Place one portion into each of three 13-ounce coffee cans coated with vegetable spray and sprinkled with ¾ teaspoon cornmeal. Sprinkle remaining cornmeal over top. Cover and let rise 45 minutes or until double. Bake at 400 degrees for 20 minutes.

DATE NUT ROLL

1 cup sugar
¼ cup butter
1 cup chopped dates
1 cup chopped pecans
2 eggs, slightly beaten
2 cups rice crispy cereal

Melt butter; add sugar, dates, nuts, and eggs. Cook 10 minutes over medium heat, stirring constantly. Remove from heat; add cereal. Let cool until you can handle the mixture. Form in log and roll in flake coconut. Keep in refrigerator and slice as needed.

APRICOT BREAD

¾ cup sugar
1 egg
1¼ cups orange juice
¾ cup chopped nuts
1 cup chopped dried apricots
2½ cups Bisquick

Preheat oven to 350 degrees. Combine all ingredients and mix well. Pour into greased and floured loaf pan. Bake until toothpick inserted in middle comes out clean, about 45 to 50 minutes.

SAUSAGE BALLS

3 cups Bisquick
1 pound cheddar cheese, grated
1 pound bulk sausage, mild

Mix and roll in balls. Bake in 400-450 degree oven until done. These may be frozen until ready to bake.

BANANA BREAD

1 cup sugar
2 eggs
2 heaping tablespoons orange marmalade
¼ cup oil
1 large or 2 small bananas
1 teaspoon vanilla
½ cup nuts, if desired

Beat together ingredients. Add 1½ cups self-rising flour. Bake 45 to 50 minutes in loaf pan. Test with toothpick in center until it comes out clean.

Icing:
1 cup powdered sugar
½ teaspoon vanill
Milk, enough until mixture is smooth enough to spread.

Don't overlook lamb shoulder for winter stews. It's full of flavor and much less expensive than other cuts. To speed cooking time for stews, cut the lamb cubes in ½ -inch cubes. Use the slow cooker to simmer the stew while you are away. Vegetables, found in the grocery freezer section, can be used in place of peeling and chopping fresh vegetables. Dry gravy mixes ore prepared gravy in the jar make a quick sauce. Several quick, easy recipes, including a lamb stew, can be obtained by sending a SASE to American Lamb Council, Dept. LLO, 6911 S. Yosemite St., Englewood, CO 80112.

Here's the perfect recipe for the new ground lamb that is appearing at the retail counter.

MEDITERRANEAN LAMB PIE

2 pounds ground lamb
½ finely grated onion, reserve juice
1½ cups toasted almonds or walnuts, lightly chopped
1 cup raisins, optional
2 eggs
1½ teaspoon curry powder
½ teaspoon salt and pepper
½ teaspoon ground cardamon, optional
1 teaspoon ground cumin
¾ teaspoon ground cloves
1 package phyllo dough
Butter-flavored non-stick spray (or 2 sticks butter, melted
Greased 10-inch deep-dish pie pan

Mix lamb with grated onion. Cook over medium heat until all pink is gone.

Cook completely and drain.

Combine cooked lamb with nuts, raisins, eggs, curry powder, and spices.

Open phyllo dough; cut in half with sharp knife. Wrap half of dough in airtight package and freeze.

Gently place one piece of phyllo on work surface; brush lightly with butter or spray with non-stick cooking spray. Arrange half of the phyllo in greased pie pan to create the bottom crust.

Spoon filling into the crust and repeat the process with the remaining phyllo to cover top. Lightly crumple the last four or five sheets to form an attractive, rustic top. Drizzle with butter; sprinkle with bread crumbs if desired. Pie can be refrigerated at this point for baking at a later time, or it can be carefully wrapped and frozen for use up to a month later.

Bake on lower shelf at 350 degrees for 25 to 30 minutes. Serve hot. Serves 6 to 8.

Every profession has its hazards.

Truck drivers are constantly aware of the possibility of a vehicular accident ahead along the endless miles of roads, shared with what we all label those "idiots" behind the wheel.

Data processors deal with the pain and surgery of carpal tunnel syndrome from hours, weeks, years spent with their fingers and hands held in "typing position," poking keyboards.

Teachers suffer burnout, stock brokers trade in stress and obstetricians sometimes go without sleep because babies steadfastly refuse to be born during normal office hours. Electricians sometimes have shocking work problems, phone repair service people get called out in bad weather and nurses are needled by overwork.

Farming, however, still ranks up there at the top of the hazardous profession list, beaten out on survey lists generally only by coal mining. And, with the technological advances in the field of mining toward more mechanization and less backwork, that may have slipped from top spot.

Farmers are prone to a whole litany of work-related health hazards: injuries from livestock and machinery, from broken bones to loss of limbs, wounds from sharp metal and protruding nails, eye problems due to carelessness about using protective glasses when grinding metals, chemical exposures, deafness from long periods of exposure to throbbing equipment, slipping on manure (which OSHA did warn us some years ago in a brochure was slippery), lifting too-heavy items and on and on, ad infinitum.

Like many of his peers, The Farmer lives with the periodically painful affliction of "cranky" knees, from years of working with cattle combined with the proverbial old high school football injuries. Sometimes, they play little cracking rhythms when he walks. If a storm is approaching I might catch him limping. Modern medicine can do wonders with knees today—one of these years he'll be a candidate.

But on what professional problem can I blame the affliction which ( struck me with an irritating vengeance last week? I crawled out of bed one morning, opened my mouth to say something—and nothing came out but a muted squeak.

To someone who likes to yakkety-yak as much as I do, the scourge of laryngitis is a major pain in the neck. So to speak. Except there was no pain. Just a blank, like someone turned off the sound. My mom suffers with the same occasional affliction, so maybe it's hereditary.

Worse, it was on a morning of a major meeting, populated with a host of fellow farmers who thought my uncharacteristic and unplanned silence was hilarious.

"You sound like Kermit the Frog," joked one. Hey, as Kermit would say, it isn't easy being green.

"Boy, The Farmer will be happy," gleefully grinned another.

"Did you sleep with your feet out from under the covers?" "What kind of partying were you up to?" "Was this from yelling for Penn State in the Rose Bowl?"

Actually, the Man Upstairs just decided I should shut up for a couple of days, the better to exercise my ears. And, since I had made no New Year's resolutions, maybe Someone was offering a rather pointed suggestion.

However, one kind stranger, expressing sympathy, wished me a speedy return of my voice and a hope that I'd soon be back, able to sing opera.

Now that would be a real miracle of healing.

I could never sing opera before.

Healthy Weight Facts

Traditionally, the beginning of a New Year brings renewed interest in achieving a slimmer waistline. There is much information out there about weight—unfortunately not all of it is accurate.

Let's see if we can sort some of the facts from the fiction.

Myth: The scale is the best way to determine if you're fit or fat.

Reality: The scale does not reflect your body composition; it does not discriminate between fluid or fat weight. Facts to consider:

- It takes 3,500 calories to make one pound of fat.
- Two cups of water weighs one pound.
- Sudden weight changes are usually from fluid shifts in the body.
- If your weight suddenly rose five pounds, it would require an extra 17,500 calories from food.

After reading these statistics you might decide to limit your liquid intake. The Penn State weight-maintenance/weight-loss program, My New Weigh of Life, requests participants to drink six to eight glasses of water a day. The body needs the liquid so it can function at its best. Drinking fluids provides a sense of stomach fullness, maintains water balance, aids the kidneys, and prevents constipation. Studies also show that often people eat when, in reality, they are thirsty. Somehow, the signals have gotten confused. The next time you feel hungry drink a tall glass of water and wait a few minutes to see if hunger pains fade.

It might be a revolutionary thought, but many people find they are more successful with maintaining their weight AFTER they throw out the scales. Look in the mirror. Are you happy with what you see? For many people that's the best judge—not the scales. When your clothes feel a little tight, it's time to put the breaks on your current mode of eating and increase your exercise.

Myth: A low-calorie diet is the best way to achieve a healthy weight.

Reality: Chronic dieting, under eating, or skipping meals can contribute to a sluggish metabolism, which could make it harder to lose weight. Fueling metabolism is like stoking a fire—remove the wood and the fire diminishes. Similarly, to fuel our metabolism we must consume a sufficient amount of calories or our bodies will slow down to compensate.

Myth: Simply increasing aerobic activity guarantees you will reach your metabolic peak.

Reality: While aerobic exercise, such as cycling or jogging, can help boost metabolism; research shows that strength training, such as weight lifting, plays a vital role. Weight-bearing activities help build and maintain muscle growth. The more muscle you have, the more metabolically active your body is, meaning you burn more calories. See, shoveling snow this winter is really helping Pennsylvanians to be healthier!

QUESTION — Verba Rowan, Whiteford, Md., would like to have the recipe for Heath Bar Cake.

QUESTION — Joanne Swords, Manheim, would like recipes for hasty pudding and for Cottleston pie. She thinks these are British recipes.

QUESTION — Robin O'Brien, Reading, would like a recipe for a hard candy with nuts called Mooshie. Robin also thanks Sarah Clark from Breezewood for sharing many of her wonderful recipes.

QUESTION — Karen Kinnane, Shartlesville, would like the following recipes: One for a bright red two-layer cake with a creamy white icing like that sold at a snack stand in Renninger's Antiques Market, Adamstown. One for homemade root beer or non-alcoholic ginger beer. One for a cold light as air lemon-flavored dessert served in tiny parfait glasses, which is called Lemon Melting Moments (not a pudding, but with the texture and weight of whipped cream, served in a fancy New York Restaurant in the 1970s).

QUESTION — Karen Kinnane, Shartlesville, would like a recipe for garlic ring bolonga; for clear cranberry jelly that can be molded in shapes; for a yeast bread shaped like a dragon, which is sold every year at an antique shop on Church Lane, N.J. Karen writes that she has never been able to even taste one because the baker only makes two and the "help" buy them before the sale opens. The dragon appears to have an egg wash which gives a shiny golden brown color and a raisin in the eye.

QUESTION — Mrs. Wayne L. Miller, Bruceton Miles, W. Va., would like recipes using cabbage, for oranges, and for coconuts. Also, she wants a recipe for a very rich cookie dough that is crisp but not hard, which may be iced between layers and served at weddings or on other special occasions and a recipe for frosting used on wedding or birthday cakes that is not greasy. She also wants more salad dressings made from scratch.

QUESTION — Louise Graybeal, Renick, W.Va., would like a recipe for pancake syrup that is light in calories.

QUESTION — I.M. Filler, Brookfield, Mass., would like a recipe for stuffed pumpkin or as one friend called it, Poor Man's Turkey. She thinks it is an old New England recipe.

QUESTION — Jean Nestler, Halifax, would like a recipe for lime gelatin and cottage cheese salad that was served at the Harvest House Restaurant in Colonial Park during the early 1970s.

QUESTION — Anne Wiegle, Pottstown, would like a recipe for pickled herring. She wrote that years ago, her family made it by cleaning, splitting, and deheading the herring. The fish was salted and packed in barrels. The fish juice leaked out and formed the brine. She needs to know the ratio of salt to pounds of fish.

QUESTION — Velma Winters, Manheim, would like a recipe for baked potato soup.

QUESTION — Anna Lehman, Hershey, would like a recipe for black walnut chipper cake.

QUESTION — Ruth Best, Newburg, wants recipes for diabetic jams and jellies of several different fruit flavors.

QUESTION — Marjorie Ludwig, Hegins, wrote that a few years ago a recipe was printed in this column for a compote filling that was hot and put into a hollowed-out pumpkin for serving. She mislaid the recipe and would like it again. Does anyone know to what recipe she is referring?

QUESTION — Becky Shires, Oxford, would like a recipe for lemon meringue cake. She had a piece at Miller's Smorgasbord near Lancaster recently. The layer cake had a filling between layers and pecans on the outside.

PEANUT BUTTER MUFFINS

1¼ cup flour
½ cup sugar
1 tablespoon double-acting baking powder
⅓ cup salad oil
½ cup raisins
¾ cup milk
½ cup peanut butter
½ teaspoon salt

Preheat oven to 400 degrees. Grease 12 2½ -inch muffin cups. In large bowl, with fork mix flour, sugar, baking powder, and salt. In medium bowl, beat milk, peanut butter, salad oil, and egg until smooth. Stir peanut butter mixture into flour mixture just until moistened. Do not overmix or muffins will be tough; batter should be lumpy. Stir in raisins. Spoon batter into prepared muffin pan cups, filling each cup until about ⅔ full. Bake muffins about 20 minutes or until well risen and golden. Check with toothpick inserted in center of muffin to see if clean and dry. Yield: 1 dozen muffins (210 calories per muffin).

Centre Co. Dairy Princess

QUICK ROLLS

1 package yeast dissolved in 2 cups warm water

Add:

½ cup shortening
1 egg
4 cups self-rising flour

Mix well. Put in refrigerator; when ready to cook, spoon into muffin pans. Fill each muffin tin about half full to make nice size roll. Put remaining dough in refrigerator and use as needed. Will keep about one week. Keep covered with a tight top.

SESAME BREAD

3 cups whole wheat flour
2½ teaspoons baking powder
½ cup toasted sesame seeds
⅔ cup sugar
¼ cup shortening
2 eggs
1 teaspoon grated lemon rind
1½ cups milk
1 tablespoon untoasted sesame seeds

Stir together flour, baking powder, and toasted sesame seeds. Cream sugar and shortening until fluffy and beat in eggs. Blend in the lemon rind and milk. Add all at once to dry ingredients. Stir only until blended.

Turn batter into greased loaf pan. Sprinkle the untoasted sesame seeds on top.

Bake at 350 degrees for 60-70 minutes. Serve with part skim milk ricotta cheese.

Penn State Extension

OATMEAL BREAD

2 cups boiling water
1 cup quick oats
½ cup whole wheat flour
½ cup brown sugar
1 tablespoon salt
2 tablespoons butter
1 package dry yeast
5 cups all-purpose flour
½ cup warm water

Pour boiling water over oats, whole wheat flour, sugar, salt, and butter. Cool until lukewarm. Dissolve yeast in ½ cup warm water. Add to batter enough flour to make a smooth elastic dough. Place in greased bowl and let rise until doubled in bulk.

Shape into two loaves and put in greased loaf pans. Bake at 350 degrees for about 30 minutes. Bread is done when a dull sound is heard when top is lightly patted.

Remove from pans. Grease with butter for a soft crust and cover with a cloth until cool.

If desired, use a little more brown flour and a little less white.

Lucy Martin
Narvon

ORANGE NUT BREAD

1 cup sugar
¼ cup water
½ cup slivered orange rind
¼ cup butter
1 cup fresh orange juice
2 eggs, slightly beaten
2¼ cups all-purpose flour
3 teaspoons baking powder
½ teaspoon baking soda
1 teaspoon salt
1 cup finely chopped walnuts

Combine sugar and water in saucepan. Add orange rind and cook, stirring occasionally until sugar dissolves. Cool over low heat an additional 5 minutes, continuing to stir. Remove from heat, add butter and stir until melted. Cool slightly. Add orange juice and eggs; mix well. Mix together flour, baking powder, baking soda, salt, and nuts. Add to orange mixture, stirring only until moistened. Pour into greased and waxed loaf pan. Let stand 20 minutes. Bake in 350 degree oven for 65-70 minutes; remove from pan and cool completely. Makes one loaf.

To prepared slivered orange rind, cut strips of rind from 2 to 3 oranges with vegetable peeler, then cut rind with scissors or knife into fine slivers.

JANE'S WHOLE WHEAT BREAD

1 package dry yeast
½ cup firmly packed brown sugar
3 teaspoons salt
¼ cup shortening
3 cups whole wheat flour
5 cups white bread flour

Soften yeast in ¼ cup warm water. Combine 2½ cups hot water, sugar, salt, and shortening. Cool to lukewarm. Stir in whole wheat flour and 1 cup white flour, beat well. Stir in yeast. Add enough remaining flour to make a soft dough. Turn onto lightly floured surface. Knead 10 to 12 minutes or until smooth and satiny.

Shape into ball. Place in lightly floured bowl, cover. Let rise about one hour and 30 minutes or until doubled in bulk. Punch down. Cut in two portions. Shape each into a smooth ball, cover. Let stand 10 minutes. Shape into two loaves. Place in greased loaf pans. Let rise about one hour and 15 minutes or until doubled in bulk. Bake at 375 degrees about 45 minutes. Cover with foil last 20 minutes, if necessary to keep from becoming too brown.

Jane Treichler
Kutztown

CHEESE BREAD

6 cups all-purpose flour
2 packages quick-rising yeast
1 tablespoon sugar
1 teaspoon salt
1 cup milk
⅔ cup butter, cut into 1-inch slices
4 eggs
2 cups shredded sharp Cheddar cheese
1¼ cup mashed potatoes

In large bowl, combine 2 cups flour, yeast, sugar, and salt. Mix well. In small saucepan over low heat, combine milk and butter; heat until butter melts. With mixwer at low speed, add to flour mixture; beat in eggs, occasionally scraping bowl with rubber spatula. Beat 3 minutes on high speed. With spoon, stir in cheese, potatoes, and 1½ cups flour. On floured surface, kneed in enough remaining flour to make moderately firm dough. Let stand 15 minutes. Roll into strips on greased cookie sheet or use bread pans for loaf. Bake at 375 degrees for at least 30 minutes, until lightly bronwed and springy to touch.

QUESTION — Andy Andrews, Brownstown, would like a recipe for pumpkin-flavored candy apples.

QUESTION — Do any readers have a recipe for homemade ice cream made with potatoes?

ANSWER — Ruth Ann Burke, York, wanted a recipe for Firehouse Potato Soup. She had clipped it from this paper several years ago and her family really liked it. Recently, her daughter requested it, but the recipe has been mislaid. Thanks to Pauline Martin, Narvon, for sending a recipe.

Firehouse Potato Vegetable Soup

2 10½ -ounce cans beef broth (bouillon)
2 cans water
1 pound ground beef
1 teaspoon salt
Dash pepper
3 medium potatoes, unpeeled
10-ounce package frozen mixed vegetables

In large saucepan, bring broth and water to a boil. Combine beef, salt, and pepper. Drop marble-sized meatballs into simmering broth. Slice potatoes ½ -inch thick. Add to broth along with mixed vegetables. Simmer 10 to 15 minutes or until potatoes are tender.

ANSWER — Mrs. Wayne L. Miller, Bruceton Miles, W. Va., wanted a recipe for pumpkin butter. Thanks to Nancy Kramer, Newmanstown, for the pumpkin butter recipe.

Pumpkin Butter

3½ cups cooked, mashed pumpkin
1 tablespoon pumpkin pie spice
1 box Sure Jell

Mix together in large kettle, bring to a boil. Add 4¼ cups sugar. Mix thoroughly and bring to a rolling boil. Boil one minute, stirring constantly. Place in jars and seal. Process 10 minutes in boiling water bath canner.

ANSWER — R.W. of Dayton, Va., wanted a recipe for Pizza Hut's bread sticks and deep dish pizza dough. Check the "Home On The Range" column on page B6.

Longwood Gardens Offers Continuing Education Classes

KENNETT SQUARE (Chester Co.) — About 2,000 enthusiastic amateur and professional gardeners are expected to participate in the spring Continuing Education Program at Longwood Gardens. The program begins on January 30 and continues through July 21, offering the public a wide variety of courses, evening lectures garden tours, and workshops in the magnificent horticultural environment of the former estate of Pierre S. du Pont near Kennett Square. A detailed brochure is available by calling 610-388-1000, ext. 516, weekdays 8 a.m.-4 p.m.

Four offerings are scheduled from Longwood's well-known Series I and II courses which ultimately lead to Certificates of Merit in Ornamental Plants. All emphasize the aesthetic and practical seasonal attributes of common as well as lesser-known plants that can form the framework for any garden. Instruction includes illustrated lectures and guided, on-grounds study walks that teach identification, culture, and landscape uses of many outstanding plants.

The Series I schedule begins on February 23 with Conifers, to be taught by Bill Thomas for seven weeks. Dr. Jim Ault teaches Deciduous Flowering Shrubs from April 13 through May 25.

The Series II schedule begins with Hardy Spring and Fall Flowering Bulbs, taught by Charles Cresson, which begins on August 11 and lasts seven weeks. Perennials II will be taught by Tina Ault in the week-long format from July 17 through July 21.

A variety of courses concerns the science of growing and using plants. Botany for Gardeners III - The Plant's Systems, taught by Jeff Jabco, is popular with both amateur and professional gardeners. The Garden Catalog, presented by Steve Frowine, vice president of White Flower Farm, will be held on March 8 and will feature a fascinating explanation of how this well-known nursery selects plants for its lavish catalog. On March 6, Ike Kerschner, Longwood's orchard specialist, begins Orchard Management: Fundamentals of Backyard Fruit Growing, a six-week course beginning March 6 through April 10, including a bus tour of local orchards on April 8.

Registrations are also being accepted for offerings in the plant specialties category. Bonsai Basics will be taught by Marv Allinson from March 22 through April 12. A popular all-day Bonsai Workshop, conducted by Doris Froning and Jack Billet, will be held April 29. Sharon Lovejoy, an herbalist and gardener from Cambria, California, will present Herbs as Ornamentals on June 21 and Children in the Garden, The Garden in the Child on June 22. Two hands-on workshops will be held in Longwood's Horticulture Department Potting Shed. Pat Nutt and Tim Jennings, Longwood's aquatic growers, will conduct a Water Gardening/Propagation Workshop on April 8. Mike Owen, Longwood's orchid grower, will present an Orchid Workshop on March 18 and again on March 25. On May 10 and again on May 11, Longwood curator Rick Darke will repeat his popular Native Plants in the Gardened Landscape, a three-hour guided tour of native plants in Longwood's public display.

Offerings in the art and design category include Plant Illustration taught by Joan Frain scheduled for April 26 through June 21. Anna B. Francis will repeat Drawing and Watercolor Painting for eight weeks beginning on March 16. Courses in the floral design category begin with Basic Floral Design, with instructor Judy McCabe, which will be offered as a six-week course beginning March 7. Judy will also teach Hand-tied Bouquets on February 28 and Garden Baskets Workshop on April 22. European Floral Design, with instructor Nancy Gingrich Shenk, will be taught for six weeks beginning April 18. Nancy will also teach Flowers in Water on February 7 and Minimal Flowers on March 25. All floral design courses have limited enrollment, so early registration is suggested.

Three gardens tours are planned for early spring. A Spring Bulbs Tour will highlight private gardens near Baltimore and Annapolis, Maryland. A Color in the Garden tour will feature private gardens in Pennsylvania and near Greenville, Delaware. An Upper Bank Tour will feature a brunch lecture followed by a tour of the little-known but unique private garden of Wirt and Sarah Thompson near Media, Pennsylvania.

Five evening events, held either in the conservatory Ballroom or Visitor Center Auditorium, begin at 7:30 p.m. and are followed by a dessert reception.

On January 30, Rosemary Verey, world-renowned garden writer, will present Ideas for Your Garden, an illustrated talk which will draw from her many years of design experience and vast knowledge of color and plant combinations.

On March 6, Barbara Hallowell, local gardener and photographer, will present Celebrating Ferns and Things Green, two delightful and exquisitely photographed presentations that will combine for a memorable evening.

Rick Darke will present Landscapes through the Lens on March 20. This non-technical session will critique images of native plants in natural landscapes and gardens to provide an exploration of the photographer's art.

On April 10, landscape designer David Wilson will present Italian Garden at Felicita - A Design/Build Project which will chronicle the problems and challenges he faced during the construction of a classic Italian garden located near Harrisburg, Pennsylvania.

Nancy Gingrich Shenk returns to the Longwood Ballroom on May 1 to present Entertaining With Flair II, a symposium-style lecture which will reveal all new ideas for floral designs that will add easy but elegant touches to any event.

On May 22, Gordon Collier still present an illustrated look at the rare and unusual plants in the gardens of Titoki Point, considered to be one of New Zealand's finest private gardens. This evening will also begin with a brief ceremony honoring the current Longwood Gardens Certificate of Merit in Ornamental Plants recipients.

Early registration is recommended as space in many of the courses is limited. For further information. including prices and a detailed schedule, contact the Continuing Education Office, Longwood Gardens, P.O. Box 501, Kennett Square, 19348-0501, or telephone (610) 388-1000 ext. 516, weekdays 8 a.m.-4 p.m.

Directory Available

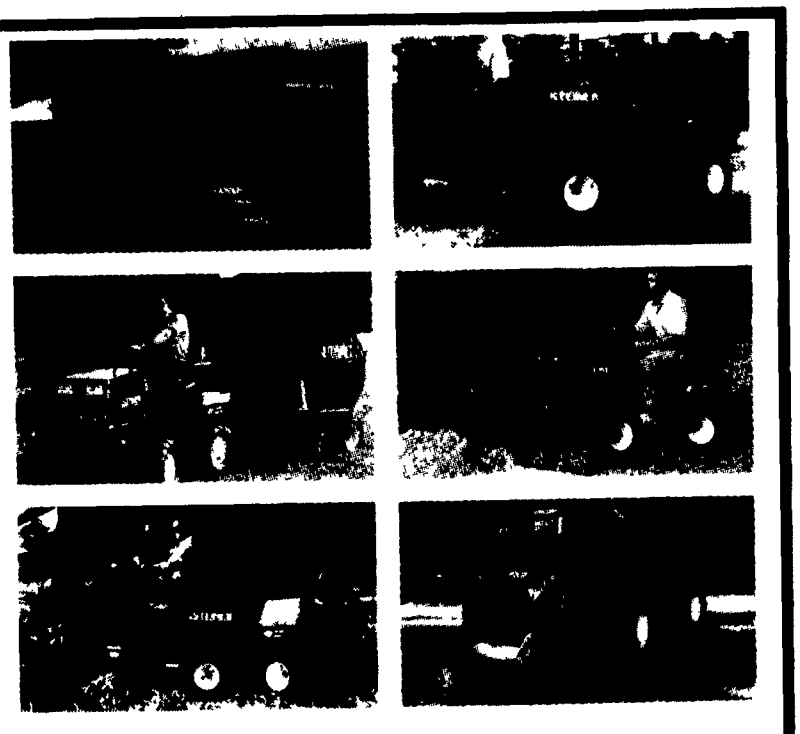
LANCASTER (Lancaster Co.) — The 1995 "Art and Craft Show Directory" for Lancaster County and Surrounding areas is now available. Published by the Market House Craft Center, The directory provides information for art and craft shows in the area. It is intended for people who are interested in exhibiting in the shows as well as for patrons who like to attend them. The booklet includes an index of shows by towns, which facilitates locating a specific show when the date is unknown. Each event is described with date, title, location, hours, special attributes, the number of exhibitors, the expected attendance, and the admission charge. Also given is information for potential exhibitors such as the fees, the requirements, and deadlines for applications and the contact person.

There is a $5 charge that covers postage, tax and printing costs. Directories may be ordered by sending a check or money order to: Market House Craft Center, P.O. Box 552, Lancaster, PA 17608.

Directories may also be picked up at the Market House Craft Center Monday, Tuesday, Thursday and Friday from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. The Craft Center is located in the lower level of Southern Market Center at the corner of Queen and Vine Streets in downtown Lancaster. Look for the sign over the steps on Vine Street. The Market House Craft Center is a nonprofit organization, and a Chapter of the PR Guild of Craftsmen. Call 717-295-1500 for more information.



It does everything but gather dust

The Steiner turf tractor is always doing something. Mowing. Moving dirt and snow. Aerating lawns. Sweeping. Chipping branches. Edging. Blowing and more. All it takes is a few minutes to change attachments and off you go doing what needs to be done.

It's a hard working machine with a hinged articulating frame. The smoothest riding turf tractor you'll ever sit on. A well crafted machine that simply doesn't like to sit around the garage. Test drive one for yourself at your local Steiner dealer.

Caught By The Camera At Pennsylvania Farm Show

Three-year-old Katie Gelnett models the dress that her grandmother, Charlotte Gelnett, made. It placed second. Charlotte also made the first-place wedding gown modeled by another granddaughter, Crystal Jones of Middleburg, and she was a prize-winning in the apple pie competition.

Aaron Corman practices lasso roping his cousin Greg Hammond. Aaron purchased the lasso at the Farm Show while waiting to show the family's cows in competition.

Ten-year-old Kate Seres is the lucky recipent of the chocolate ribbon that adorned one of the chocolate cake entries.

Rachel, 6, dons a sunbonnet at the Farm Show. She and her brother, Ryan, believe horses are the best thing to see at the Farm Show. The siblings are the children of Robert and Karen Skotnicke of Harrisburg.

Parents' energy levels wear out before the kids while traipsing around the Farm Show complex. Here Curtis Brown takes a break with sons Corey, 4, and Willy, 7. The Browns are from Rome in Bradford County.

Four-year-old Andy Gamble claims his favorite spot at the Farm Show. He is the son of Larry and Dorothy Gamble of Lititz.

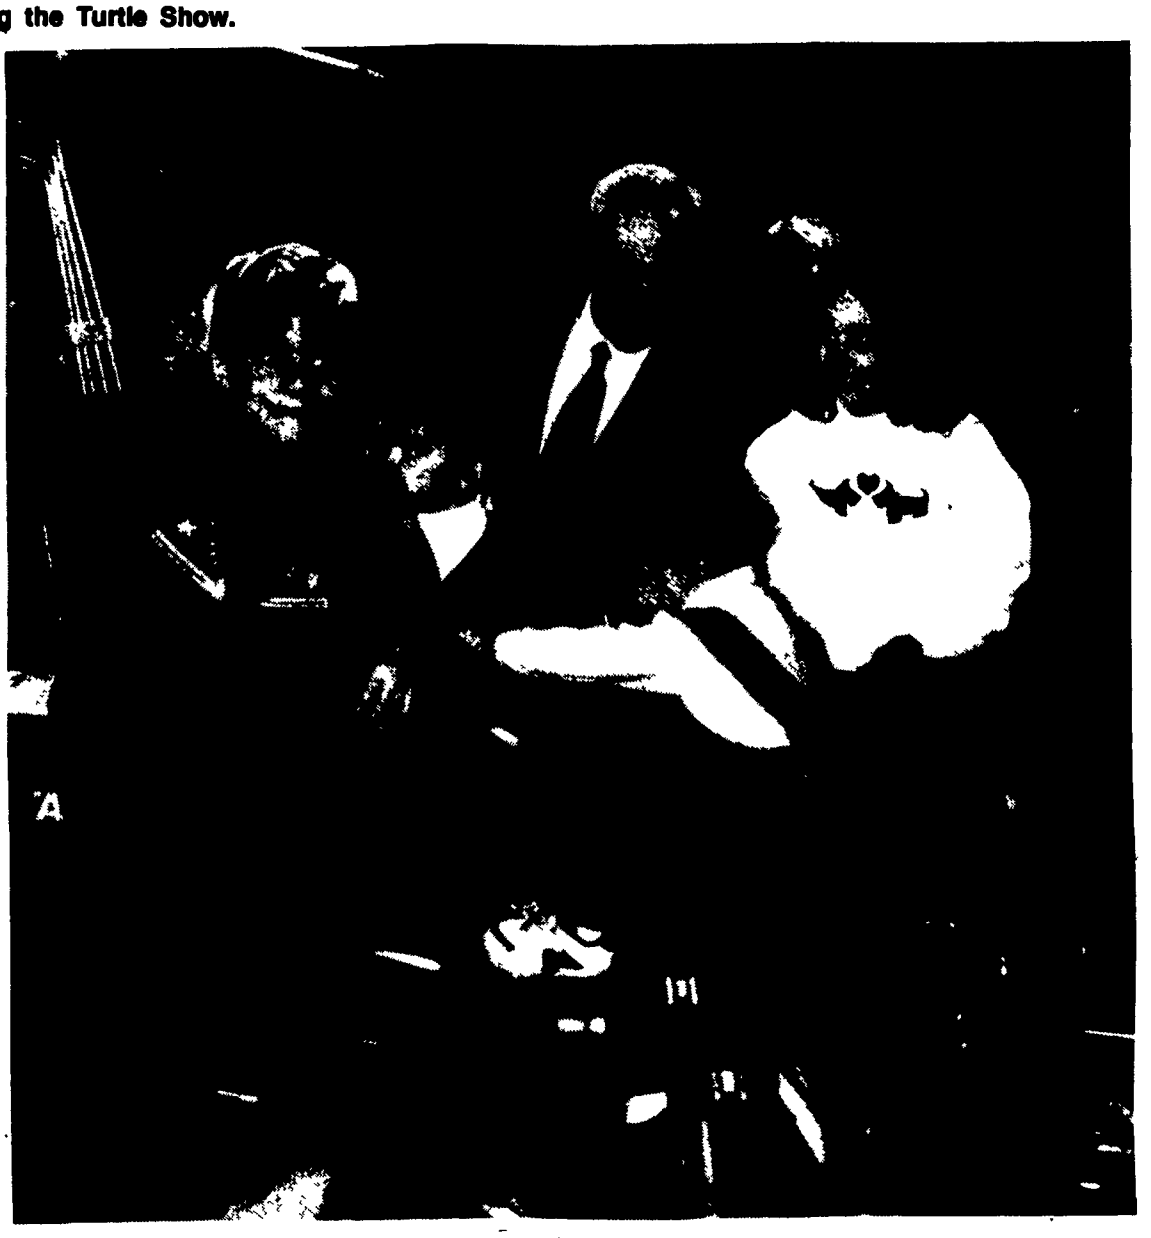
Farm Show visitors took advantage of the ice cream churn give-away at the Lancaster Farming booth. Signing up are James and Deborah Kohler and their children Scott, 11, and Melissa, 16.

Pennsylvania Fair Queen Beth Ann Paul represents 114 state fairs. The 19-year-old is from Reamstown and is a freshman at Lebanon Valley College.

Children and parents learn all about turtles during the Turtle Show.

Twins Melanie and Michelle hurried back from college to join their mother, Fran Bushong, at the Farm Show. The family has always been active in 4-H. The twins miss entering 4-H projects since schooling took them far from home. Melanie just received her degree as a veterinarian technician and Michelle is studying allied health at Pittsburgh. Fran leads the North Annville 4-H Club.



Gov. Robert Casey's grand children had a good time on the tractor while visiting the Farm Show last Saturday. If you and your family went to the farm write and tell us what you saw and did. The address is Kids Corner, % Lou Ann Good, Box 609, 1 East Main St., Ephrata, PA 17522.

Farm Women Unite To Carry Society's Ideals Into Future

LOU ANN GOOD

HARRISBURG (Dauphin Co.) — Members of the Society of Farm Women of Pennsylvania gathered for a one-day convention at the Forum on Monday.

Members approved some amendments to the by-laws, elected a treasurer and two directors to the state board, reviewed the year's accomplishments, and renewed friendships.

The by-law changes were primarily made to accommodate a changing membership since the organization's founding in 1914. Candidates for membership no longer need to live in a rural community but need to manifest a love for the farm and rural life. Rules for holding county and state offices are a bit more accommodating for those active in local and state levels.

Barbara Nissley of Lancaster was elected state treasurer to fulfill the term of Audrey Gilbert, who died of auto accident injuries in December. Newly-elected directors are Mary Pankake of Dauphin County and Grace Book of Perry County.

The organization has a membership of 3,016 from individual societies spread across the state. Awards were presented to the counties who achieved an increase in membership. These included Berks, 6; Cumberland, 7; Dauphin, 14; Greene, 17; Lancaster, 14; Lebanon, 4; Somerset, 16; and York, 22.

Although there was an increase of 100 members statewide, the society lost 124 members through deaths and resignations.

Despite Large York, Hamp Classes, Landrace Takes Supreme

ANDY ANDREWS
Lancaster Farming Staff

HARRISBURG (Dauphin Co.) — The swine judge called the Landrace March gilt exhibited by Grant A. Lazarus III "cash flow," and selected the gilt to be supreme champion hog at the Farm Show last week.

The champion hog competed against seven other breed types for the supreme honor, including large numbers of Yorkshire and Hampshire gilts.

Show judge Clyde Shaffer, a Duroc breeder who maintains about 3,500 sows of various breeds in Albany, Ind., chose the gilt shown by Lazarus, Germansville, LAG4 MS Warrior's Unique (S: RAF2 Warrior 30-11, D: LAG2 Unique Lag Nancy D 15-5). He said that producers should seek hogs that "grow to be productive," which translates into leaner hogs and "cash flow."

Length of body and ease of movement were evident in the hogs shown in the Landrace division, what Shaffer called a really impressive show.

Berkshire

Shaffer selected the January Berkshire gilt exhibited by Todd Bennecoff, Kutztown, TLB4 Miss Chopper (S: JWLO Chopper, D: TLB2 Ms. Klondike Bars) as grand champion of the Berkshire class. Reserve also was awarded to the Bennecoffs, with the March gilt, TLB4 Klon Boy (S: OHFO Klondike, D: PCSF2 Bee Bob), shown by Justine Bennecoff.

Shaffer told the exhibitors that it is important to do what is possible to "blow our horn" whenever we can in promoting the breed. He said the champion gilt was "level in the top, easy in movement, extremely athletic," and had a good underline. The reserve, which he said should "shove the breed forward," had some good size and scale to it.

Landrace champion and supreme champion swine went to Grant Lazarus III, center. With him is his father, Grant, left and grandfather Calvin Lazarus.

Duroc champion went to David Holloway.

Hampshire champion was shown by Todd and Cheryl Bennecoff.

Berkshire champion went to Cheryl and Todd Bennecoff.

Chester White

Shaffer told the breeders that is important to "use records and computers and really go at this thing" of promoting more long, big, and lean animals. The problem inherent with many Chester Whites is getting them big enough to use in a cross to get the "blend" the packer wants.

Shaffer chose the first place February gilt, shown by James Parlett, Airville, TM4 Ann T.II 6-7 S94 (S: TM2 Tarheel 5-2 F92, D: TM2 Ann D.R. 11-3 F92), as champion Chester White. He said the gilt exhibited the "length of body and looseness of structure," with good underlines. Shaffer picked the reserve champion shown by Scott Lazarus, Germansville, SL4 SL Paydays SPW TKO10 (S: P&R0 1A BMW 8-5, D: SL1 Paydays SPW TKO 10), a January gilt, because it has "some size and scale to make these hogs bigger."

In all, Shaffer commented favorably on the good underlines shown in all the Chester White classes.

Duroc

Shaffer told the exhibitors that they should stop the "infighting" that often goes along between breeders, and "look at what's coming in these big hogs down the road that are long and lean," he said. "The packer today is calling the shots. Do I like it? No, but that's the way it is." He said that, in years to come, there will be a a "very, very competitive customer at the meat case."

The swine judge chose the Duroc gilt shown by David Holloway, Glen Rock, a February gilt, DCH4 MS Strongbox (S: Mayo Gambler, D: DCH0 MS Strongbox) as grand champion. He told the breeders and exhibitors that we must "see the mobility and athletic ability that we must have in the hogs to compete."

Shaffer said the reserve was "very close" to being grand, because of its ease of movement and leanness down the top. It exhibited everything that made the hogs best — leanness, growth, ease of movement. Shaffer selected the March gilt shown by David Holloway, SL4 SL Paydays SPW TKO10 (S: P&R 1A BMW 8-5, D: SL1 SL Paydays SPW TKO 10), as reserve.

Spotted champion was shown by Russell Kegg, Rusty Acres.

Chester White champion was shown by James Parlett.

He told those exhibiting and watching the show to "take notes" about what they see, and asked them to help make the sale on Saturday the biggest sale ever.

Hampshires

Shaffer said that, this being America, when we go home, we can "do whatever we want." But that kind of thinking may make it hard for us to sell a product. The industry wants "leanness and mobility" in its hogs, and Shaffer decided on the February Hampshire gilt shown by Todd Bennecoff, Kutztown, TTB4 Leo Bells (S: WB2 Leo, D: TTB1 Miss Belgian) as grand champion of the Hampshire class.

Reserve also went to the Bennecoffs with the February gilt, TTB4 Miss Leomaze (S: WB2 Leo, D: TTB2 Amazing Don). The reserve gilt had the length and underlines necessary to make it successful.

Landrace

Shaffer said that the hogs that exhibit the length of body and ease of movement and that become productive translate into "cash flow" for breeders. Shaffer picked the March gilt shown by Grant Lazarus, LAG4 MS Warrior's Unique (S: RAF2 Warrior 30-11, D: LAG2 Unique Lag Nancy D 15-5), Germansville.

Shaffer picked the gilt he said he liked "real, real well," and that could provide "a belly full of pigs" shown by Lazarus out of the January gilt class, LAG4 MS Warrior's Unique (S: RAF2 Warrior 30-11, D: LAG2 Unique Lean Nancy D), as reserve.

Polands

The Poland division reminded Shaffer of when he went to shows as a child with his grandfather. Then, said the swine judge, the "Polands were really, really hard to beat." Those same traditions continue with the ones at the Farm Show ring, which show he stretch and length of body necessary to the industry.

Shaffer chose the January gilt shown by Todd Bennecoff Jr., CAB4 Bal Crue (S: CAB2 S Pete Cruiser, D: CAB2 S Double Balance), Kutztown, as grand champion. The reserve, "most like the grand," said Shaffer, also went to the Bennecoffs, shown by Justine, a February gilt, CAB4 S Bal-Krug (S: LPF3 S Hickory Krugarand, D: CAB3 S).

Yorkshire champion was awarded to Leon Arnold.

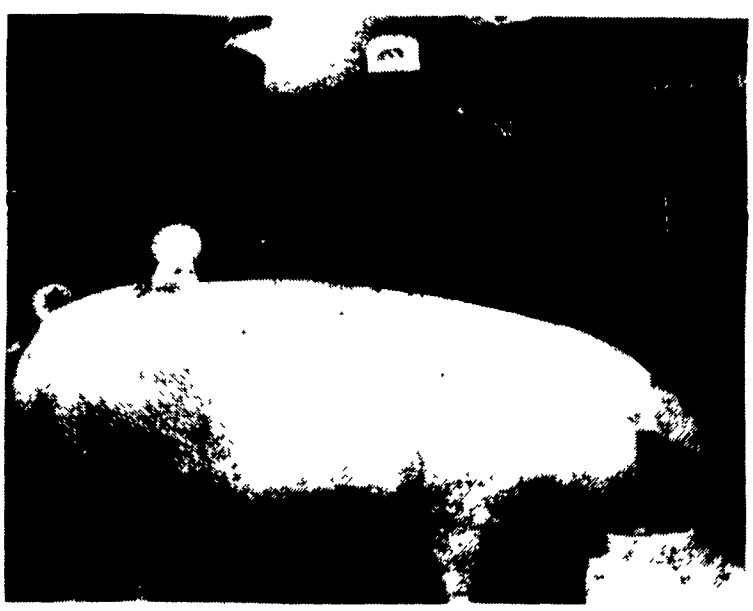
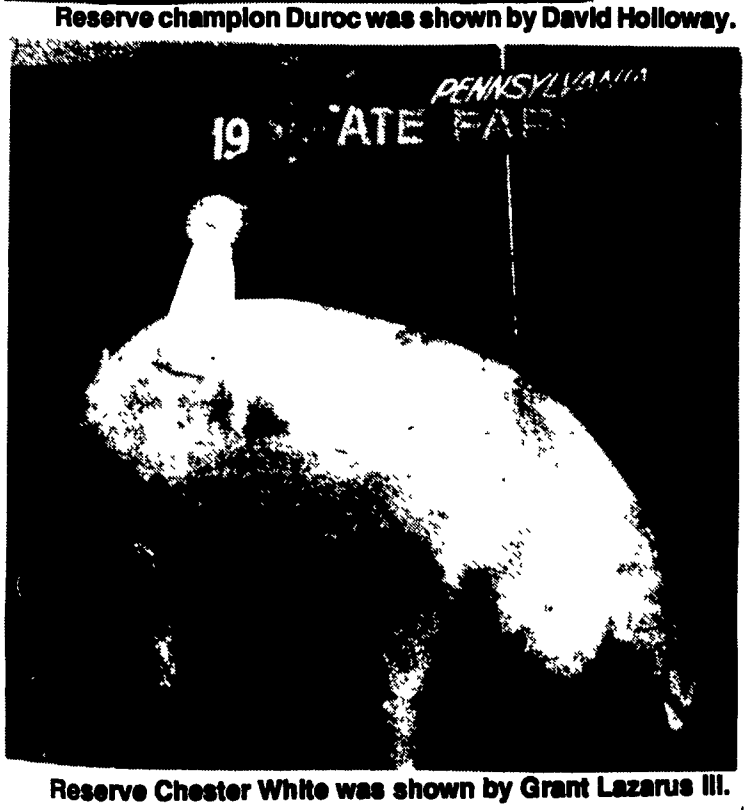
Reserve champion Berkshire went to Cheryl and Todd Bennecoff.

Reserve Spotted was shown by Ginger Kegg.



Reserve champion Landrace went to Calvin Lazarus, right and Grant Lazarus III.

Reserve champion Duroc was shown by David Holloway.



Reserve Chester White was shown by Grant Lazarus III.

Reserve champion Hamsphire was shown by Cheryl and Todd Bennecoff.

Spotted

Shaffer selected what he considered the biggest animal of the Spotted division as grand champion.

The champion gilt was exhibited by Russell Kegg, of Rusty Acres, Bedford. The January gilt was RA4 Gretchen (S: RA2 Payroll 34-1, D: RAO Gretchen 24-5). The reserve of the division went to the March gilt shown by Ginger Kegg, Rusty Acres, RA4 Misty (S: RA3 Keystone 15-3, D: RA3 Misty 22-8).

Yorkshire

Breeders should use a bred sow that will fit into your program, according to the judge. The Yorkshire is the breed that is best for dual-purpose uses (terminal and maternal). Shaffer selected the February gilt shown by Leon Arnold, Lebanon, LLA4 Ag Arena 28-2 (S: BRO2 G.W. OH!! 28-6, D: LLA1 Ag Arena 6-7) as champion. The reserve champion, a March gilt, also went to Leon Arnold, for LLA4 Ag Arena 33-13 (S: BRO2 G.W. OH!! 28-6, D: LLA1 Ag Arena 51-2).

Shaffer told the exhibitors to work on the leanness. "Work on leanness and you'll have a great, great future."

Following is a list of show placings.

Wool Wizards Spin Magic To Capture Top Prize At Sheep To Shawl

HARRISBURG (Dauphin Co.) — The Wool Wizards captured top honors in the 13th Annual Sheep to Shawl contest held at the 79th Pennsylvania State Farm Show.

The Wool Wizards consisted of Chris Herr of Harrisburg, shearer; Tom Knisley of Dover, weaver and recipient of the $25 Weaver's Award; Kathy Graham of Hershey, spinner; and the mother and daughter team of Carolyn and Kelli Peyser of Middletown, both spinners.

The team has been competing for six years with four grand championships during the Farm Show. They also have various victories in Elizabethtown, Lancaster, and Dillsburg.

"We missed last year," said Carolyn Peyser. "We thought we'd make a comeback this year, so this was one way to do it."

Four teams competed in this year's contest. To be eligible for the competition, a team must do one demonstration and one competition per year.

Second place went to Woolie and Wild Spinners and Weavers. The team consisted of Peter Brummer, shearer and Champion Shearer Award Winner; Harold Schwanger, weaver; and SueEllen Gates, Elaine Brandt, and Lynn C. Zerphey, all spinners. This team also received the Premium Spinning Group Award.

Third place went to the team of Weave Made It. Bruce Weikle was the team's shearer; Sue Shelly was the weaver; Nancy Hopkins, Debie Hunsberger, and Sue Lyons were the team's spinners.

The Butler County Pedalers took fourth place, despite having the first shawl completed. Members of the team were Dean Sherwin, shearer; Blanche Hall, weaver; Linda Gross, Donna Long and Rayah Guthrey, spinners.

In addition to the premiums awarded to the teams, special awards are given for innovation of design, color, and skill of the weaver, the quality of the workmanship and cooperative spirit of the three spinners within the team, the skill and handling of the sheep by the shearer, and for the fleece used.

Immediately following the judging of the shawls, each was auctioned off to the public. The winning shawl was purchased by Dory Szeles of Harrisburg for $350. "I bought the shawl because it was our ,sheep that was Sheared," said Szeles. Her sheep, Matilda, contributed a new display item for the Szeles' family living room.

The second place shawl was purchased by Alfred and Donna Rovenolt, Jr., Turbotville. The couple paid $175 and Donna plans to wear the shawl when she rides in the 6-Horse Hitch. Kyra Krombein of Harrisburg purchased the third place shawl for $170 and Linda Davis of Manchester bought the fourth place shawl for $175. Also, the demonstration shawl was auctioned and bought by Suzanne Bachert of Myerstown, Lebanon County, for $170.

Philadelphia Flower Show

PHILADELPHIA, (Philadelphia Co.) — Artificial ruins sparkle in the Roman sun. Dreamlike stone sculptures hover and form an otherworldly garden path. Reality gives way to enchantment when the Philadelphia Flower Show presents "Moments in Time...A Galaxy of Gardens," March 5-12, at the Philadelphia Civic Center.

Visitors will embark on a journey through time and the garden when the 1995 Flower Show celebrates 30 years at the Civic Center with a nostalgic look at the popular horticultural practices of the past and new gardening horizons of the future.

Following the patio of time and the sun, a quintet of garden settings in the Show's 7,000 square foot central feature exhibit captures the imagination and holds captive live fascinating moments in time.

For those seeking the advice of experts, a talented group of accomplished flower arrangers and gardening enthusiasts will conduct free lectures and demonstrations throughout Show week. Visitors can recreate some of the Show's displays at home with purchases from the Show Marketplace. More than 100 purveyors of plants, garden supplies and handcrafted wares offer a shopping extravaganza within the Show complex.

The Pennsylvania Horticultural Society's Philadelphia Flower Show will be held March 5–12; 10 a.m.–6 p.m., Sundays; 10 a.m.–9:30 p.m., Monday through Saturday. Tickets are available at the door, $12.50 for adults; $6.25 for children under 12. Group tickets are available in advance through the Pennsylvania Horticultural Society, 325 Walnut Street, $11.75 for adults (minimum order $117.50). # Get Out Of Debt

HONESDALE (Wayne Co.) — Are the holiday bills beginning to pile up? Do you hate to open the mail box because you know more Christmas bills will be waiting for you? Do you feel like you're drowning in a sea of bills?

If you do, you're not alone says Debra Bryant, Penn State Extension Agent in Wayne County. About 110 million Americans have 950 million credit cards — almost nine cards per person. The average American charges almost $4,000 a year and carries a balance of about $1,850.

During the Christmas season, Americans use their VISA card over 200 million time—about 5,500 times every minute—and this is only one of the many hundreds of cards available like Mastercard, American Express and Discover, etc.

Money causes more arguments than any other family problem including jobs, children and relatives. One in six families has a credit card problem.

If credit payments have you down, if you'd like to learn how to get out of debt faster then mark this date on your calendar, Tuesday, January 17th A Getting Out of Debt Workshop will be held that evening at 7:30 p.m. in the Extension Meeting Room, Courthouse, 925 Court St., Honesdale. Seating is limited so call 717-253-5970 extension 239 fundraisers and activities for the year.

Naomi Bupp reported that the "Society of Farm Women Cookbook" is continuing to sell well. She presented a $5,000 check to be turned over to the scholarship fund.

The Society presents annual scholarships to students pursuing degrees in home economics and ag-related studies and who have a mother or grandmother who is a member of the society. This year's scholarships winners are Amy Fyock, Lancaster County; Kristin Groff, Lancaster County; Christine Habecker, Lebanon County; David Creamer, Somerset County; and Richard Bupp, York County.

Pennsylvania Dairy Princess Natalie Welch performed a skit for the audience and reminded members that "clothes change, attitudes change, and people change, but what you eat and do now depends on what your mind and body will be later."

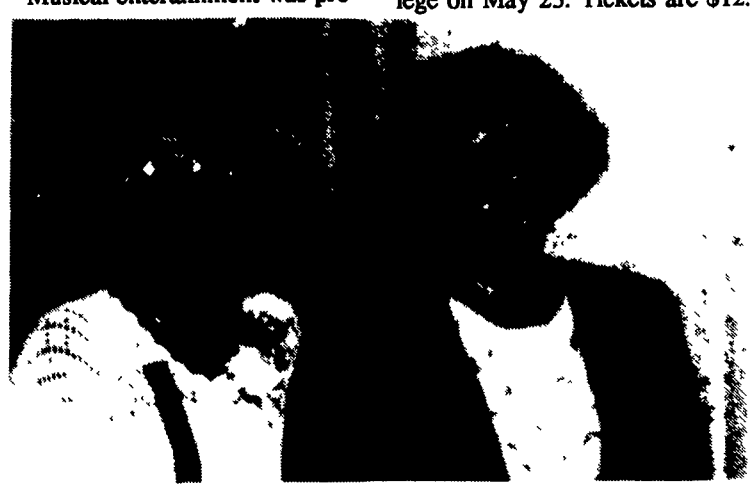
Society member Mary Rossman, renowned story teller, gave a tragic account of two boys who died near her home in 1856.

Other society members provided musical entertainment. Helen Williamson sang with piano accompaniment by Trudy Reichard. Group singing was led by Joyce Schott.

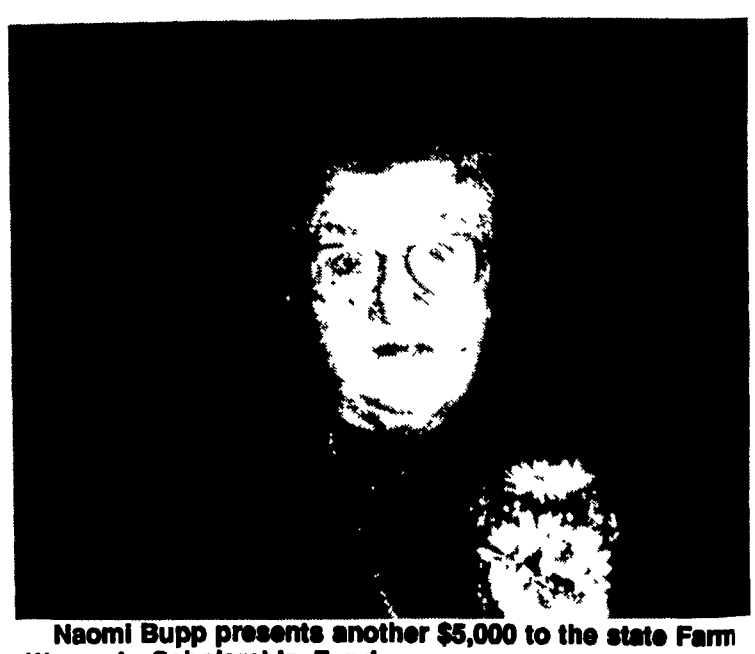
The annual banquet was held at the Penn Harris Motor Inn in the evening.

Musical entertainment was provided "The Generations," a three-generation family from Cumberland County. Grandmother Neva Barrick, her son Tim Barrick, father of two sons and a milk truck driver, and his sister Amy Long with two sons and two daughters sang about Pennsylvania's people, places, and things.

Members were told to make reservations now for the Spring Rally scheduled at Dickerson College on May 23. Tickets are $12.



Ushers for the banquet are Carolyn Bricker of Franklin County and Diane Lehman of Franklin County.



Naomi Bupp presents another $5,000 to the state Farm Women's Scholarship Fund.

Farm Women Profiles

LOU ANN GOOD
Lancaster Farming Staff

LANCASTER (Lancaster Co.) — "I belong to many community organizations, but Farm Women is my favorite — I'll never give it up," said Pat Lehman, president of the Cumberland County Society.

Pat said that she was a city girl when she fell in love with a farmer.

"I shed may tears, did a lot of stomping and slamming doors," Pat said of her adjustment to farm work.

But today, Pat loves the farm. It's her job to take care of the calves on the 96-acre farm, which has been in the Lehman family since 1843.

Of those early days on the farm, Pat said, "The first time I helped deliver a calf I cried and said I couldn't stand it. My husband made me turn backward to pull so I wouldn't have to watch.

"I'm probably the only woman in the county who drove tractor while wearing a bikini because I didn't want to give up my tan and I didn't have time to lay in the sun," Pat said.

Pat considers the Society of Farm Women was her salvation. "I joined about four years after my marriage and they were the biggest help."

Pat said that in other organizations, you can hardly get anyone to help with the work. "But a Farm Women member can be crippled and using a walker yet she will still bake a pie and sticky buns for a fundraiser."

She asked, "Where else can you find anyone feeding calves, taking care of the house, and finding time to help others? It's an unique group. It's too bad every state doesn't have a Farm Women's Society."

HARRISBURG (Dauphin Co.) — Hannah Bender became a member of Cambria County Farm Women in 1943. She was county president three terms and a state director for three years.

She said, "I haven't met a Farm Woman yet that I didn't like. There's no bickering or arguing in the group."

The Farm Women's theme song is "Brighten the Corner Where You Are."

Not only do they work together as a group to brighten corners, but also individually.

Since 1980, Hannah travels almost every year to Haiti or Nigeria to brighten corners.

After her husband died 21 years ago, Hannah moved home with her mother since Hannah's own children were married and on their own.

She decided to accompany some church friends on a mission trip to Haiti. There, she learned to sing in Creole and became part of a musical group to present programs and to teach Bible classes.

Hannah felt her time spent in Haiti was profitable so she returned for 10 to 12 days annually.

In 1983, she went to Nigeria, Africa to teach Bible School for two months. In Nigeria, English is the official language so Hannah had no trouble communicating with the people.

Last year, Hannah joined a medical team for a trip to Haiti. She assisted the doctors in giving medication to patients. This year, she is again traveling to Haiti with the medical team.

"I prayed a lot about it and it seems as if I have a calling," Hannah said.

It's a financial sacrifice for Hannah, but she said that she's frugal in other areas and some friends and relatives help out financially with the expenses of the trips.

The Farm Show Opens With Governor's Tour

Gov. Casey gives the opening address in the large arena.

EVERETT NEWSWANGER
Managing Editor

HARRISBURG (Dauphin Co.) — For the 8th consecutive year Pennsylvania's Governor Robert Casey officially opened the Farm Show, this year to a large arena full of spectators ready for the High School Rodio that was to follow. But this is Casey's last year to officially visit the Farm Show as governor because Governor-Elect Tom Ridge will take office on January 17.

For this reason, Gov. Casey used the ocassion to remind everyone that a lot of changes have taken place from the time when the Farm Show opened in 1917 with no animals and exhibits scattered over the city. Only 5,000 people came to that first event.

Even in the last two years many improvements have been made at the Farm Show Complex. A new $2.8 million roof is overhead, the lighting system is new and now excellent, and heating and ventilation are also improved. In addition a new building has been added that contains two floors for exhibits and demonstrations.

In all, $10 million worth of improvements have been made and Gov. Casey called these improvements "an investment in our future, our children, and our economy."

Eight million dollars are generated each year in product sales and the farm show is central to this great family of Pennsylvania," Casey said. "If you see the farm show, you see the real Pennylvania."

Gov. Casey also announced the release of the $5.6 million for construction of the new animal health labortory to be constructed beside the Pennsylvania Department of Agriculture building across from the Farm Show.

"We must protect the largest and most profitable part of Pennsylvania agriculture," Casey said. "I'm talking about the sale of milk, meat, and poultry. Sixty-eight percent of farmer's income involves animals. Animal agriculture returns $2.5 billion to the farmers of the Commonwealth. It makes sense for one of our concerns to be animal health."

Gov. Casey said construction will begin this summer and the new lab will be a source of improved security against the threat posed by disease.

Secretary of Agriculture Boyd Wolff introduced Gov. Casey as a man "Pennsylvania will quietly record as a true friend of agriculture. In the vanackular of the farm show, Gov. Casey is a blue ribbon

Cook's • Question • Corner

ANSWER — Mrs. Lewis Kofron, Claymont, Del., wanted a recipe for Philadelphia sticky buns. Thanks to Alta Martin, Denver, and Wilma Epler, Middletown, for sending recipes.

Royal Philadelphia Cinnamon Buns

1 cup sugar
4½ cups flour
1 teaspoon salt
8 teaspoons baking powder
4 teaspoons cinnamon
4 tablespoons shortening
2 eggs
1 cup water
8 tablespoons raisins

Sift 4 tablespoons sugar with flour, salt, and baking powder. Rub shortening in lightly. Add beaten eggs to water and add slowly to dry ingredients to make a soft dough. Roll ¼ -inch thick on floured board. Brush with melted butter, sprinkle with sugar, cinnamon, and raisins. Roll as for jelly roll.

Cream 6 tablespoons butter with 1 tablespoon brown sugar and spread on bottom and sides of iron baking pan or skillet. Cut dough in 2-inch pieces, place with cut edge up in 425 degree oven about 25 minutes. Remove from pan, turning upside down to serve.

Philadelphia Cinnamon Buns

1 package yeast
¼ cup warm water
1¼ cups scalded milk
1 teaspoon salt
1 tablespoon sugar
5 cups sifted flour
½ cup shortening
¾ cup sugar
2 eggs
Brown sugar
Softened butter
Raisins
Cinnamon
Pecans
Corn syrup

Dissolve yeast in water. Prepare pans. Use three 9-inch round or square cake pans. Butter them lavishly, pour in your favorite syrup ¼ -inch deep. Sprinkle a few pecans over it. Add salt and 1 tablespoon sugar to milk and scald. Let cool to lukewarm. Stir in yeast and gradually beat in 2 cups of the flour. Beat it hard and set aside until bubbly. Meanwhile, beat shortening, ¾ cup sugar, and eggs until light. Beat the shortening mixture into yeast mixture, 1 tablespoon at a time. Then add remaining 3 cups flour. Let stand until doubled. Divide in thirds. Roll into a rectangle ¼ -inch thick. Spread with butter, sprinkle with brown sugar and raisins. Trail syrup over it. Beginning at the long end, roll like a jelly roll. Cut into ¾ -inch wide pieces and place (cut side up) barely touching in prepared pans. Cover and let raise until doubled. Bake at 350 degrees for 35 or 40 minutes or until browned. Let cool 5 minutes or so and turn upside down on a plate larger than the pan. Let set a minute and remove pan.

Wilma Epler writes: I've made these for bake sales and they go fast. I got this recipe many years ago from my aúnt who was a guidance counselor in Philadelphia. The recipe seems long but is fun to make and very good. Enjoy!

ANSWER — A reader wanted a recipe for raised cakes that her grandmother made years ago. Thanks to Gertrude Haas, Lenhartsville, for sending the sweet cakes recipe.

Sweet Cakes

2 cups granulated sugar
3 eggs
1 cup cooked mashed potatoes
1 cup potato water
1 cup milk, heated to lukewarm
1 cup butter
1 teaspoon salt
1 package dry yeast dissolved in ½ cup warm water

Combine sugar, potatoes, potato water, butter, and salt; cool to lukewarm. Add eggs and dissolved yeast and mix until all ingredients are combined, then add about 6-8 cups flour to make a sponge (stirring well). Let rise in cool place for 6-8 hours overnight. Note: dough will be bubbly. After sponge has set, add 6-8 more cups flour, mixing well after each addition, make a stiff dough and knead until smooth. Let rise in a warm place until nearly doubled and punch down and let rest for 10 minutes.

Shape in round loaves about 6-inches and place in small greased pie pans and let rise until nearly doubled, then brush with melted butter and place either the crumbs or topping on top.

Crumbs:
½ cup soft butter
1¼ cup flour
½ cup granulated sugar

Combine and place on top of the raised cakes and bake at 350 degrees for 20 to 30 minutes.

Sugar-Butter Mixture:
¾ cup flour
¼ cup sugar
¼ cup butter

Water to make the above ingredients stick together, combine the above and place about teaspoon-sized blobs on raised cakes (the above combination melts when baked and makes a topping).

Gertrude writes that is a very old recipe that was given to her without any directions, just ingredients listed. It is important that the cakes raise nearly doubled after shaped, this will make them very light in texture.

ANSWER — A Lancaster County reader wanted a recipe for pepper jelly made with Karo or white corn syrup. Thanks to A. Martin, Denver, who said that she received a jar of red and a jar of green pepper jelly from her friend Nancy Prestidge. Although the recipe does not require Karo syrup, she thinks it may be substituted for the sugar. This is the recipe. (Although hot peppers are used, the jelly does not taste hot).

Pepper Jelly

¼ cup chopped or ground red or green hot peppers
1½ cup chopped or coarsely ground green or red sweet peppers
6½ cups sugar
1½ cups vinegar
1 bottle liquid pectin

Grind peppers on fine blade of food grinder or food processor. Mix peppers, sugar, and vinegar and bring to brisk boil for 3 minutes; add pectin — boil one minute longer.

Remove from heat, let set 5 minutes. Put in hot sterilized jars and seal. (Jelly may be strained if desired).

LEADERSHIP AT WORK™

sey ayd Wolff, secretary of agriculture (back right) r of th y grand children. The Casey family were guest Wolf e opening day ceremonies last Saturday.

The Farm Show Opens

governor."

Wolff was also the featured speaker at the Farm Show Banquet held in the downtown Hilton Saturday evening. And since this is Wolff's last year in office he also used the opportunity to reminisse about his first trip to the Farm Show as an eight-year-old boy with his father. They took the train from Greensburg in Westmoreland County. This was pre-turnpike.

Wolff also talked about his last eight years as secretary. He said he was disappointed the tax reform referendum didn't pass and that all the milk promotion groups had not agreed to work as one organization.

On the pleased side, Wolff listed the advancement in farmland preservation and the accreditation of the third animal health diagnostic system in Pennsylvania that includes Penn State, The University of Pennsylvania, and the new lab soon to be built in Harrisburg.

In addition to a sympathic governor, Wolff said agriculture was fortunate to have support from both sides of the aisle in the legislature.

In the annual agribusiness achievement awards presented at the banquet, Heritage Wine Celars Inc. of North East, Erie was the winner in companies with sales less than $5 million. Heritage was founded in 1978, but family traditions of wine making and agriculture go back to 1833. They have received awards both nationally and internationally for high quality American wines. The company experienced a 130 percent growth rate during each of the past two years.

In the awards division over $5 million both Farmer's Pride, Inc. of Fredricksburg, Lebanon County and Oglevee Ltd., Inc. of Connellsville, Fayette County were recognized.

Farmers Pride produces premium quality, fresh, all natural chicken and chicken parts for over 100 wholesale and retail distribution channels located in the eastern half of the United States. The company is dedicated to the production of premium poultry products and excellent customer value. Farmers Pride chicken is free of preservatives, artificial coloring, growth hormones, and animal by-products.

Oglevee was founded in the 1880s as a nursery operation. Over the years it diversified into retail vegetable and greenhouse flower production. The company has grown to become the largest producer of cutting geraniums in North America. Oglevee currently offers commercial growers the widest variety of colors and types of zonal, ivy and regal geranium cuttings available.

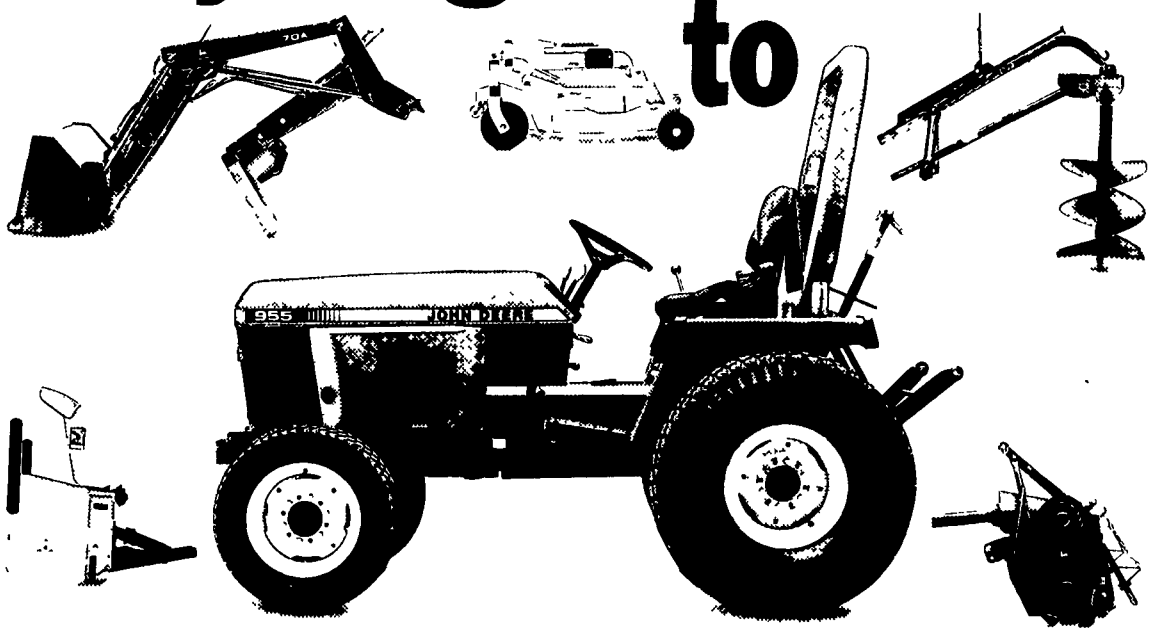
Easy to get attached to



Our 18.5- to 38.5-hp compact utility tractors let you hook up any of more than two dozen implements in about five minutes—without tools. And—with dual PTO controls—they let you run implements separately or simultaneously. Or better still, run the loader, mower, or tiller without detaching either of the other two. Get attached to a John Deere soon.

You Ask — You Answer

This column is for readers who have questions but don't know whom to ask for the answers.

"You Ask — You Answer" is for non-cooking questions. When a reader sends in a question, it will be printed in the paper. Readers who know the answer are asked to respond by mailing the answer, which will then be printed in the paper.

Questions and answers to this column should be addressed to You Ask — You Answer, Lou Ann Good, P.O. Box 609, Ephrata, PA 17522.

QUESTION — Roland Kamoda, Monongahela, would like to know how to pluck a duck or goose and dress it. Also, how can one tell the difference between a young duck and a young goose?

QUESTION — Norman Babcock, Friendsville, would like to know where to buy a French-style string bean cutter.

QUESTION — A faithful reader in New York would like a recipe to make non-edible gingerbread men, which has white glue as an ingredient.

QUESTION — A faithful New York reader would like a wholesale source for goose feathers to use to make old-fashioned feather Christmas trees.

QUESTION — Henry F. Stoltzfus, Gordonville, wonders where Timex or other wind-up watches with glow-in-the-dark spots can be gotten. Can be new or used.

QUESTION — Edgar Jackson, Ligonier, would like to know how to puff wheat, rice, and corn for making cereal.

QUESTION — Martha Hertzler, West Salisburg, would like an address to know where to send for a gasket for a stainless steel Flex-Seal pressure cooker Model 908, which is made by Vischer Products Company, Chicago.

QUESTION — Helen Mill, Honesdale, would like to purchase new or used butchering knives, which must be good with 6-10-inch blades.

QUESTION — Spurgeon Kimmel, Wellsville, would like to know where to obtain several pounds of raw goose fat.

QUESTION — Tom Hicswa, Hammonton, N.J., would like to purchase sheet metal parts for a Case tractor model 300B made about 1960. He wants a grille, gas tank cover, etc. Please send information to Hicswa at Box 2169 Elwood R1, Hammonton, N.J.

QUESTION — Nate Levine, Flemington, N.J., needs a source for parts to a Prizer #100 cookstove manufactured by Prizer-Painter of Reading, Pa. The company no longer carries parts for it.

QUESTION — Evelyn Michaels, Beaver, asks if anyone remembers Ole Oid, a type of linament made by Dr. Peter Farhney and Sons Company in N.Y. City. It contained camphor, oil of cloves, sassafras, and turpentine. The Swedish/Finnish community in Tioga County used it widely from the 1930s to the 1960s. Evelyn has asked telephone operators in the calling areas 212, 718, 917, and 914, for telephone listings for the company but no listing exists in those areas. Does anyone know a supplier?

ANSWER — L.C. Reider wanted an address and telephone number for Acme Supreme Juicerator of Lemonyne. Thanks to Myrtle Shenk, Manheim, who wrote that Lemoyne was only a sales office for training personell. The address for the factory iwas Acme Juicer Mfg. Co. Sierra Madre, California. Weaver's Health Food Store in Manheim sold them. Call 717 665-6871, they may be able to help.

ANSWER — John Stadier, Farmingville, N.Y., wanted to know where to purchase a used poultry picker (any condition) suitable for turkeys. Thanks to Ralph Shellhamver, Lehighton, who writes that he has a poultry picker in good condition. Call him at (717) 386-4435.

AGCO ALLIS 8600 SERIES TRACTORS

36 SPEED CHOICES

AGCO Allis 8600 Series tractors give you 36 speed choices, an electronic engine speed governor and many other quality performance features, as well as a comprehensive 4-year/4,000-hour warranty

- Speed choices for all conditions. The standard synchropower transmission offers 24 forward and 12 reverse speeds. An optional power Hi-Lo transmission boosts that to 36 speeds both forward and reverse. Both 8600 Series models are AWD with planetary final drive, and a self-adjusting, hydraulically-actuated clutch.
- The air- and oil-cooled engine advantage. The 8600 Series tractors feature the high-output, 6-cylinder, air- and oil-cooled diesel engine that eliminates components that cause downtime in liquid-cooled engines. The 8610 model has a 103 PTO hp engine with a 22% torque rise and the 8630 model has a 120 PTO hp turbocharged engine with a 30% torque rise
- PTO power and versatility. The independent PTO operates at 540/1,000 rpm with 6- and 21-spline shafts and an electrohydraulically-actuated wet PTO clutch. The 3-point hitch comes standard with telescopic stabilizers· Category II/I on the 8610; Category III/II on the 8630. Optional telescopic lower links are available.
- Quality performance features. The 8600 Series tractors ride on premium Goodyear radial tires They have hydrostatic steering, a tilt-telescope steering wheel and hydraulically-actuated wet disc brakes on all four wheels for 40% better braking These models also have electrohydraulically-actuated rear and front differential locks that an operator can manually disengage for tighter turns.

To learn about all the quality features of the 8600 Series tractors, or any of the "orange" line of AGCO Allis tractors ranging from 40 to 128 PTO hp, stop by or call us soon.

Cool is more than just a state of mind...

...It means quality milk.

Being cool is more than just an attitude or a state of mind. It's a necessity, especially when it comes to quality milk. The Surge Plate Kooler redefines cool. By using well water alone or combined with ice water, the Plate Kooler provides instant milk cooling.

Features and Benefits:

- ❑ Quick cooling reduces the risk of bacteria growth, resulting in higher quality milk and higher profits
- ❑ Pre-cooled milk means the milk tanks use less horsepower to cool milk, reducing energy costs.

Adding a Kool Way Chiller to your pre- cooling system increases your benefits by:

- ❑ Using 20 to 30 percent less horsepower to lower milk temperature to as low as 36° F, further lowering energy costs.
- ❑ Virtually eliminating tank cooling by using chilled water, instantly lowering milk's temperature to storage temperat

See your local Surge dealer and learn more about the cooling benefits of the Surge

NORTH AMERICA'S #1 V-TANK SPREADER

The Gehl Scavenger® II is the "original" V-Tank spreader and still the best. It delivers outstanding performance in all types of manure, from liquid to semi-solid to pen-packed or even frozen manure

- Patented square-tube auger – Hydraulically powers up and down to break up solid material.
- Variflo discharge – Spreads smoothly and evenly for complete application control.
- Five models – From 192 to 596 bushel heaped capacities to match your operation.
- 10-Year warranty – Against rust-through on the tank for peace of mind.
- Options include – Truck-mounted units and hydraulic lids.

CUT HAY THE DISC WAY!

Gehl has two all-new disc mower conditioners to cut your crop down to size, fast and easy. The DC2340 has 7 discs and a 9 foot cutting width; the DC2360 has 8 discs and a 10-1/2 foot cutting width.

- High speed discs – Each disc has two knives to slice through the toughest crops and conditions; the disc gear drive operates in an oil bath for long life.
- Sturdy frame – Cradles the cutterbar for extra protection and durability.
- 540 or 1,000 rpm driveline with equal-angle hitch for smooth power transfer.
- Standard hydraulic tongue – Makes it easy to position the unit without leaving the tractor seat

PUBLIC AUCTION

SATURDAY, FEBRUARY 4, 1995
11:00 A.M. SHARP
—140 +/- ACRE FARM—

Selling Real Estate for the estate of the late Dora P. Fultz, RD 2 McClure (West Beaver Township) Snyder Co. Pa.

Directions; From Middleburg travel south west on Rt. 522 to McClure. At the original Italian Pizza Restaurant turn right and continue approx. 4 miles. After passing through Cross Grove Hall take 1st right and follow signs to Auction.

REAL ESTATE

140+/- acres with approximately 80 Acres tillable.

The farm is general in nature and is located on a lane just off a township road, which affords a sense of seclusion yet it is very accessible. The farm has a mix of woods, pasture, and tillable land with a bubbling stream flowing through its middle.

The buildings consist of a 2 story plank home with both wood and aluminum siding, a block building used as a butcher house with attached lean-to, a cattle shelter, an implement pole shed with attached lean-to, a bank barn with straw shed and a block addition used as a feed room and calf pen.

The property has three water sources: a drilled and hand dug well as well as a mountain stream.

The property is found in Snyder Co. deed book 75 P 553 and on tax map 20-13-15.

TERMS: 10% down balance in 45 days

Super All Traction 23°

R-1

- New top-of-line bias-ply tractor rear, featuring our long bar/long bar design for tread stability, and heavy bar bracing to extend tread life.
- Long wearing and smooth riding, due to the more uniform, flatter contour of the long bar/long bar design.
- Proven 23° bar angle for traction and open center for self-cleaning.
- Bead and rim protector shields the rim to help keep stubble and soil from getting between the bead and rim flange.

TURKEY PAN FEEDING SYSTEMS

SIMPLY THE LEADER

Cumberland continues being the leader in the manufacturing of poultry equipment by introducing a turkey feeding system for every application. Cumberland's Turkey Feeders have revolutionary features which make them both profitable and easy to maintain for the end customer. Cumberland Feeders deliver feed economically, efficiently, and dependably with savings for the grower. The Cumberland Turkey Pan Feeding System offers a poult turkey pan for young turkeys and two models of adult turkey pans, designed to withstand the rugged treatment of adult turkeys through grow out.

NEW PLASTIC PAN

Easier to clean non-corrosive lighter Cumberland's plastic pan for both STF and RTF Adult Pan Feeders features improved structural engineering with stronger support gussets, a more durable and effective "hanger" for cleaning and a unique set of two feed-saving "catch walls" that significantly reduce raking and billout

Hard Work, Calf Selection Create Supreme Heifer Champion

ANDY ANDREWS
Lancaster Farming Staff

HARRISBURG (Dauphin Co.) — Hard work and selecting calves that have the best chance of success in the show ring were the ingredients in providing a supreme champion heifer for Abe and Grace Flory, Mountain Valley Angus, Lititz, on Monday afternoon at the Farm Show beef competition.

Grace Flory said that the dam of this year's supreme champion heifer produced the grand champion bull in the Angus breed for the Flory's at last year's Farm Show. Flory said a "lot of hard work" and "watching the calves, weaning them, and halter-breaking" went into obtaining a championship, she said moments after holding the banner for supreme champion.

Judges Robert McGuire, Auburn, Ala., Simmental judge and A. L. Eller, Jr., Blacksburg, Va., Angus judge, chose the April junior yearling heifer, Mt. Valley Julie Heather (S: WK Future, D: Julies Jewel), as supreme heifer. When judging the Angus class, Eller picked the heifer because of its "excellent representation of the breed."

Grace Flory said that a 4-H'er, Freddy Weaver, helped them select the animal while a calf to show in championship events.

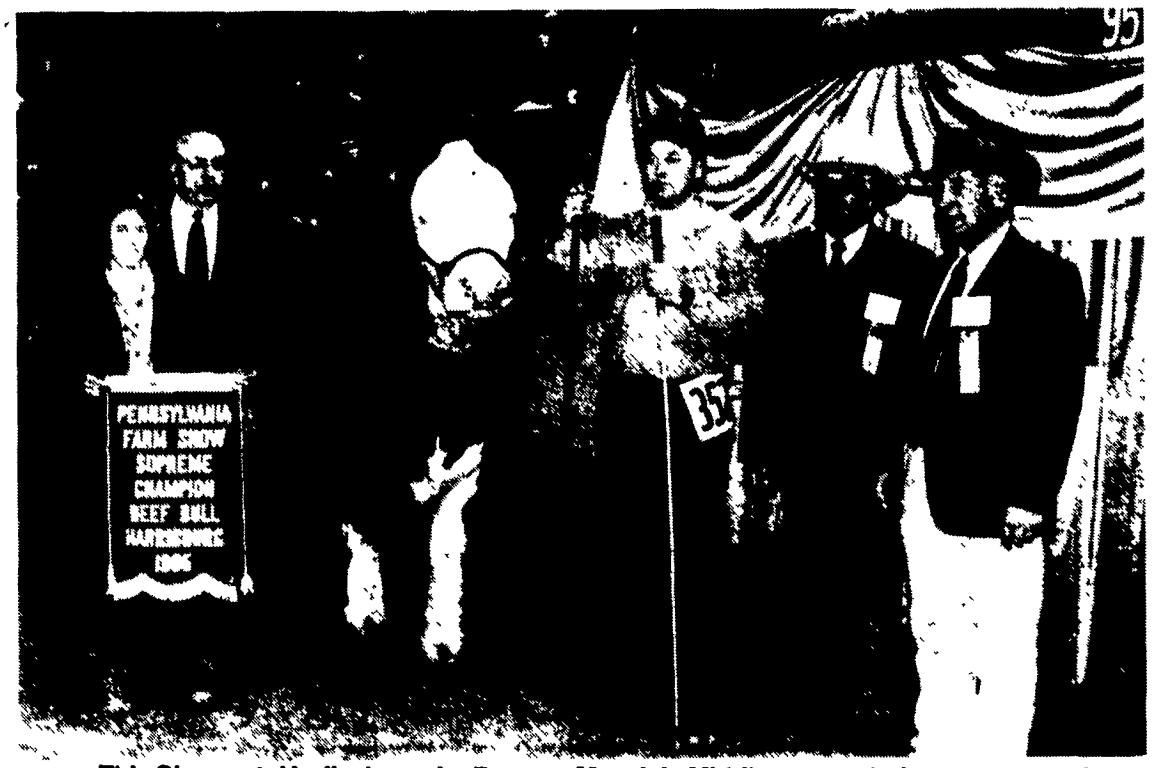
Following is a list of show placings.



This Simmental bull, shown by Dwayne Messick, Middletown, at halter, was named supreme champion bull on Monday at the Farm Show. # College Assists Jamaican Agriculturalists

DOYLESTOWN (Bucks Co.) — Delaware Valley College Professor of Agronomy and Environmental Science Dr. Stephen DeBroux will accompany student Dan McFarland '95 as he travels to Jamaica in January.

The expedition, sponsored by the Jack Purdy Memorial Scholarship Fund, is part of an ongoing international linkage program to upgrade the quality of agriculture in the island nation.

McFarland will examine the insect population of the country during his stay, in an attempt to classify their benefit or harm to Jamaican agriculture., Dr. DeBroux, who has a doctorate in plant breeding from Iowa State University, will establish a simple soils lab in an effort to increase crop production. He will also work with university faculty in order to improve agriculture education.

This expedition is part of an ongoing exchange sponsored by the Purdy Memorial Scholarship Fund. In May 1994 Byron Slough became the first member of the Purdy exchange program to graduate from Delaware Valley College after coming to America in his junior year. Two students from the island of Jamaica are enrolled at the college.

The Jack Purdy Memorial Scholarship fund was started by members of the Purdy family in order to remember Dr. Purdy, a professor of small animal science at Delaware Valley College from 1988 to 1990. For more information on the Jack Purdy Memorial Scholarship Fund, contact Dr. Gordon Eaton, associate professor of animal science, Delaware Valley College, (215) 345-1500, ext. 2305.

Master Farmers Honored At Luncheon

EVERETT NEWSWANGER
Managing Editor

HARRISBURG (Dauphin Co.) — Two farmers from Pennsylvania and two from Maryland were honored this week as Master Farmers during the annual luncheon held in conjunction with the Pennsylvania Farm Show. The Master Farmer Program is now in its 61st year and honors farmers from Pennsylvania, Delaware, Maryland, New Jersey and West Virginia for high achievement in farming and community service.

In Pennsylvania, Harold Crider, of Franklin County and John Henry Kocher, of Center County, received the honor.

In Maryland, Randy and Karen Sowers, Middletown, and Jesse Burall, Sr., Monrovia, are the winners.

Crider and his wife Leona and their sons Rodney and Roger, own and operate a 161-acre dairy farm near Chambersburg, with 70 milking cows and 65 heifers. They rent another 129 acres of farmland. As members of the Franklin County Dairy Nutrition Service, they regularly conduct forage testing and use total mix rations to feed their herd. As a result, their cows stay at peak performance for a longer time.

The Criders have producerd 214 calves using embryo transfer since 1981, marketing breeding bulls to local dairy farmers and either marketing heifers or using them to upgrade thier herd. They have sold milking cows to dairy operations as far away as California and Japan.

Harold Crider has been president of the Franklin County Holstein Association, the Franklin County DHIA, the Central District DHIA, and the Farmers' Co-Op Feed Mill. He has been a state director of the Pennsylvania DHIA and the Pennsylvania Holstein Association. He served as the county director of the Franklin County Agricultural Extension Association for 10 years.

He received the Charles E. Cowan Award in 1993 and the Dairy Promotion Committee sErvice Award for 20 years of service. He has been a premier breeder and exhibitor many times at the Frank-

A COST COMPARISON OF DEAD BIRD DISPOSAL SYSTEMS

Leon Ressler
Extension Agent
Agriculture/Environment

Dead bird disposal is both an environmental and management problem on all types of poultry farms.

A number of systems have developed for dealing with this issue. Around the country these systems include burial pits, incineration, and large bin composting.

Several new technologies are being evaluated as well. These new technologies include small bin composting, which utilizes the large bin concept except the bin size is smaller and savings in construction and equipment cost are traded off for a larger labor requirement.

Fermentation is another technology that is being evaluated seriously which involves grinding and fermenting the carcasses and the fermented product is sold to a rendering facility. Refrigeration storage until delivery to a rendering plant is another option being evaluated.

At the National Poultry Waste Management Symposium held recently in Athens, Ga., results of an economic evaluation of these systems done at Auburn University were presented. The study was done by Dr. J. R. Crews, Dr. J. P. Blake, and Dr. J. O. Donald.

For a flock size of 100,000 birds, the study results showed the incinerator had the lowest initial investment costs ($2,000). The disposal pit investment costs were $4,500 followed by the large-scale composter which had investment costs of $7,500. Variable costs were the highest for the incinerator, which had a high fuel cost.

The second highest variable costs were for the large-scale composting followed by disposal pit with the lowest variable cost. When total annual costs were compared, the incinerator was the highest with the large-scale composting a close second, and the disposal pit being the least costly.

If the value of the by-products is included in the study, the cost cost for the composting drops significantly to 4.88 cents per pound compared to 8.92 cents for incineration. The total cost for the disposal pit was 3.68.68 cents per pound.

For the new technologies, the small composter had the lowest cost of 3.5 cents per pound. For fermentation and refrigeration, the investment costs were fairly high. For fermentation, the net costs were 4.55 cents per pound and for refrigeration 11.41 cents per pound.

The study concludes that there is no single disposal method which is clearly the best. Therefore the decision as to which method to use should be decided after a study of the advantages and disadvantages of each system along with an evaluation of the specific needs of a particular operation.

Master Farmers

lin County Holstein Show.

Kocher and his wife Margaret own and operate a 690-acre dairy farm with 190 registered milking cows near State College. They have build a new milking parlor with a herringbone design and automation to make milking quicker and easier. They also use artifical breeding.

Kocher has adopted no-till farming to prevent erosion on his land. He works with the Pennsylvania Crop Improvement Association to keep permanent records on all of his fields and to apply pesticides and fertilizers efficiently.

With three children and eight grand children, the Kochers have been active in 4-H for many years. In addition, Kocher has been a director of the Pennsylvania Farm Bureau, the Pennsylvania DHIA, and the Centre County Agricultural Forum. He also has been legislative chair of the Ferguson Township Advisory Council.

Kocher was active on a committee to get agricultural zoning passed in Ferguson Township and has served on the Centre Region's water protection committee for the past two years. He has received the Productivity Award from the Kiwanis and is an honory member of the Future Farmers of America.

The Sowers own nearly 200 acres of cropland, woodland and pasture ground. They rent another 850 acres. Their 200-cow grade milking herd averages close to 19,000 pounds production. The 108,000-hen layer house continually rolls out eggs for a contractor.

Broken and cracked eggs, grain screenings and bad milk go to the 30 to 50 feeder pigs they finish each year. Dairy calves that don't make replacement animals are fed with a growing calf crop from a corss-bred Charolais-Hereford-Red Angus beef herd that is also expanding.

Extensive terracing and contour strips were installed on their home farm to reduce erosion and divert field runoff away from the livestock areas. Conservation practices, crop consulting advice and a nutrient management plan help explain the Sowers' high crop productivity.

Last year's corn crop averaged close to 200 bu. per acre; corn silage yields were nearly 30 ton with 28,000 plant populations; barley came out of the fields at close to 100 bu. per acre and soybeans ran about 45 bu. per acre.

Burall and his wife Catherine have lived on the same farm since they started farming on their own in 1948. In 1970 they bought the 177 acres from his father and in 1977 they bought an adjoining 123 acres. Today's farming operation includes another 715 acres of cropland. The family do most of the planting and all the hay harvesting. GRain harvest is custom-hired.

By concentrating equipment in dairying and forage making, machinery investments are kept to minimum and that in turn helps build farm cash flow and equity.

Over the years, their milking herd of grade Holsteins grew to 200 cows. The Buralls five children worked alongside their parents during those building year. Today, the Buralls have nine grandchildren and four great grandchildren.

The Master Farmer Program is sponsored by Pennsylvania Farmer Magazine and Cooperative Extension in the Mid-Atlantic states. The noon luncheon was held Wednesday at the Radisson Convention Center.

Gillespie Joins Keystone Farm Credit

LANCASTER, (Lancaster Co.) — Gregg A. Gillespie has been hired as branch manager of the Lancaster office of Keystone Farm Credit.

The announcement was made by Bruce W. Miller, vice president/credit operations. "We are glad to have someone with Gregg's background and experience joining our staff," said Miller.

A native of Tarentum in Butler County, Gillespie grew up on his family's farm and was graduated from Deer Lakes High School. He attended Penn State University, where he was graduated with a degree in ag economics.

Gillespie comes to Keystone Farm Credit from the Farm Credit Bank of Baltimore, where he held the position of assistant vice president/review manager in the credit

Using MEW, ProGenetics Improves Genetics

ELIZABETHTOWN (Lancaster Co.) — To experience better pig growth and feed efficiency, as well as to lower pig death rate, ProGenetics recently built a medicated early weaning (MEW) unit as part of a three-site production program to populate its new 1,200-head nucleus.

Closely following advanced research, which concludes that MEW programs provide better disease control, ProGenetics began utilizing this progressive approach in March 1994 to populate its new nucleus with disease-free purebred sows.

Weaning pigs from the current nucleus at seven days (instead of by 19 days as in most three-site operations), ProGenetics moves these genetically-lean, healthy pigs into the new MEW unit, isolating them from the sow herd.

Classifying MEW piggies as specific pathogen free (SPF), which pertains to the pigs' health, Dr. Peggy Hawkins, White Oak Mills staff veterinarian, explained the benefits of separating the pigs from the sows and then raising them isolated from other pigs.

"Separating the baby pigs early from the sows is vital to prevent them from contracting any disease the sows might have," said

Hawkins. "Week-old pigs are not very susceptible to catching a disease since they receive maternal antibodies from their mothers' milk."

In addition, the MEW unit is a closed herd, which means that anyone exposed to another pig source is prohibited from entering inside the MEW unit.

"It's a policy ProGenetics strictly enforces," said Cindy Frey, manager of ProGenetics' MEW unit. "I probably take six showers a day from showering in and out of the MEW unit."

Because the piggies coming out of the current nucleus are mange- and rhinitis-free and are moved through the MEW unit all in / all out by room, Frey comments that the spread of disease among these animals is unlikely.

Dr. Michael Miller, vice president of sales and marketing for White Oak Mills, refers to MEW as "an added insurance." He said, "ProGenetics takes every precaution to ensure that this herd is protected from disease."

Frey gives these piglets special care and attention, including feeding the younger ones a complete feed by hand and giving each MEW pig medication regularly.

Remaining at the unit until they are nine weeks old, the pigs are then moved to a finishing facility. As purebreds, they have the potential to become part of the new nucleus herd or a ProGenetics breeding stock animal.

While 130 out of 300 pigs per week are selected as the best pigs and therefore get moved into the MEW unit at seven days of age, a second selection at the McGee finishing barn utilizing ultrasound testing of carcass qualities ensures the company that only the best pigs are selected for ProGenetics' new nucleus. The remainder are sent to a packer or to a ProGenetics multiplier unit.

By populating the Pennsylvania-based MEW unit with commingled multisource pigs, the company has already seen the benefits of MEW.

Hawkins said, "The result is that MEW allows us to create an entirely new herd without transferring the environmental bacteria buildup, which possibly exists in the current nucleus, to the new nucleus."

Large Crowd Attends Open House

LEOLA (Lancaster Co.) — Participation was great as a large crowd of dairy farmers attended Fisher & Thompson's ninth annual open house held here recently.

Dairy farmers had the opportunity to stock up on milking supplies, health aids and equipment with special bargains being offered throughout the week.

On hand to answer questions were factory representatives from Westfalia, NuPulse, Diversey, Agri-Dynamics, Franklin Labs, 3-M, Agri-Concepts, Schluter, Merck and Pell Fencing.

Door prizes were given each day of the six-day event. The

Herbicide Receives Registration

ST. LOUIS (Mo), — Permit®, a new postemergence broadleaf herbicide from Monsanto, has been registered for full commercial use on corn and grain sorghum by the Environmental Protection Agency, (EPA) Monsanto has announced.

"This product will set a new standard in crop safety and efficacy," said Louis Meyer, new products director for Monsanto.

"Permit may be applied from spike through canopy closure to control big and small weeds with outstanding crop safety," Meyer said.

This wide application window allows farmers and custom applicators more time to apply Permit, giving them more flexibility during the busy spring season to apply a postemergence broadleaf herbicide. Unlike many postemergent herbicides, Permit has residual soil activity to provide season-long weed control, Meyer said.

Monsanto research and grower trials throughout the Corn Belt have proven that Permit provides consistent control of a broad spectrum of weeds that are taller and more mature than can be controlled by many other broadleaf herbicides in corn.

Agway Names Feed Director

SYRACUSE N.Y. — Donald F. Schalk has been named executive director, feed, at Agway. He is responsible for the farm supply cooperative's extensive feed manufacturing and marketing operations in the Northeastern United States.

A native of Syracuse, N.Y., Schalk was graduated from LeMoyne College and continued his studies in business administration at the graduate level at Syracuse University. He is a 1991 graduate of the Lead, New York program at Cornell University.

Schalk joined Agway in 1974 as a management trainee. He has extensive management experience in operations, marketing, and sales in Agway's agricultural, consumer, and energy businesses.

In July 1993, he was hired by Harris Moran Seed Company of Pleasanton, Calif. with sales and operational responsibilities for 33 states and Canada. He was project manager for two major initiatives, including redesign of customer service and distribution systems and refocusing the company's

Save Time, Increase Efficiency With Drill Fill

KALIDA, Ohio — Producers using the 20-foot J.D. 750 drill can increase their planting efficiency by adding the patent-pending Unverferth Drill Fill.

The ground-level vertical-lift auger transports seed to the 20 percent capacity-expanding horizontal cross auger which distributes seed evenly across the length of the drill. Both augers feature brush-tip fighting for gentle seed transport and can fill the drill in 10 minutes.

Auger controls are conveniently located and can be operated from the ground or drill platform and include automatic auger shut-off to prevent over-filling. Standard viewing windows allow for easily determining fill level.

Additional features include fully primed and painted surfaces, vertical auger transport lock for safer transport, and hydraulic hoses with end protectors to front of drill.

For more information, contact Unverferth Mfg. Co., Inc., P.O. Box 357, Kalida, OH 45853, 1-(800) 322-6301.

Agronomists, Sales Specialists Earn Certification

SYRACUSE, N.Y. — Six Agway agronomists and crop sales specialists were recently named certified crop advisers by the American Registry of Certified Professionals in Agronomy, Crops and Soils (ARCPACS).

They include Roy Aber, Agway agronomist; John Ellenberger, Jr., Agway agronomist; Matt Grajewski, crop sales specialist, Reading Bone; Edward Hippely, Agway crop sales specialist; Bruce Smith, Agway crop sales specialist; and Duane Gearhart, Agway regional agronomist.

Employed by Agway for 33 years, Roy Aber's responsibilities include providing farmers with technical advise on crop production and management issues. Aber was graduated from the State University of New York at Delhi in 1955 with an associate of agriculture science degree. He is a member of the Pennsylvania Agronomic Products Association (PAPA).

Employed by Agway for 11 years, John Ellenberger's responsibilities include helping customers with crop programs and providing training and assistance to crop sales specialists.

Now in his fourth year with Agway, Matt Grajewski is responsible for developing crop and nutrient management programs for farmers, including seed, fertilizer, lime, and application sales. He is a member of the Conrad Weiser Agricultural Advisory Board and a 1983 graduate of Delaware Valley College with a bachelor's degree in agronomy.

Employed by Agway for 20 years, Edward Hippely is responsible for developing crop programs for farmers. He was graduated from Ohio State University in 1973 with a bachelor's degree in agriculture.

Newly employed by Agway, Bruce Smith is responsible for soil testing, crop scouting, and crop sales. Smith was graduated from Penn State in 1987 with a bachelor's degree in agronomy. He is an associate professional agronomist with the American Society of Agronomy and a member of Gamma Sigma Delta, an agricultural honor society.

Employed by Agway for a year, Duane Gearhart's responsibilities include farmer education, agronomic training, sales training, and sales in the Mifflin/Belleville region. He was graduated from Penn State in 1979 with a bachelor's degree in agronomy. He serves as a board member of the Mifflin County Farm Bureau.

The certification exam consists of a three-hour national test followed by a three-hour Pennsylvania test. The exam measures overall and region-specific knowledge of soils and soil fertility, soil and water management, plant growth and development, and pest management. Those who pass the exam also sign a code of ethics.

Air Seeder In Two Sizes

WAHPETON, N.D. — Wil-Rich Manufacturing announces the new Air Master air seeder.

The Wil-Rich Air Master comes in two sizes — the Q110 Air Master, which has a bushel capacity of 110 bushels of grain or the Q160 Air Master, which has a bushel capacity of 160 bushels. Both units have two tanks and are mounted on a cart assembly which straddles and is adaptable to the hitch of the Quad-5 Field Cultivator.

Each tank can have a seed and fertilizer split of 60/40. The tanks are epoxy coated on the interior and the exterior. There are up to 80 outlets per unit. Each outlet has a metering wheel that meters each opener individually. Standard with each unit is a 6-inch pedestal mounted fill/unload auger. The auger will be available with either steel flighting or a brush flighting for easy handling of fragile seed.

The cart assembly is made of heavy duty tubular steel. There are two large 21.5 x 16.1 tires mounted on 16-inch rims. The cart attaches to the main implement hitch. The cart has an easy disconnect and cart removal for better utilization of the tillage tool for other field operations.

Will-Rich Air Master air seeder comes in two sizes — the Q110 Air Master, which has a bushel capacity of 110 bushels of grain, or the Q160 Air Master, which has a bushel capacity of 160 bushels.

Optional rear attachments available will be a packer which will come with your choice of steel or rubber wheel and an optional one or two bar harrow. The Wil-Rich three or four bar harrow is available for those that don't require a packer system.

The Q110 and Q160 Air Master will be adaptable to the Quad-5 F[illegible]tivator in sizes from 27 to 46 feet.

Corn Silage Inoculant Shows Economic Advantage

DES MOINES, Iowa — Developed specifically for whole plant corn silage, new Pioneer(R) brand 1132 corn silage inoculant offers the same benefits expected with 1174/1177, plus a significant improvement in animal performance.

"The bottom line to beef and dairy producers is more meat or milk production per ton of silage fed," said Dr. Steve Soderlund, animal nutritionist for the Microbial Genetics Division of Pioneer Hi-Bred International, Inc. "We've found that beef producers can expect as much as 18 more pounds of beef gain per ton of silage fed, and dairy producers can expect as much as 180 more pounds of milk per ton of silage fed."

A dairy trail, conducted at Washington State University (WSU), Puyallup, was designed to examine what change in milk production could be expected from different inoculant treatments on corn silage.

"The corn silage inoculated with 1132 showed nearly a four-pound-per-day increase in milk production per ton of corn silage fed," said Dr. Joe Harrison, WSU associate professor and dairy scientist. "This is a significant increase."

Stars, Keystone Degree Candidates At Crux Of Annual FFA Convention

ANDY ANDREWS
Lancaster Farming Staff

HARRISBURG (Dauphin Co.) — One-hundred ninety-seven FFA Keystone Award candidates joined their families and friends at the 66th Annual Midwinter Pennsylvania FFA Convention in the Large Arena at the Farm Show Complex on Monday.

The FFA'ers were present to receive their Keystone Degree and several other awards, including the Building Our American Community (BOAC), national chapter, chapter safety, agriscience, and special parent awards during Farm Show.

In addition, the annual presentation of the State Star Awards took place during ceremonies.

A welcome was provided by Boyd Wolff, state secretary of agriculture. Wolff told the FFA leaders and members that the state's agriculture industry is good news because it keeps "pulling our economy along when things get tough" and that FFA is important to continue agriculture's vital role in the state's overall economy.

Wolff said he first visited the Farm Show when he was eight years old, and although he arrived at the Farm Show when he was young by train and bus, many things about the Farm Show have not changed.

Christian Leinbach, aide to U.S. Senator Rick Santorum, told the FFA'ers that Santorum is the first senator from Pennsylvania since the turn of the century to serve on the U.S. Senate Agriculture Committee. He told the FFA'ers that Santorum is available to speak to them whenever they want. "You are the future of the state, not just agriculture," said Leinbach.

The officer theme for 1994-1995 is "FFA: Working Together To Achieve Success." Jenny Zerby, state FFA president, welcomed the FFA members and guests. The highlight of the convention, according to Marci Harnish, state vice president, is the bestowing of the Keystone degree, the highest degree an FFA member can receive in the state.

Agriscience Award winners from 1994 are Elizabeth Hollenbach, West Snyder FFA; Scott Stone, Williamsburg FFA; and Curtis Turner, Central Columbia FFA. Agriscience Teacher of the Year honors went to Mark McCullough, Gifford Pinchot FFA.

National gold ranking recipient for the BOAC Award is the Spud Grower's FFA Chapter. Their BOAC project consisted of assisting various local and area agencies in sponsoring a drinking and driving assembly for the student body. A water quality project was also conducted, where the students monitored wells and streams during the year. The FFA members worked with local agencies to reclaim a former landfill. Members assisted school and community groups in planting flowers for community beautification.

The Blue and Gold Award, given to the individual each year who has donated years of service to helping the Pennsylvania FFA, went to Dr. T. Dean Witmer, Sullivan County FFA adviser.

At the convention, the regional stars were honored. They must be Keystone degree applicants, and are screened at the county level for strengths in their particular areas. Area stars are then interviewed for the regional star in a particular field. Thirteen candidates were selected and sent through a series of interviews. From these candidates, one person has been selected to be the state star in a respective area. After all four of the state stars have been chosen, two will be representing the state in the Eastern States Exposition held in Springfield, Mass. next September.

The 1995 regional stars and outstanding Keystone degree recipients in ag sales/service/mechanics, production, horticulture, and specialized agriculture are:

• Ag sales/service/mechanics — Lloyd Glenn Bier. Lloyd, 18, is a member of the Big Spring FFA in Cumberland County and the son of Lloyd and Esther Bier, Carlisle. Lloyd's projects included sheep finishing, work experience as a nursery supervisor, sheep shearer, and dairy laborer. Lloyd has worked for Landscapes by Lamberts for two years. Lloyd plans to attend Harrisburg Community College, then transfer to Delaware Valley College to major in agribusiness.

• Specialized agriculture — Southcentral star in specialized ag is Robert Patrick Glennon. Robert, senior from the Shippensburg FFA, is the son of Robert and Marylou Glennon, Newburg. His supervised ag experience (SAE) project is wildlife. Robert has had a wildlife project for the past three years, where he has been adding and improving the habitat on his family's farm. Robert attains his conservation plants and resources from the Soil Conservation Service Plant Materials Program. It is his goal to provide a sufficient and attractive habitat to any species of animal that may cross his project site. In the future, Robert plans to study fisheries biology.

• Production — Jeremy Burnham, son of John and Ruth Burnham, and western regional star. Jeremy's projects have included beef production, swine finishing, and hay and grain production. Jeremy has work experience on a farm, and lives on his family's 490-acre dairy, beef, and crop farm. He plans to pursue a career in forestry.

• Horticulture — Eastern region star Andrew Boyer. Andrew, 18, a senior at Conrad Weiser, is the son of Gregory and Jean Boyer of Robesonia. His projects include wreath sales, aftermarket flower sales, and work experience. During the summer of 1994, Andrew held a part-time job at Green Valley Nursery, where his responsibilities were to help customers with identification of shrubs and loading cars with mulch, sand, stone, and peat moss. He also worked full-time for Lester Breninnger, doing yard and landscape work. His last working experience was at Hummel's Florist, where he worked on propagating flowers. After creating his own wreath-making business, Andrew will be selling Christmas trees and wreaths during the holiday season. His future plans are to major in wildlife fisheries. Andrew's goal is to work for the National Park Service or the Pennsylvania Game Commission.

Jeremy Burnham and Lloyd Bier will be representing Pennsylvania at the Eastern States Exposition in Massachusetts in September.

PLAN NOW FOR 1995!

"This is the kind of silo you need to protect your valuable feed."

When Planning Your Forage Programs, Remember That Your Main Objective Is To Store The Plant And Remove It From Storage In As Good Condition As Possible. The Upright Silo Has Never Been Equalled In Its Ability To Do This...

On Most Dairy Farms, Forage Quality Is The Single Most Improtant Factor Relating To Profit...

Poured Concrete Silos Consistently Out-Perform All Other Methods Of Storing And Preserving The Total Digestible Nutrients In Forage Crops...

"Nobody Protects Forage Quality Like We Do..Nobody!"

TIRED OF LEAKING ROOFING? USE

Channeldrain
ROOFING & SIDING

Exclusive drain channel guards against wind, rain and snow...assures dryness.

1. Wide overlap: Increases strength and leak protection at each joint.
2. Wide nailing surface: Makes nailing easier and faster.
3. Drain channel: the exclusive leak-proof system that prevents capillary action; stays weather tight. This Wheeling feature has insured "dry barns" for thousands of farmers over the past 50 years.

New in 1994
You may pay less for some dairy farm equipment... but it can cost you more!
Equipment cost is not the only cost of cooling milk
In the long run, total operating costs of a Mueller milk-cooling system are generally substantially less than those of "bargain-brand" milk-cooling equipment.

| Example | Mueller | Competition |
|---|---|---|
| Cost of equipment | $41,000 | $28,000 |
| Cost of electricity @ .08 kW for 12,000 lbs milk/day for 10 years | $17,550 | $22,850 |
| Total operating cost for ten years | $58,550 | $50,850 |
| Savings | $ 7,700 | |

Anything Less Isn't Good Enough

If livestock is your business, Eby Gooseneck Trailers include these features to protect the livestock you transport:

- Durable all-aluminum construction with less weight for more payload
- Axles, wheels, tires and brakes that are designed to carry the weight the trailer will hold
- Gates and doors designed for easy loading/unloading
- Proven post and slat design to control airflow and easily close up for winter conditions
- Aerodynamic design to improve fuel economy

Eby Gooseneck Trailers are available in lengths from 12 to 32 feet with a choice of widths and inside heights. We offer every custom option, including stainless steel front end for great looks.

Whatever kind of livestock you transport, you can rely on EBY products to do the job right.

Eby custom-builds bodies and trailers for all types of livestock, grain and farm commodities.

Sheep Breeds Compete At Farm Show

EVERETT NEWSWANGER
Managing Editor

HARRISBURG (Dauphin Co.) — The lengthy sheep show for the meat breeds began Sunday morning, lasted all day into the evening and continued Monday morning with the climax of naming the supreme champion from all breeds. Judge Mark Johnson from Maryland had many deep classes. And when the final championship drive was held in the small arena, any one of the breed champions had merit to be named to the top spot of the show.

Finally, when it came to pick from the top Ram, the Dorset shown by Mike and Wendy VanWagner, and the top ewe, the Cheviot shown by Marlyn and Alice Stroh for the supreme champion, Judge Johnson said both were worthy of the banner. But since he had to pick only one, The ewe became the supreme champion of the meat breeds.

The champion comes from Erdenheim Farm, Lafayette Hill in Montgomery County. The reserve champion Cheviot ewe was shown by Michelle Snyder, Parker in Clarion County.

Both the champion and reserve champion Cheviot ram was also shown by Erdemheim Farm.

The VanWagner's own VanBair Farm located in Dauphin, Dauphin County. Jaime Faught, Carlisle in Cumberland County had the reserve champion Dorset ram.

Lee and Louise Wagner, Easton, Northampton County had the champion Dorset ewe, and Haven Point Dorsets, New Castle, in Lawrence County had the reserve champion Dorset ewe.

In the Hampshire breed, Wey Farms, Kutztown, Berks County the the champion ram and Matt Trostle, Red Lion, York County had the reserve champion ram.

Lewis Hampshires, Mt. Joy, in Lancaster County had the champion Hampshire ewe. Tim and Sarah Fleener, Robesonia Lebanon County had the reserve champion ewe.

Breezewiew Farm, Atglen, Chester County, had the champion Suffolk ram and Lyn Lee Farms, State College, Centre County had the reserve champion ram.

In the Suffik ewe classes, the winners were reversed with Lyn Lee Farms having the champion ewe and Breezeview Farm the reserve champion ewe.

In the Southdown breed, Darla Phillips-Rapasky Shee, from Amity in Washington County had the champion ram. Steve Kwisnek, Clarksburg, Indiana County had the reserve champion ram.

In the Southdown ewe classes, Jennifer Flinchbaugh, York, York County had the champion and Steve Kwisnke had the reserve champion ewe.

And in the Oxford show, Amy Sue Eshelman, Sinking Spring, Berks County had the champion ram, and the champion and reserve champion ewe. The reserve champion ram honors went to Scott and William Myers, Bedford in Bedford County.

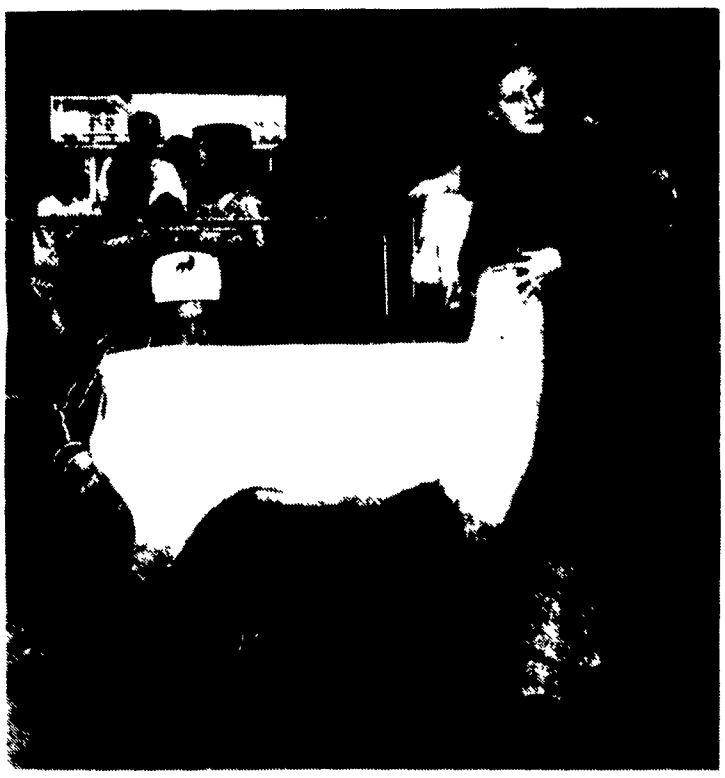
In the Shropshire show, Wey Shropshires, Kutztown, in Berks County had both the champion and the reserve champion rams. In the ewe classes, Jessica Jo McCrumb, Mars, in Butler County had the champion and David Harpster, Boalsburg, in Center County had the reserve champion ewe.

The top placings in the meet breeds shows are as follows.

The champion Hampshire ewe was shown by Lewis Hampshires, Mt. Joy, Lancaster County.



The champion Suffolk ewe was shown by Lyn Lee Farms, State College, Centre County.

The champion Oxford ewe was also shown by Amy Sue Eshelman.

Agribusinesses Honored At Farm Show

HARRISBURG (Dauphin Co.) — State Agriculture Secretary Boyd E. Wolff has announced the names of firms winning the 1995 Agribusiness Achievement Awards. The awards were presented at the Farm Show Dinner held on January 7 in Harrisburg.

"These awards recognize companies that contribute to the industry that employs so many Pennsylvanians and produces the highest quality food throughout the Commonwealth," Wolff said.

The awards were made in two categories. The small company category included companies with gross annual sales under $5,000,000. The large company category included companies with gross annual sales over $5,000,000.

The winner of the 1995 Agribusiness Achievement Award in the small company category is Heritage Wine Cellars, Inc. of North East, Erie County. Heritage Wine Cellars was founded in 1978, but the family traditions of wine making and agriculture go back to 1833. Heritage has received awards both nationally and internationally for its high quality native American wines. The company has experienced a 130 percent growth rate during each of the past two years.

The selection of an award winner in the large company category ended in a tie vote between Oglevee Ltd., Inc., of Connellsville, Fayette County, and Farmers Pride, Inc., of Fredericksburg, Lebanon County.

Oglevee Ltd. was founded in the 1880s in Connellsville as a nursery operation. Over the years it diversified into retail vegetable and greenhouse flower production. The company has grown to become the largest producer of cutting geraniums in North America. Oglevee Ltd. currently offers commercial growers the widest variety of colors and types of zonal, ivy and regal geranium cuttings available.

Farmers Pride, Inc. produces premium quality, fresh, all natural chicken and chicken parts for over 100 wholesale and retail distribution channels located in the eastern half of the United States. The company is dedicated to the production of premium poultry products and excellent customer value. Farmers Pride chicken is free of preservatives, artificial coloring, growth hormones, and animal by-products.

Members Appointed To Board

ANNAPOLIS, Md. — Maryland Governor William Donald Schaefer has announced the appointment of three new members to the Maryland Agricultural Land Preservation Foundation's board of trustees. Each new member will serve for four years.

Mildred A. Darcey is managing the operation of her 400-acre family farm in Upper Marlboro with the assistance of her children. In past years, she served as secretary to the vice president of the Second National Bank of Washington. In 1991, she was inducted into the Governor's Agriculture Hall of Fame. Darcey will be replacing William F. Dixon, who has served for five years as a member-at-large, farmer representative.

Robert W. Miller is a Cecil County dairy farmer, milking 80+ Holstein cows and tilling 400 acres. He is a Cecil County Farm Bureau director and a University of Delaware animal science graduate. Miller will be replacing Lloyd C. Jones, who has served for five years as a member-at-large.

Maurice L. Wiles was a dairy farmer for 17 1/2 years. He is employed by Southern States Co-op in Mt. Airy. He also serves as master of the Maryland State Grange and is a member of Linganore Grange. Wiles will be replacing Donald Stirn, who has served for five years as member-at-large, State Grange, and farmer representative.

10% Discount On Rack Wagons Ordered By January 31, 1995

Description & Material Used:

- Two 4x8 fir stringers
- 3x4x8' oak cross members bolted to the fir stringers
- 18 ft. wagons have 9 cross members and 20 ft. wagons have 10 cross members
- Oak flooring nailed to the cross members with screw nails
- Racks are made out of 2" square tubing - 14' gauge - 1" square tubing between the uprights
- Swinging door at the back of the wagon; has quick release and swings 270 degrees one way
- Two 4' side openings with quick chain release
- Racks can be easily dismounted
- Painted John Deere Green or New Holland Red

FEEDER WAGONS

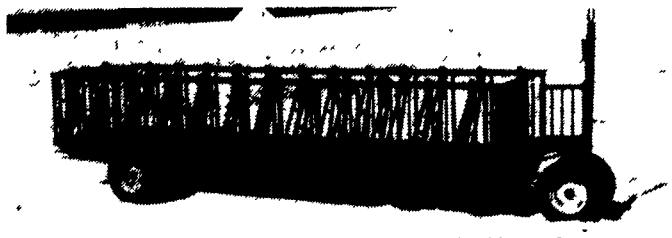
16', 21' and 27' lengths

Available with slant bars or self-locking head gates.



A great feature for feeding cattle in meadows or in feed lots. These wagons can be used to feed round hay bales, square bales or silage out of Ag bags or silos, etc.

The added feature of having the head locks make it nice for quick vet checks, etc.

16' has 20 head locks
21' has 26 head locks
27' has 32 head locks

- Feeder bottoms are sand blasted to remove rust & lead

For The Way You Farm Today

Fingertip Powershift Control, Improved Field Visibility and The Most Comfortable Cab Ever

AGCO ALLIS
For the way you farm today

Model 9650
147 PTO HP (109.7 kW)
In Stock Ready For Delivery

With their new 18x9 speed full powershift transmissions that electronically control the engagement of massive gears with just the tap of a hand... their cab-forward design that permits a clear, unobstructed view of the field in all directions... and their roomy, comfortable cabs, that feature a unique swivel, air-ride seat and an exclusive seat-mounted control console, the new 9600 Series tractors are clearly ahead of the time.

Every component — from the sleek, sloping hood, to the rugged, cast-iron mainframe to the world-proven air-cooled diesel engines, that require less maintenance — has been designed to match the way you farm today. The result is greater comfort, better performance and improved productivity.

Compare the features and specifications for yourself. Better yet, stop by BHM Farm Equipment soon and try out the 9650 model for yourself. You have to drive it to believe it.

STRAIGHT TALK ABOUT FASTER BALING

Uniquely Designed Case International Balers Put Crop Quality Into Every Bale

This Baler Can Save Thousands Of Dollars With Increased Milk Production In Greatly Reduced Heat Loss Obtained With Our Direct Feed Crop Flow System (Unbiased Testing Has Proven The Facts)

Your Best Buy In Balers ... From Binkley & Hurst Bros., Inc.

The Baler That Works!

WHY STRAIGHT IS BETTER THAN SIDEWAYS . . .

Reason #1 Transport width ranges from 7'11" to only 8'88" on our 8550 Model Conventional balers are generally 1-foot wider in transport

Reason #2 No need to widen our baler out once you're in the field or narrowing when leaving the field The conventional baler must be narrowed and widened Reduced time and effort means money

Reason #3 Never a need to pick up bales when opening a field and cropping them on the grouhd — you can even leave the bale thrower on and drop the back chute Since the baler and tractor straddles the windrow, the bales dropped on the ground from previous rounds never interferes with the operation

Reason #4 Gauge wheels are mounted on both sides for better performance Not so with conventional balers

Reason #5 Our pickup is half the height of conventional belers This means less leaves are lost because less travel distance up and over the pickup is required An optional hydraulic pickup lift is even available

Reason #6 Conventional balers use high maintenance cross feeders or sweep arms to move hay to the chamber Our baler feeds hay from the pickup straight into the chamber by the use of a simple stuffer mechanism Leaves don't fall to the bottom of the chamber and later fall out the back Due to our design, leaves are placed evenly throughout the bale — the leaves are not given time to settle to the bottom

Reason #7 Due to our design, our plunger stroke distance is 25-30% less than conventional balers Example John Deere 327, 337, 347 and 467 Models = 30' stroke, Case IH 8520 = 21 6' stroke and a high of 23" on our 8550 The result Less wear, less side to side stress force and less repairs!

Reason #8 The clearance of our needles from the ground far exceeds conventional balers due to the high position of our chamber This translates to less breakage and bending of the needles due to hitting high places in the field, etc

Reason #9 We have equal baler weight distribution on both carrying wheels for easier handling and less side pull on hills

Reason #10 The distance from the end of our bale chamber to the thrower belts is enough so that the thrower doesn t fight the bale, i e , the bale is not still wedged in the chamber when the thrower first contacts the bale

Reason #11 Our bale edges are sharp and corners are square on all types of hay - excellent when stackers are used or hay is hauled by truck.

Reason #12 Proven and reliable Deering type knotters on all center line balers

Quality Gehl In Stock At Binkley & Hurst Bros!
"Let's Get Together Now"

Box Spreaders

Binkley & Hurst Bros. Has A Quality Gehl Spreader In Stock And Ready For Use Now At Economical Pricing!

Low profile design means easy loading by skid loader, front end loader or barn cleaner

Durable Galvanized steel sides are corrosion resistant for long life One-piece seamless construction won t catch material or leak

Splashguards and side rails increase the heaped bushel rating by 14% while protecting spreader sides and keeping sloppy loads off the roads

Heavy-duty gear boxes; one a 90 degree beater drive, the other a two-speed worm box with bronze gear and steel worm, provide efficient power transmission, smoother operation and long life They're protected by a polyethylene shield that won't rust or dent

Hydraulic apron drive option provides infinite unloading speeds to match any load, ground speed or application rate requirements It s available on the four largest models Conveyor slats are made from 1/4" high-strength rail-steel

Full length, sturdy A-frame hitch (7-guage steel on MS135/175/250 and 3/16" steel on MS325/425) ties directly to the axle for extra strength and durability Because the load is carried and not pulled, the weight of the load and its associated stress is more evenly distributed across a broader base

Constant velocity pto for continuous, smooth, chatter-free power transfer when spreading on turns and reduced stress on the entire drive line

Conveniently located swing-away jack is mounted inside the A-frame for protection from tractor tires during tight turns

Most Mix-All owners will never buy another.

In fact, you'd probably have a hard time convincing Gehl Mix-All owners to even look at anything else. And why should they?

The Mix-All's big 21-inch wide hammermill features 66 reversible thin hammers that cut, rather than pound the feed to deliver a more consistent grind and ensure uniform mixing for a better feed conversion rate.

Gehl's self-contained hydraulic system is designed-in, not added on. It provides the precision of infinitely variable in-feed attachment control to match tractor power for greater grinding capacity. Plus you get fast, smooth, trouble-free unloading with greater reliability.

And a wide variety of options and attachments lets you customize your Mix-All to fit any operation.

WE REPAIR AUGERS

Get Your Table Auger Repaired For Your Combine Replace Complete Section. Same As New. All Makes And Models. Why Buy New, Get Your Auger Repaired SAVE!!!

Every grain opened up

The high quality of corn forage produced by the JAGUAR is derived from the CLAAS corn cracker. Two saw toothed rollers run at different speeds with 20% difference open up virtually every kernel and this means good quality silage which is easily digested. This makes for highest energy transfer for higher milk and meat yields.

The rollers are subject to wear and tear, so the CLAAS corn cracker features removeable outer sleeves. The shafts, drive pulley and bearings are all reused, thus reducing maintenance costs. Foreign bodies pass through thanks to a spring loaded mechanism.

CLAAS

Leveling your hills.

The optional Hillside Cleaning System automatically swings the top sieve sideways, against the slope of the hill. This keeps grain spread out evenly for cleaner grain samples.

You get full performance on slopes up to 20%, without the big expense of a hillside combine.

IMPROVE FEED GAIN

A New Holland grinder-mixer works hard every day optimizing feed gains. It delivers a more consistent grind and uniform particle size. The rugged 21-inch hammermill has thicker hammers and more chopping surface for improved feeding efficiency.

Choose an electronic scale and additional options to "customize" it for your operation. Stop in today.

185

NO SPREADER BUILT BETTER

The New Holland Model 185 is built to last.

- Strong, corrosion-resistant steel sides.
- High-density polyethylene (HDPE) floor.
- Lifetime Bonded Protection warranty.

This 287-bushel spreader features oscillating tandem wheels that allow faster ground speeds with less ground compaction. Get fast, smooth unloading at two spreading rates with the standard worm gear drive.

Stop in and see why this is the best-selling spreader in its class.

'DO YOUR HIGH-ENERGY PRODUCTS FIT WITH ALFALFA SILAGE?"

A combination of nitrogen and protein sources are featured in high-energy Purina® Dairy products (Maxi-Tech® Super-EXT® and Ultimate EXT®). Result of studies at Purina Mills' Dairy Research Unit indicate that rumen microbial activity is increased and digestibility of ration fiber components are improved when urea is added as a nitrogen source to fat-containing rations.

"...Can We Still Feed Ultimate EXT?"

Customers frequently ask, "Can we still use the protein and nitrogen sources in Ultimate EXT to obtain high production? We're feeding high-quality alfalfa silage". These managers have heard suggestions that "too much soluble protein" will result in rations of this type. Furthermore, some have been counseled that all rations which use high-quality alfalfa silage must have exotic protein sources added to the ration. Protein sources usually recommended with these opinions are blood meal, fish meal, and other animal by-products. Reasons for including these protein sources include: "too much soluble protein"; "not enough bypass protein"; or "blood urea nitrogen levels will be too high". Seldom mentioned are the added expense of some of the protein sources or a potential lack of palatability associated with these protein sources. Even with total mixed rations, palatability can be a problem when large amounts of some animal by-product protein sources are fed.

Research With Alfalfa Silage

Researchers at the University of Wisconsin supplemented an alfalfa silage ration with grain and various protein supplements to investigate production responses. Details of the ration were:

° Ration Was: 60% Alfalfa Silage; 40% Grain (Dry Matter [DM] Basis)
° Alfalfa Silage Was:

|---|---|
| Dry Matter | 45.9% DM Basis |
| Crude Protein (CP) | 20.2% DM Basis |
| Acid Detergent Fiber | 36.7% DM Basis |
| Neutral Detergent Fiber | 43.5% DM Basis |
| Undegradable Intake Protein | 22.4% Of Total CP |

° Production Trial During Weeks 4-17 Of Lacation ° Rations were:
- Ration 1: Supplemental Protein Sources - Soybean Meal and Urea (Urea = 0.68% Ration DM).
- Ration 2: Supplemental Protein Sources - Soybean Meal and Urea (Urea = 0.02% Ration DM).
- Ration 3: Supplemental Protein Sources - Animal By-Products and Urea (Urea = 0.79%; Animal By-Products = 2.72% Ration DM).
- Ration 4: Supplemental Protein Sources - Animal By-Products, Soybean Meal, and Urea (Urea = 0.10%; Animal By-Products = 3.15% Ration DM).
- Ration 5: Supplemental Protein Sources - Animal By-Products and Urea (Urea = 0.40%; Animal By-Products = 4.86% Ration DM).
- Ration 6: Supplemental Protein Sources - Animal By-Products, Soybean Meal, and Urea (Urea = 0.03%; Animal By-Products = 7.02% Ration DM).

Key observations from this research are:

° Urea Intake Ranged Higher Than Typical Purina Program:
- Minimum: 0.01 (Ration 2) and 0.02 (Ration 6) Lbs./Day.
- Maximum: 0.39 (Ration 1) and 0.44 (Ration 3) Lbs./Day.

° Protein Source and Protein Degradability Had No Influence On Fat-Corrected Milk Production (See Figure) or Milk Components.
° Concentration of Plasma Urea Nitrogen Was Not Influenced By Protein Degradability or Protein Source.
° Addition of Animal By-Products To Ration In Amounts Ranging From 1.5 - 3.8 Lbs. DM / Day Decreased Total Dry Matter Intake By Up To 5.1 Lbs. (See Figure).

Herd performance is often enhanced when Purina nutrient-dense supplements and superior forages, such as high-quality alfalfa silage, are combined in the feeding program. The sources of protein and nitrogen in Purina high-energy products can provide opportunities for additional production and profit, even if alfalfa silage is a staple forage source in your feeding program.
